J. P. MORGAN DENIES CHARGE OF COMMISSION

Mellen Calls Report "All Politics"
—Counsel for Former President of New Haven Issues Statement Defending Client's Actions

NEW YORK, July 14.—While J. P. Morgan & Co. refused to discuss the report of the inter-state commerce commission so severely censuring the directors under the administration of Charles S. Mellen for "reckless and profligate" financial operations estimated to have cost stockholders $90,000,000, J. P. Morgan denies the charge that the commission's examiners were not accorded full access to the firm's books bearing on the New Haven.

Correspondence made public at Washington told of Commissioner McChord's directing the chief examiner to cease the work as it was "useless."

Late last night Mr. Morgan issued this brief statement in reply:

"The information with regard to the withdrawal of the inter-state commerce commission's examiners from the examination of the books of our firm is the first intimation that I have had that they have been recalled."

The New Haven situation is now out of the hands of the inter-state commerce commission and what action, if any, is taken on the recommendations that the directors be prosecuted lies with the department of justice and district attorneys in the states in which the system has lines. Prosecuting attorneys at New York, Boston, Hartford, New Haven, New London and other points have not yet received copies of the evidence. Dis-

DICTATOR'S RESIGNATION MOMENTARILY EXPECTED

Official Diplomatic Despatches From Mexico City State That Huerta Will Soon Turn Over His Administration to His New Foreign Minister, Francisco Carbajal

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Huerta's resignation momentarily was expected in Mexico City today. Official diplomatic despatches from the federal capital stated the dictator probably would quit his post and turn over his administration to his new foreign minister, Francisco Carbajal, either today or Wednesday.

Evidence that Huerta was preparing an avenue of exit after his abdication was seen in the work of restoring through rail communication between Mexico City and Vera Cruz. The chief engineer of the Mexican railway was sent from the capital personally to supervise the repairing of the gap in the line near the coast. Huerta, it was believed, might use that route of departure. The railway was torn up after the American occupation of Vera Cruz.

Orbits Imminent
With a crisis imminent, administration officials and envoys of the South American republics were waiting in their efforts today to bring about a transition of power in Mexico City without further sacrifice of life. Carranza, constitutional chief, in notifying the United States that he would not sanction any conference with representatives of Huerta to draft peace terms declared that unconditional surrender of the authorities in Mexico was the only thing he would accept. He said he could give ample assurances for the guarantee of life and property.

While Washington officials have indicated they would take no step to interfere with the resolution the constitutionalists have been notified that recognition would not be extended to them if excesses marked their entrance into Mexico City.

One plan suggested for transfer of power to the constitutionalists was the resignation of Huerta or the administration that succeeded him leaving police power over the capital in the hands of local minor authorities. Members of the revolutionary junta in Washington who made the suggestion said that if that course were pursued Carranza could then enter the capital and assume control, avoiding any recognition of Huerta that might be implied by acceptance of executive power directly from him or a minister succeeding him.

COAL DEALERS OBSTINATE FALL OF BASTILLE

Refused to Grant Any Concession to Teamsters—Must Return Tomorrow or be Discharged

The coal dealers have refused to make any concessions whatever to the striking coal teamsters and helpers. The teamsters made one proposition after another and all were refused. They must return to work tomorrow morning if they would work at all. This was the ultimatum issued by the coal dealers yesterday afternoon after a conference with the strikers in the public reception room at city hall.

The dealers voted unanimously not to make a single concession until the coal year, so-called, starts in April of 1915 and at that time, it was said, some of the demands would be considered.

The teamsters, through their committee, consisting of William Fennell, president; Patrick McGarrell and John McCaffery, appeared before the dealers and submitted their final proposition. They agreed to waive the demand for a nine-hour day, and for a dollar a week additional to their helpers, but asked that they have either Thursday or Saturday afternoon off during the remainder of July and for August, without loss of pay.

The teamsters felt fairly sure that the dealers would accept the proposition, but the dealers, after ten minutes deliberation, flatly refused to make any concession whatever until the coal year begins in April next.

The strikers were told by E. A. Wilson, spokesman for the dealers, that they might complete the three weeks' loaf by showing up tomorrow morning and that if they didn't show up the dealers would consider that they did not want to work, and would fill their places as fast as possible.

The three men of the union indicated that they favored a continuance of the strike. "We will wait until next Fourth of July to have this thing settled," said one of them as he hustled down stairs from the reception hall.

Today the situation is unchanged and there is considerable anxiety as to what will happen tomorrow.

CUSHING FOR LIEUT. GOVERNOR

BOSTON, July 14.—Nomination papers to be circulated for Joseph Walker of Brookline as the progressive candidate for governor were asked of the secretary of state yesterday by Nelson Clark of Beverly, a member of the state committee of that party. Mr. Walker has made no announcement of his candidacy. Announcement that he was a candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant-governor was made last night by Grafton D. Cushing, speaker of the house of representatives for the past three years.

TO HELP SALEM UNEMPLOYED

WASHINGTON, July 14.—In response to appeals on behalf of thousands of men and women thrown out of work by the fire at Salem, Mass., Secretary Wilson yesterday telegraphed textile and boot and shoe manufacturers of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia and Maryland asking whether they can give employment to any of these people.

REVERE MAN IS HELD ON LARCENY CHARGE

Arrested by Billerica Officers for Rifling a Garage—Lynn Real Estate Dealer and Lowell Man Arraigned for Larceny of $800

John J. Hollan of Reservoir street, Revere, the young man who was arrested in Boston several weeks ago by Chief Martin Conway on a complaint charging him with breaking, entering in the night time and larceny of automobile equipment from the garage of Frank Casey on River street, Billerica, and later was defaulted for jumping his bail, was arrested yesterday on a capias and today his default was removed. Defendant waived examination in the local court and he was held in $500 surety for his appearance in the superior court. It is understood that Hollan has returned the articles stolen.

Michael J. Connors, one of four young men who, it is alleged, were creating a disturbance by fighting in Merrimack square about 5 o'clock this morning pleaded guilty to drunkenness and his case was continued until tomorrow. His companions were not in condition to appear in court.

James P. Gilbride, who was placed on probation yesterday forenoon on condition that he abstain from using intoxicating liquors, was again today and was slated for a three months sentence to the Lowell jail when he before the reviewing stand. Another minute of excitement was provided at the close of the review by a charge of 2000 cuirassiers in bright steel breastplates and brass helmets and waving their swords, who galloped at full speed in a single line to within 30 paces of the president.

Brilliant weather had brought out a large number of distinguished guests. The troops of all the garrisons in France also paraded and the military authorities calculated that over four hundred army aeroplanes were on the wing at one time in various parts of the country.

TO REBUILD THE BRIDGE
VESPER COUNTRY CLUB WILL REPLACE BRIDGE WHEN INSURANCE IS ADJUSTED

It is believed that within a month the Vesper Country club bridge spanning the Merrimack river and Tyngs Island, which was badly damaged by the storm Sunday, will be rebuilt and opened for traffic. The executive board of the club held a meeting at the club house last evening for the purpose of considering plans for the rebuilding of the bridge, but it was deemed advisable to wait until the insurance companies have settled with the club, for the organization carried a $5000 policy on the structure which cost $5000, and it is believed that the club will get almost the full amount.

An expert engineer in bridge construction from Boston visited the premises and looked over the bridge with a view to suggesting plans for its reconstruction, but he has not yet made a report. As soon as the insurance companies have settled with the club members the bridge will be rebuilt and made stronger than ever.

The committee last night decided to make temporary provision for traffic, and today a float was placed on the mainland bank near the bridge entrance from Tyngsboro, and a motorboat accommodating 30 persons will carry the club members to the island, landing them at a similar float at the beachhouse on the creek. The motorboat will meet all cars and will be kept in operation until the bridge is reopened to traffic.

TO PROMOTE NAVIGATION

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Conservationists in congress looked with interest today to the conference which had been arranged to be held at the White House tonight when efforts are to be made to smooth out difficulties over pending conservation legislation. President Wilson, members of the cabinet and members of the house planned to consider the pending Adamson general dam bill.

The bill is designed to promote navigation on what are now in the aggregate thousands of miles of shoal streams with possibilities of power development attractive to private capital but practically prohibitive to the government if undertaken to promote navigation only.

The plan is to grant permits, for 50 year periods, for private construction of dams and locks so as to provide heads of water for generation of power and hydro electricity for power purposes for communities needing light, fuel, power for manufacturing and other purposes.

Under the provision of the permits for building dams the war department after 50 years may terminate all rights by giving the owner one year's written notice and by taking over the property for the United States and the 50-year term would continue until compensation shall be paid to the owner for the fair value of his property.

Representative Ferris and other opponents of the bill in its present shape with whom Secretary Lane is understood to be aligned say the bill might leave a loophole for grants of perpetual rights to private capital. They say that section 7 of the bill apparently repeats the existing laws under which the great irrigation works have been built up and they further urge that the jurisdiction of the war and interior departments should be clearly defined. The framers of the bill deny that it is susceptible of any such construction.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE ALUMNI

Will Hold Third Annual Reunion in This City Next Month

First Principal of School Now in Montreal Will Be Special Guest

All arrangements for the third annual reunion of the members of St. Joseph's college alumni, which will be held in this city on Thursday, Aug. 13, are completed and, according to plans, the affair promises to be the best ever. The executive committee is hard at work on the small details that remain to be looked after and nothing is being spared to make the event a notable one in the history of this young but progressive organization. Letters have been received from former masters and teachers of the school as well as former pupils, who are now out of town, desiring their presence at the reunion, and it is believed that at least 500 young men will sit around the festive board at the banquet to be held in the evening in the meeting hall of the Alma Mater in Merrimack street. Rev. Bro. Chryseuil, the first principal of the school, who is now stationed at Montreal, Que., is expected in Lowell in a couple of weeks, and as usual he will be accompanied by another former master, Rev. Bro. Priscillanus, a favorite among the older members of the association, who is now master of the Quebec school of the Marist Brothers. It is believed that Rev. Joseph M. Bials, O. M. I., of Plattsburg, and Rev. Julien Racette, O. M. I., of Bailey Harbor, Wis., two former chaplains of the college, as well as several other clergymen, including Rev. Victor Choquette, pastor of St. Joseph's church, Malden, and Rev. Edmund Oulmet of Nebraska, all former pupils of the school, will be in attendance. An invitation has also been sent out to Judge Victor Boire of Plattsburg, who, if it is convenient for him to come, will be one of the principal speakers at the banquet.

REV. BRO. CHRYSEUIL

The program for the day will consist of a solemn high mass at St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock, the celebration and his assistants to be former pupils of the school, while the sermon will be delivered by a member of the association. At 1 o'clock special electric cars will convey the party to Cunningham's farm in Mammoth road, Col. Lincolnville, where a varied list of sports will be carried out. A feature of the outing this year will be the presence of the A. G. Cadets brass band, which will supply music on the grounds.

In the evening a banquet will be held at the college hall in Merrimack street and for the occasion the hall will be beautifully decorated. The toastmaster will be the president of the alumni, Wolfram P. Caisse, Jr., while several interesting speakers will entertain. A feature of the evening will be the election of officers for the ensuing year and it is very probable that the presidential chair next year will be occupied by John B. Richard, at present vice president of the organization. There will be a great contest for the board of directors, for it was stated that several candidates will try their luck.

The executive committee consists of the following: Wolfram P. Caisse, Jr., president; John B. Richard, vice president; Joseph P. Montminy, treasurer; Arthur Giroux, secretary; Wilmer A. Dragon, assistant secretary; Rodrick E. Jodoin, Eugene Ricard, Sam S. Parent, Isidore Trudel, Arthur D. Lamoureux, directors; Rev. Bro. Bernardin, master of the school, historian.

PROTECT PANAMA CANAL

FINISHING TOUCHES ON GIANT GUN CARRIAGE UNDER CONSTRUCTION AT WATERTOWN, MASS.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—When its breach-loading device has been perfected at Watervliet arsenal, the great 16-inch gun, the biggest piece of ordnance in the world, which has just been shipped from Sandy Hook proving grounds, will be virtually ready for service on the Panama canal fortifications.

The carriage for this giant gun is now under construction at the Watertown, Mass., arsenal. This gun, destined to protect the Pacific entrance to the Panama canal, is 50 feet long, weighs 142 tons and fires a projectile about six feet long and weighing a ton, which is discharged by 665 pounds of powder. The gun has a maximum range of from 33 to 23 miles. The elevation permitted by its carriage will enable the gun to fire a projectile about 11 miles across the Pacific ocean. It has sufficient power, theoretically, to pierce two feet of the best armor at the muzzle. At 11 miles the gun is calculated to penetrate any side armor afloat. When the shell leaves a gun it is revolving around its axis at about 4000 revolutions per minute and develops a pressure of 38,000 pounds to the square inch.

FELL FROM BALLOON

ITALIAN SOLDIER KILLED AFTER BEING CARRIED UP HANGING TO RUPE OF A DIRIGIBLE

UDINE, Italy, July 14.—While ten soldiers were holding a dirigible balloon by ropes yesterday a sudden gust swept it from the ground. Nine of the soldiers let go but the 10th was carried up. The crew of the dirigible made every effort to haul him aboard, but he fell 500 feet and was killed.

AMONG THE TOILERS

Quite a party last night in Belvidere. The Barry Shoe Co. outing is not far away.

John Mangas of the Hamilton Mfg. Co. is back at his work after a short illness.

Hats off to Michael A. Lee, the newly elected business agent of the carpenters.

Great arrangements have been made for the plumbers' outing, which will be held Aug. 1, at Bass Point.

George Kelley of the Kilson Machine shop will be present at the launching of the new battleship, Nevada.

James McLaughlin, employed at the Boot mill, made a grand appearance on his new motorcycle Sunday.

Miss Mary Feeney of the Lowell Textile Co. is planning for a trip to Detroit to take place in the near future.

Joseph Burke, employed at the Stirling mills, will start next Monday on a visit to relatives in Worcester.

The Stirling mills will shut down Saturday morning for two weeks, for the annual vacation period.

Harrison Richards of the Stirling mills will start Saturday for New York city, where he will spend two weeks.

Walter Phelps, the presiding officer of the Machinists union, is one of the most likable men in union circles.

President Antoni Bellefeuille of Carpenters union, local 45, is a hard, energetic worker in the interests of the union.

William Hartley and John Mack, employees of the Lowell Blackery, spend most of their time at the Wameet camp.

Jack Shanley, formerly employed at the Northern Waste Co., has started farming. He intends to sell his products direct to the homes of the people.

Miss Alice Riley, employed at the Whittall Mfg. Co., has returned home after a pleasant two weeks' vacation which was spent at Hampton beach.

Frank Finnerty of the Saco-Lowell shops returned to work this morning after spending two weeks at the Glen Dale camp on the banks of the Connecticut.

Mr. John Shea, employed at the Appleton mills, has returned from a very pleasant vacation which he spent at Long Beach. He has put on a good deal of tan.

Thomas Carville of the Blizow Carpet Co. has returned from his vacation. He visited Atlantic City, Coney Island and various other points around New York.

The Leather Workers union promises a big surprise in the very near future. Secretary Pleasant and committee are working hard every night arranging details.

Samuel A. Englehart, formerly of

Cleveland, O., is now overseer of spinning at the Clinton Woolen Co., Clinton, Mass., having been appointed to succeed Clyde De Mars, recently resigned.

The employees of the different industries are a much rested looking lot after their ten days' vacation. Tanned and healthy looking, they resumed their work yesterday morning. These vacations do a lot of good.

"Al" Pepperell has succeeded P. Carlton Wentworth as direct representative of the Draper Co. in Fall River and New Bedford. Mr. Wentworth in the future will cover all the territory north of Baltimore with the exception of the cities mentioned.

The Machinists union will hold a monster outing in September. At the next meeting, which will be held on Thursday evening, a committee will be appointed to make arrangements which promise to eclipse anything run previously.

Next Saturday promises to be a gala day for the employees of the Meads, Feeley and Adams Shoe Co., when their journey to Revere beach for their annual outing. Grand preparations have been made to make the day one long to be remembered.

The Massachusetts state conference of painters, which was held last Sunday in Lynn, was a grand success. According to Mr. George Fitch, the business agent of the local painters, the Lowell union was far ahead of the majority of locals represented. The painters of this city receive $3 per day and work 44 hours.

Thomas J. Hannigan has been selected as the new Bedford branch of the National Association of Engineers as its representative at the annual convention to be held in Milwaukee, the week commencing Sept. 12. Mr. Hannigan is well known throughout New England as the master mechanic of the Soule mill, New Bedford.

James Coleman of the American Hide and Leather Co. was agreeably surprised one evening last week when a party of co-workers called at his home.

How English Beauties Keep Faces Youthful

Christian Miller, F. C. I., noted English health expert, attributes the early aging of American women mainly to the "national nervousness." The women of England, she says, can teach us the inestimable lesson of repose.

Another valuable lesson to be learned from the English woman is that she does not go in much for cosmetics, the continual use of which must ruin any complexion. The beauty devotees of King George's realm have the mere method of keeping the face girlish-looking and healthy. Ordinary neutralized wax, used like cold cream, rejuvenates the worst complexion. Women here may easily acquire the habit, this wax being obtainable at drug stores generally in the United States and Canada. It is applied at night and washed off in the morning. Once it is sufficient to completely renovate a bad complexion. It has a peculiar action in keeping the face free from the particles of dead and dehydrated skin which are constantly appearing.

home and presented him with an Irish silk flag. Mr. Coleman is the popular secretary of the United Irish League and he intends to carry this banner in a parade celebrating home rule, in the near future.

Loomfixers Held Meeting
The members of Loomfixers' union held a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting last evening. The meeting was held in Carpenter's hall in the Runels building. Considerable important business was transacted. Two propositions for membership were received and were laid over for one week. The convention of loomfixers from all parts of New England, which will be held in this city Sunday was the main topic for discussion. The convention committee reported that final arrangements had been made and that the convention this year promised to eclipse any convention of loomfixers run previously in this city. President Coult spoke interestingly on the work that has been entailed in order to make the convention a success and thanked each and every member for his share, saying that they were always "on the spot" when necessity demanded and that they always came out with flying colors.

Workers Share Profits
About 600 employees of the Bourne mills, Fall River, Mass., who have been in the employment of the company for the past six months, received the regular semi-annual dividend, at the rate of three per cent in wages paid from the 1st of December, 1913, to the 6th of June, 1914. The amount paid out was about $4000, and each individual received approximately three quarters of one week's salary. This makes the 10th dividend. The organization was established in 1883, and during those many years there was only once that the employees didn't receive the usual dividend, which was in the year 1904. The directors have decided to continue this for another six months.

The Borden Will
The will of the late M. C. D. Borden, the owner of the big Fall River Iron Works mills, and the American Printing Co., at Fall River, has been made public. His estate has been equally divided among his three sons.

Mr. Borden provided in his will that his wife, Harriet M. Borden, should have the life use of his estate, and at her death it was to revert to his sons.

Yale university, of which Mr. Borden was a graduate, was the only other beneficiary in his will. The institution received $250,000. Throughout his lifetime also he was a liberal contributor to Yale. Mr. Borden left a gross estate of personal and real property amounting to $7,692,749.

General Labor Notes
In New Jersey all state employees properly come under the provisions of the compensation law, including chauffeurs.

The farmer does not come under the Illinois workmen's compensation act, according to a decision of the state industrial board.

The California supreme court has upheld a law fixing the interest limit at 2 per cent a month in that state. The decision is a blow to chattel loan agents.

A profit of $16,000,000 was made during the last twelve months by the 149 co-operative societies comprising the northern section of the British Co-operative union.

Thanks to the textile and clothing workers in New York, the percentage of women among unionists in the state has risen from 2.08 in 1905 to 11.5 in 1913.

The American Federation of Labor advocates debarbing employment of white women or girls in establishments controlled by Chinese or Japanese.

Demand of the employees of the London, England, General Omnibus company include: Abolition of the payment per journey system; $2.10 a day of nine hours for drivers, and $2.21 per day for conductors.

During his two years' stay in New England, Organizer Fay has won more than 10,000 new members for the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America.

Attorney General Cosson has ruled that the Iowa state board of control may send prisoners to work on the public highways of the state without armed guards.

All state and foreign nation commissions to the Panama-Pacific international exposition have awarded contracts for their buildings to firms employing union labor exclusively.

Workmen's compensation, minimum wage law, widows' pensions and fire-escapes were among the recommendations urged by State Factory Inspector Mitchell, of Tennessee, in his first annual report to Governor Hooper.

The introduction of modern methods and labor saving machinery into the bakery industry has had the effect of displacing many skilled workmen in the large bakeries throughout the country.

Many of the Hindus who have lost their places in the sawmills of British Columbia owing to whites being employed in their places have made application to be admitted into the United States and many have already crossed the border.

"BILLY" BURKE IS THE GLASS

Lowell Captain Has Been the Mainstay of Local Club

Burke is a Wonderful Fielder and a Great Pinch Hitter

when he does talk there is always something said. It is very likely, in fact, that the Lowell club has been the mainstay of the team since the season's inauguration. Although neither his batting nor fielding average is sensational, Burke's ability on the ball field is far above that of a class B performer.

Burke was gotten from the Wichita, Kan. club this year in company with "Pete" Clemens, center fielder on last year's championship aggregation. This deal was the greatest haul made in the 1914 season by any New England league manager for in exchange for a fair outfielder Jimmy Gray received the services of two sterling performers.

The local captain is a wizard in the field. At the first of the season he was used at the pivotal position but later on shifted to third. At either job he is easily the class of the circuit.

Possessed of a wonderful arm, a rare judge of ground balls and a wise baseball head Burke has pulled off phenomenal plays this season and has drawn down applause from every grandstand in the league. He is in a class by himself as an infielder.

At the bat Burke is feared by every hurler along the circuit. He is especially dangerous in a pinch and has broken up more than one contest with a timely slam to a remote corner of the ball yard. His speed makes him a dangerous man on a bunt ball and he is always trying to outwit the opposing club.

Burke is the fastest man on the paths that the Lowell club boasts and that is saying a great deal. He is fast but coupled with this he gets a quick start to the next station and is always playing the pitcher. Beyond dispute "Billy" is the right man at the right place in his position as captain. Although his voice is seldom heard

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Glendale Juniors are still on the map. They are looking for a couple of good games. Bob Charren is out of the game with a swollen hand, so you'll have a pretty good chance to beat us. We'll take a chance with any team that ain't too big.

The Athletics gave the Ironjacks a tripping on the North common last Saturday for the fourth time this year. Four times is a lot to beat one team. The Athletics have won 13 games and only lost three. That's some record, all right, and better than the Lowell team. Heslin was the feature of our game Saturday. He is a great catcher, but his team ain't as good as us.

The Buffaloes of Lawrence would like a game with any fast Lowell semi-pro team and will play in either city. Full expenses will be expected or given. Josiah Brown is manager of the Buffaloes, and Josiah lives at No. 7 Methuen street, Lawrence.

The D. A. C. team is a fine baseball bunch, and they want to play any 13-year-old team in the city. They want to play on the South common for a quarter ball. Talk up, you guys! What do you say? Our manager is L. Lamoureux, and he sleeps at 4 Dane street.

GARDNER BROOKS

Defeated Jabez White Last Night at Albany in Ten Round Bout

Gardner Brooks, the local 115 pound boxing marvel, last night won decisively from Jabez White of Albany in the most important bout of his career. The bout was a ten round affair and went the distance.

The Lowell boy won all the way and was never in danger at any point. After the first few rounds White knew that he was hopelessly beaten on points and from that time until the final bell the Albany fighter kept trying for a knockout.

Brooks, however, was too shifty for him. The local lad would pepper him with straight lefts and then back out of range so suddenly that several times White almost lifted himself off his feet when his swings met nothing but the atmosphere.

There was a battle between a clever boxer and a fighter and the boxer won. Although White is reputed to be a clever man as well as a hard hitter, his style never had a chance last night. Brooks did not receive a hard blow throughout the contest and stepped out powerfully at the end of each round.

His opponent, however, had evidence of the hard hitting he had been subjected to. The local boxer was given an enthusiastic ovation by the fans at the ringside.

MAYOR GOOD REFUSES TO OUST COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC SAFETY—TELLS MINISTER TO SIT DOWN

CAMBRIDGE, July 14.—After an exciting meeting, during which Mayor Good shook his clenched fist under the nose of Rev. Richard Wright, the mayor yesterday flatly refused to remove Commissioner of Public Safety Henry J. Cunningham from office, and declared that the "fighting committee of 18," who demanded his removal, were not worthy to succeed.

Backed up by 20 witnesses the committee held its second conference with the mayor yesterday and turned over to him three bottles of whiskey, alleged to have been purchased in Cambridge drug stores in violation of the law, together with tickets to boxing exhibitions.

Many of the witnesses testified to gambling and illicit Sunday sales, and the entire committee, who were appointed at a mass meeting of citizens about two weeks ago, charged Commissioner Cunningham with neglect of duty.

At the outset of the meeting had feeling developed and Mayor Good threatened at one time to quit the committee, witnesses and all, out of his office as well as telling them to BOARDS HEAD, HAMPTON BEACH, is large double house, to let. G. B. Mitchell, 14 Water st., Haverhill, Mass.

No uncertain terms that he was conducting the hearing, not the committee.

The opening of the meeting was marked by the clash between Mayor Good and the Rev. Richard Wright, who was conducting the case for the petitioners.

William Y. Taylor, secretary of the Water and Ward society, was testifying to the purchase of tickets to a boxing exhibition held in Cambridge. Dr. Wright was warned by the mayor against purchasing tickets for boxing exhibitions held in a Cambridge club and of which they are not members.

Henry J. Dow and August H. Strong testified to the illicit purchase of liquor. They told of trying seven stores and being able to purchase liquor in but one of them.

At the close of the hearing the mayor said that he would at once present the evidence to the district attorney and after possibly declining to remove Commissioner Cunningham said, "I am doing everything I can I would. Can you deny it?"

"You are seeking popularity," he continued. "If you were serious you would have taken this matter into court. You should be ashamed of yourselves for this."

LEGAL NOTICES

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a mortgage deed given by Forest M. Lums and Blanche M. Lums, wife of said Forest M. Lums, in her own right, both of Concord, in the County of Merrimack and State of New Hampshire, to William T. Sheppard, of Lowell, in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, dated November 1, 1912, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the Northern District of said County of Middlesex, Book 476, Page 407, will be sold at public auction for breach of the conditions of said mortgage deed on the premises hereinafter described on Thursday, the twenty-third day of July, A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described substantially as follows:

That parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated on the southerly side of Middlesex street and on the westerly side of Foster street in said Lowell, shown as lots 54, 55 and 55 A on a plan entitled, "Plan of Land in the City of Lowell, belonging to W. E. Livingston, September, 1855, O. P. Osgood, C. E." recorded in said Registry, Book of Plans 3, Plan 42, and bounded:

Northerly by said Middlesex street one hundred thirty and 22/100 (130.22) feet.

Easterly by said Foster street one hundred sixty-two and 25/100 (162.25) feet.

Southerly by lot 53 on said plan one hundred (100) feet.

Westerly by lot 57 on said plan seventy and 1/2 (70.5) feet.

Southerly again by said lot 57 thirty (30) feet; and westerly again by lot 56 on said plan one hundred two and 1/2 (102.5) feet.

Containing nineteen thousand eight hundred fifty-six and 50/100 (19,856.50) square feet of land and be sold contents and any or all of said measurements more or less, and being the same premises as said Blanche M. Lums conveyed by three deeds, two given by the City Institution for Savings, by deeds under power in power of sale mortgages, dated Oct. 1, 1912, and both recorded in said Registry on October 3, 1912, and the other given by John J. Hogan, administrator of said mortgages, dated Oct. 1, 1912, and recorded in said Registry, Book 476, Page 405, Lots 54 and 55 above described will be sold and conveyed subject to two mortgages, one given by said Forest M. Lums and Blanche M. Lums, one given by the City Institution for Savings, dated October 1, 1912, and recorded in said Registry, Book 476, Page 405, upon which there is now due the principal sum of $2400, and accumulated interest, and the other to William T. Sheppard, dated July 1, 1912, and recorded in said Registry, Book 476, Page 418, upon which there is now due the principal sum of $185 and accumulated interest.

The above described premises will be sold and conveyed subject to all unpaid taxes, municipal or other assessments and tax sales which may be due or to become due thereon.

The purchaser will be required to pay $100 in cash at the time and place of sale, and the balance in ten days from the day of sale at 12 o'clock noon, at the office of William T. Sheppard, 103 Central street, Lowell, Mass.

Wm. T. SHEPPARD, Mortgagee.

CARRIGAN COULD USE TWO OR THREE LIKE CICOTTE TO ADVANTAGE

When the Red Sox let Eddie Cicotte go to Chicago many loyal rooters shook their heads and declared the move was a foolish one. Since joining the White Sox Cicotte has been pitching the best ball of his career, and Bill Carrigan is sore. If he had one more good pitcher of the staff's type the Sox would be able to make quite a splurge in the league race. Carrigan, however, was not in charge of the Red Sox when Eddie was ejected.

J. P. MORGAN DENIES CHARGE OF COMMISSION

Mellen Calls Report "All Politics"
—Counsel for Former President of New Haven Issues Statement Defending Client's Actions

NEW YORK, July 14.—While J. P. Morgan & Co. refused to discuss the report of the inter-state commerce commission so severely censuring the directors under the administration of Charles S. Mellen for "reckless and profligate" financial operations estimated to have cost stockholders $90,000,000, J. P. Morgan denies the charge that the commission's examiners were not accorded full access to the firm's books bearing on the New Haven.

Correspondence made public at Washington told of Commissioner McCord's directing the chief examiner to cease the work as it was "useless." Late last night Mr. Morgan issued this brief statement in reply:

"The information with regard to the withdrawal of the inter-state commerce commission's examiners from the examination of the books of our firm is the first intimation that I have had that they have been recalled."

The New Haven situation is now out of the hands of the inter-state commerce commission and what action, if any, is taken on the recommendations that the directors be prosecuted lies with the department of justice and district attorneys in the states in which the system has lines. Prosecuting attorneys at New York, Boston, Hartford, New Haven, New London and other points have not yet received copies of the evidence. Dis-

LOAN OF $225,000 FOR BIG FILTER PLANT

To Eliminate Iron and Manganese
From City Water—Police to Get One Day Off in Fifteen in Addition to Two Weeks Vacation—$9,000
Voted for Textile School—Meeting of Health Board—Grade Crossing Expenses

The $225,000 loan order for the construction and establishment of a system and plant at the boulevard for the purpose of purifying the water supply, was read at the regular meeting of the municipal council this forenoon and assigned for a hearing one week from today at 8 p. m.

The council, on recommendation of the mayor, voted to allow police officers and patrolmen one day off in every 15 without loss of pay and in addition to their annual vacation of two weeks.

The meeting was called to order at 11:47 with all members present. The petition of Michael J. Ewald for a change was read by the mayor who said that the bond accompanying the petition had been properly certified to by the city solicitor. The bond was accepted and the petition granted.

The petition of John A. Weinbeck for a gasoline license was referred to the commissioner of water works and fire protection.

Dr. Rudolph Mignault had a garage petition before the board. The doctor was present and explained that he had been ordered to make certain changes in his garage and that the necessary changes had been made. His petition was granted.

$9000 for Textile School

The order appropriating $9000 for evening instruction of residents of Lowell at the Lowell Textile school, was adopted.

The petition of H. H. Sumner for a garage was assigned for hearing Aug. 4 at 11 a. m. Many minor petitions for pole locations, wire attachments, etc., were properly referred.

A bill by Michael J. Maguire for injury to property at 294 Wentworth avenue for water pipe trouble, was referred to the city solicitor, as were claims for personal injuries presented by John Harkins and Joseph C. McCarron.

An order having to do with the opening of the streets was adopted. In the beginning of the year it was thought that the assessment for street watering would cover the oiling and that no order specifying would be necessary, but the city solicitor ordered that an oil order would be necessary.

John P. Saunders petitioned the municipal council for permission to manufacture sausages. The matter had been referred to the commissioner of public safety and the board of health. The commissioner and board of health recommended that the petition be granted and it was so voted.

The petition of U. Lachapelle for permission to erect an illuminated sign at 541 Middlesex street was granted.

Petition to Move Building

The petition of C. E. Paille for permission to move a house from Ford street to Mt. Hope street came up for a second or third time. Commissioner McCord asked if everything had been made satisfactory with the Lowell Electric Light corporation, Bay State Street Railway company and other companies, and Arthur L. Eno, representing the petitioner, answered in the affirmative. Mr. Eno said the Bay State street railway was present and explained that the removal of the building would affect two feed wires that extend through Pawtucket street and that the building while on the Moody street bridge would block travel entirely. He did not, however, appear as a remonstrant.

Mayor Murphy read a communication from the park department, setting forth the number of trees that would be interfered with. None of the trees would have to be removed but a great many branches would have to be cut and it would be necessary, he said, under the rules of the park department, for the petitioner to get a permit from the superintendent of parks. On the mayor's suggestion it was voted to give the petition hearing tomorrow morning, with the understanding that the petitioner first get a permit from the superintendent of parks.

James O'Hallahan was interested in the removal of the building inasmuch as he intends to build on the site at present occupied by the building. He asked that action be taken as soon as possible in order that he could get the foundation for a new building under way. It was suggested that the building be removed to the boulevard in the early morning hours so as not to interfere with street travel.

Transfer Order Adopted

An order appropriating $200 for the completion of the band stand on the South common was read. The scheme was to transfer the money from the appropriation for police salaries to an appropriation for improvements on the South common.

A transfer order having to do with the completion of the addition to the Greenhalge school was also adopted. This transfer was made from the appropriation for police salaries to an appropriation for "addition to Greenhalge school."

Order to Borrow $225,000

The mayor then read the following order to borrow $225,000 for a purification plant at the boulevard. The order was presented by Commissioner Carmichael.

Order to borrow the sum of $225,000 and appropriate the same for the construction and establishment of a system and plant for purifying the water supply to the inhabitants of the city of Lowell, by said city.

First: That the city treasurer of the city of Lowell, subject to the approval of the commissioner of finance, be and he is hereby authorized and directed to borrow for and in behalf of the city of Lowell from any bank, firm, corporation and individual or from the commissioners of the sinking funds of the city of Lowell or from the treasurer of the commonwealth, the principal sum of $225,000.

Second: That the said sum borrowed hereunder, with interest, shall be paid in 30 equal annual payments, the first payment to be made on the same day of the same month in each succeeding year until the full amount of $225,000 with interest is paid.

Third: That the said principal sum of $225,000, so borrowed, be and the same is hereby appropriated for the purposes of the construction and establishment of a system and plant for purifying the water supplied to the inhabitants of the city of Lowell by said city.

Fourth: That the payments on this loan, both of principal and interest, as they become due, shall be made from the receipts of, or from the funds standing to the credit of the Lowell Water Works department.

On motion of Commissioner Brown it was voted to lay the order on the table and that a hearing be held one week from today at 8 p. m.

Oiling the Boulevard

Commissioner Morse speaking to the question of street oiling said that he would like, later on, to oil the road on the north side of the boulevard. The street department has been gravely the road and he said that in order to put it in good shape it would have to be oiled. This is the stretch used by the Lowell Driving club and it is about the only stretch of road available for horse racing. Mr. Morse said he also wanted to oil the approach to the boulevard. An order presented by him was adopted.

Holidays for Police Officers

The next up was a communication from a committee representing the police department and asking for one day off in 15 for police officers and patrolmen without loss of pay and in addition to their annual vacation of two weeks.

Mayor Murphy said he had had the proposition before him for at least four months; that he had gone into the matter very thoroughly and had found that a great majority of the citizens in the commonwealth allow their policemen one day off in 15 in addition to the regular annual vacation. He said he had talked the matter over with the superintendent of police and the superintendent was very strong in his endorsement of it. The mayor explained that he had made one change in the proposition as submitted by the police—a sort of emergency clause providing for extra house duty. The proposition is that when four, or five or six officers are having their day off, that a like number who had had their day off a week previous or thereafter, remain at the station and do house duty. "I considered this necessary in case of emergency," said the mayor and he then called for the vote. Commissioner Carmichael was opposed to the proposition and voted against it. The other four, Mayor Murphy and Commissioners Brown, Donnelly and Morse voted in favor.

Adjourned to tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Board of Health Meeting

At a meeting of the board of health, held this forenoon, the petition of Hynria Wroblewska for a stable license at 46 Hampshire street was granted, while the petition of Maurice and Annie Stoll for a stable at 113 Railroad street was laid on the table. Frank Roddy of Draut was granted a swill license.

Grade Crossing Hearing

City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy and his assistant, Capt. McDonald, went to Boston this morning to attend a hearing in the office of A. W. DeGosh, auditor in grade crossings. The hearing had to do with bills in connection with the abolition of crossings in this city.

KERIS HELD IN $1000 ON LARCENY CHARGE

Lowell Man Gets Mixed up With
Lynn Man and Implicated in
Theft — Liquor Sold in Lowell
Hotel Sunday Made Trouble in
Tyngsboro

Joseph Keris was found guilty of larceny of money in the sum of $500 from John Showken by Judge Enright in police court this forenoon and held in the sum of $1000 for his appearance before the grand jury next September. He did not furnish bail and was committed to the Lowell Jail.

John Showken, the complainant, was the first witness and he testified that he resides at 14 Auburn street and is employed in a bobbin shop on Rogers street. He said that he had $323.43 in the Traders National bank and at the time of its failure withdrew about $161.

To this amount he added a sum given him by his mother, making in all $300 and placed the bills in a box under his bed.

For several weeks Joseph Keris had been rooming with him and even aided him in securing the money from the bank. On July 3, so the story goes, Showken missed the money and upon investigation learned that Joseph had also disappeared. A search was begun and after visits to Haverhill, Boston and other places the defendant was located in Lynn and brought to this city charged with the theft. He pleaded not guilty when arraigned in court about a week ago but when interviewed by the complainant at the Lowell jail admitted that he took the money and had given $50 to Peter Lesburt, an interpreter in Lynn, to hold for him and had purchased a ticket for the old country and a large amount of clothing. The defendant claims that he gave Lesburt $10 for holding the money.

Sgt. Petrio and Supt. Welch told of interviewing the prisoner and of his admitting that he took the money and they also displayed a number of articles which, it is alleged, Keris bought with the money. Keris did not take the stand but admitted that he took the money and gave the larger part of it to Peter Lesburt of Lynn. The court found probable

YOUNG MAN HELD UP

AT ROBERT STREET, PAWTUCKET-
ETVILLE—ROBBERED BY THUGS WHO FLED

A daring holdup was perpetrated in Robert street, Pawtucketville, about 11:30 o'clock last night, when three desperate looking characters jumped from a yard and grabbed a young man, who was lighting a cigar, and after giving him a beating and almost choking him to death, extracted his roll and escaped toward Pelham.

The young man, in describing the holdup, said: "I had just left my friend's house and was walking down the street. At a point where there is a large clump of bushes I stopped to light a cigar. While I was holding the lighted match up to the cigar and with the glare in my face three men jumped from behind the bushes and grabbed me. One put both hands around my neck, while another held my arms. The third man went through my pockets and took all the money I had. I was so scared and in such a position that I was unable to shout. After they succeeded in getting my roll and also giving me a good beating they ran away, toward Pelham."

The victim hurried to the police station, arriving there about midnight and reported his experience, but as yet no trace of the culprits has been reported.

EXCURSION TO REVERE

The Bay State Street Railway Ca-held its regular Tuesday excursion to Revere beach today and the weather was ideal for such a trip. Two special cars left Merrimack square at 8:15 o'clock this morning and conveyed the excursionists to the seashore, where a very enjoyable day was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. William Flannery and daughter, Rita, and Miss Margaret Flannery have returned to this city after paying a visit to Miss Irene Logan in Newburyport and Salisbury beach.

"What is a genius?" Well, there's EDISON you know, but he was just a workman who set his mind on one thing and toiled until he developed his brain above all others to his fame and profit, and

BOARD OF TRADE

Outing to be Held at

Canobie—Mr. Ford of

Detroit Invited

The annual outing of the Lowell board of trade will be held at Canobie Lake park on Thursday, Aug. 13 or
Aug. 27, both dates being considered by the committee in charge. The at-fair as usual will consist of a trolley ride, a dinner followed by speeches and a list of sports on the baseball grounds of the park.

It is expected that the principal speakers at the banquet will be Congressman John Jacob Rogers and Henry Ford of Detroit, Mich., the great philanthropist and manufacturer of the Ford automobiles. The committee has sent an invitation to Mr. Ford, asking him to come to Lowell and speak on the business prosperity he predicted for this country prior to his interview with President Wilson. Although the committee has had no reply from Mr. Ford, it is believed that he will be pleased to come to Lowell and he will cheerfully accept the invitation to address the business men of the city.

The committee in charge of the arrangements of the outing consists of the following: Harry Pitts, chairman;
Charles Nichols, Daniel W. Shanahan,
Arthur W. Saunders, Wm. H. Howes,
John H. Murphy and Robert F. Marshall, the two latter ex-officio. This committee has the power of appointing other members to serve with them.

DICTATOR'S RESIGNATION MOMENTARILY EXPECTED

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Huerta's resignation momentarily was expected in Mexico City today. Official diplomatic despatches from the federal capital stated the dictator probably would quit his post and turn over his administration to his new foreign minister, Francisco Carbajal, either today or Wednesday.

Evidence that Huerta was preparing an avenue of exit after his abdication was seen in the work of restoring through rail communication between Mexico City and Vera Cruz. The chief engineer of the Mexican railway was sent from the capital personally to supervise the repairing of the gap in the line near the coast. Huerta, it was believed, might use that route of departure. The railway was torn up after the American occupation of Vera Cruz.

With a crisis imminent, administration officials and envoys of the South American republics were uniting in their efforts today to bring about a transition of power in Mexico City without further sacrifice of life. Car-

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE ALUMNI

Will Hold Third Annual Reunion in This City Next Month

First Principal of School Now in Montreal Will Be Special Guest

REV. BRO. CHRYSSEUL

All arrangements for the third annual reunion of the members of St. Joseph's college alumni, which will be held in this city on Thursday, Aug. 13, are completed and according to plans the affair promises to be the best ever. The executive committee is hard at work on the small details that remain to be looked after and nothing is being spared to make the event a notable one in the history of this young but progressive organization. Letters have been received from former masters and teachers of the school as well as former pupils, who are now out of town, assuring their presence at the reunion and it is believed that at least 400 young men will sit around the festive board at the banquet to be held in the evening in the meeting hall of the Albee Hotel in Merrimack street.

Rev. Bro. Chrysseul, the first principal of the school, who is now stationed at Montreal, Que., is expected in Lowell in a couple of weeks, and as usual he will be accompanied by another former master.

Master, Rev. Bro. Priscillanus, a favorite among the older members of the association, who is now master of the Quebec school of the Marist Brothers. It is believed that Rev. Joseph M. Bliss, O. M. I., of Plattsburg, and Rev. John Hacette, O. M. I., of Bailey Harbor, Wis., two former chaplains of the association, as well as several other clergymen, including Rev. Victor Chrysseul, pastor of St. Joseph's church, Lowell, and Rev. Edmund Oulmet of Newbury, all former pupils of the school, will be in attendance. An invitation has also been sent out to Judge Victor Baile of Plattsburg, who, it is convenient for him to come, will be one of the principal speakers at the reunion.

The program for the day will consist of a solemn high mass at St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock, the celebrant and his assistants to be former pupils of the school, while the sermon will be delivered by a member of the association. At 1 o'clock special electric cars will convey the party to Cunningham's farm in Minnepheth road, Colburnville, where a whole lot of sports will be carried out. A feature of the outing this year will be the presence of the A. G. Cadets band, which will supply music on the grounds.

In the evening a banquet will be held at the college hall in Merrimack street and for the occasion the hall will be lavishly decorated. The toastmaster will be the president of the association, William P. Chase, Jr., while several interesting speakers will entertain. A feature of the evening will be the election of officers for the ensuing year and it is very probable that the presidential chair next year will be occupied by John B. Richard, at present vice president of the organization. There will be a great contest for the board of directors, for it was stated that several candidates will try their luck.

PROTECT PANAMA CANAL

FINISHING TOUCHES ON GIANT GUN CARRIAGE UNDER CONSTRUCTION AT WATERTOWN, MASS.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—When its breech-loading device has been perfected at Watervliet arsenal, the great 16-inch gun, the biggest piece of ordnance in the world, which has just been shipped from Sundry Hook proving grounds, will be virtually ready for service on the Panama canal fortifications.

The carriage for this giant gun is now under construction at the Watertown, Mass., arsenal. This gun, destined to protect the Pacific entrance to the Panama canal, is 50 feet long, weighs 142 tons and fires a projectile about six feet long and weighing a ton, which is discharged by 655 pounds of powder. The gun has a maximum range of from 33 to 23 miles. The elevation permitted by its carriage will enable the gun to fire a projectile about 11 miles across the Pacific ocean. It has sufficient power, theoretically, to pierce two feet of the best armor at the muzzle. At 12 miles the gun is calculated to penetrate any side armor armor. When the shell leaves a gun it is revolving around its axis at about 1600 revolutions per minute and develops a pressure of 28,000 pounds to the square inch.

FELL FROM BALLOON

ITALIAN SOLDIER KILLED AFTER BEING CARRIED UP HANGING TO ROPE OF A DRUGGIST

UDINE, Italy, July 14.—While ten soldiers were holding a dirigible balloon by ropes yesterday a sudden gust swept it from the ground. Nine of the soldiers let go but the 10th was carried up. The crowd of the dirigible made every effort to haul him aboard, but he fell 500 feet and was killed.

AMONG THE TOILERS

Quite a party last night in Belvidere.

The Barry Shoe Co. outing is not far away.

John Mangan of the Hamilton Mfg. Co. is back at his work after a short illness.

Hats off to Michael A. Lee, the newly elected business agent of the carpenters.

Great arrangements have been made for the plumbers' outing, which will be held Aug. 1, at Bass Point.

George Kelley of the Kitten Machine shop will be present at the launching of the new battleship, Nevada.

James McLaughlin, employed at the Boot mill, made a grand appearance on his new motorcycle Sunday.

Miss Mary Peeney of the Lowell Textile Co. is planning for a trip to Detroit to take place in the near future.

Joseph Burke, employed at the Stirling mills, will start next Monday on a visit to relatives in Worcester.

The Stirling mills will shut down Saturday morning for two weeks, for the annual vacation period.

Harrison Richards of the Stirling mills will start Saturday for New York city, where he will spend two weeks.

Walter Phelps, the presiding officer of the Machinists union, is one of the most likeable men in union circles.

President Antoni Belteffelle of Carpenters union, local 48, is a hard, energetic worker in the interests of the union.

William Hartley and John Mack, employees of the Lowell Bleachery, spend most of their time at the Wameest camp.

Jack Shanley, formerly employed at the Northern Waste Co., has started farming. He intends to sell his products direct to the homes of the people.

Miss Alice Riley, employed at the Whitall Mfg. Co., has returned home after a pleasant two weeks' vacation which was spent at Hampton beach.

Frank Flinnerty of the Saco-Lowell shops returned to work this morning after spending two weeks at the Glendale camp on the banks of the Connecticut.

Mr. John Shen, employed at the Appleton mills, has returned from a very pleasant vacation which he spent at Lynn beach. He has put on a good coat of tan.

Thomas Carville of the Bigelow Carpet Co. has returned from his vacation. He visited Atlantic City, Coney Island and various other points around New York.

The Leather Workers union promises a big surprise in the very near future. Secretary Lorton and committee are working hard every night arranging details.

Samuel A. Englehart, formerly of Cleveland, O., is now overseer of spinning at the Clinton Woollen Co., Clinton, Mass., having been appointed to succeed Clyde De Mars, recently resigned.

The employees of the different industries are a much better looking lot after their ten days' vacation. Tanned and healthy looking, they resumed their work yesterday morning. These vacations do a lot of good.

"Al" Pepperell has succeeded P. Carlton Wentworth as direct representative of the Draper Co. in Fall River and New Bedford. Mr. Wentworth in the future will cover all the territory north of Baltimore with the exception of the cities mentioned.

The Machinists union will hold a monster outing in September. At the next meeting, which will be held on Thursday evening, a committee will be appointed to make arrangements which promise to eclipse anything run previously.

Next Saturday promises to be a gala day for the employees of the Meers, Peoley and Adams Shoe Co., when they journey to Revere beach for their annual outing. Grand preparations have been made to make the day run long to be remembered.

The Massachusetts state conference of painters, which was held last Sunday in Lynn, was a grand success. According to Mr. George Finch, the hustling business agent of the local painters, the Lowell union was far ahead of the majority of local representatives. The painters of this city receive $3 per day and work 44 hours.

Thomas J. Hanigan has been selected by the New Bedford branch of the National Association of Engineers as its representative at the annual convention to be held in Milwaukee, the week commencing Sept. 12. Mr. Hanigan is well known throughout New England as the master mechanic of the Soule mill, New Bedford.

James Coleman of the American Hide and Leather Co. was agreeably surprised one evening last week when a party of co-workers called at his home.

How English Beauties Keep Faces Youthful

Christian Miller, F. C. L., noted English health expert, attributes the early aging of American women chiefly to the "national nervousness." The women of England, she says, can teach us the invaluable lesson of repose.

Another valuable lesson to be learned from the English woman is that she does not go in much for cosmetics, the continual use of which must ruin any complexion. The beauty devotees of King George's realm have the maximized wax habit, a more wholesome method of keeping the face smooth-looking and healthy. Ordinary mercurized wax, used like cold cream, rejuvenates the worst complexion. One ounce is sufficient to completely renovate a bad complexion. It has a peculiar action in keeping the face free from the particles of dead and de-vitalized skin which are constantly appearing.

home and presented him with an Irish silk flag. Mr. Coleman is the popular secretary of the United Irish League, and he intends to carry this banner in a parade celebrating home rule, in the near future.

Leathers Held Meeting
The members of Leathers union held a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting last evening. The meeting was held in Carpenters hall in the Lumbels building. Considerable important business was transacted. Two propositions for membership were received and were laid over for one week. The convention of leathersmen from all parts of New England, which will be held in this city Sunday, will be the main topic for discussion. The convention committee reported that final arrangements had been made and that the convention this year promised to eclipse any convention of leathersmen run previously in this city. President Coutu spoke interestingly on the work that has been entailed in order to make the convention a success and thanked each and every member for his share, saying that they were always "on the spot" when necessity demanded and that they always came out with flying colors.

Workers Share Profits
About 600 employees of the Bourne mill, Fall River, Mass., who have been in the employment of the company for the past six months, received the regular semi-annual dividend at the rate of three per cent in wages paid from the 1st of December, 1913, to the 6th of June, 1914. The amount paid out was about $4000, and each individual received approximately three quarters of one week's salary. This makes the 19th dividend. The organization was established in 1913, and during these many years there was only once that the employees didn't receive the usual dividend, which was in the year 1904. The directors have decided to continue this for another six months.

The Borden Will
The will of the late M. C. D. Borden, the owner of the big Fall River Iron Works mills and the American Printing Co., at Fall River, has been made public. His estate has been equally divided among his three sons.

Mr. Borden provided in his will that his wife, Harriet M. Borden, should have the life use of his estate, and at her death it was to revert to his sons. Mrs. Borden died before her husband. Yale university, of which Mr. Borden was a graduate, was the only other beneficiary in his will. The institution received $25,000. Throughout his lifetime also he was a liberal contributor to Yale. Mr. Borden left a gross estate of personal and real property amounting to $7,532,740.

General Labor Notes
In New Jersey all state employees properly come under the provisions of the compensation law, including chauffeurs.

The farmer does not come under the Illinois workmen's compensation act, according to a decision of the state industrial board.

The California supreme court has upheld a law fixing the interest built at 2 per cent a month in that state. The decision is a blow to chattel loan agents.

A profit of $10,000,000 was made during the last twelve months by the 140 co-operative societies comprising the northern section of the British Co-operative union.

Thanks to the textile and clothing workers in New York, the percentage of women among nationalists in the state has risen from 2.52 in 1908 to 11.5 in 1912.

The American Federation of Labor advocates declaring employment of white women or girls in establishments controlled by Chinese or Japanese.

Demand of the employees of the London, England, General Omnibus company include: Abolition of the payment per journey system; $2.40 a day of nine hours for drivers, and $2.91 per day for conductors.

During his two years' stay in New England, Organizer Fay has won more than 10,000 new members for the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America.

Attorney General Cossan has ruled that the Iowa state board of control may send prisoners to work on the public highways of the state without armed guards.

All state and foreign nation commissions to the Panama-Pacific international exposition have awarded contracts for their buildings to firms employing union labor exclusively.

Workmen's compensation, minimum wage law, widows' pensions and fire escapes were among the recommendations urged by State Factory Inspector Mitchell, of Tennessee, in his first annual report to Governor Hooper.

The introduction of modern methods and labor saving machinery into the bakery industry has had the effect of displacing many skilled workmen in the large bakeries throughout the country.

Many of the Hindus who have lost their places in the sawmills of British Columbia owing to whites being employed in their places have made application to be admitted into the United States and many have already crossed the border.

THE WATER SUPPLY FOR TOWNS

Can Be Easily Supplied
by Lowell Water Dept
Says Supt. Thomas

Cost of Connecting No.
Chelmsford and Dra-
cut Navy Yard Light

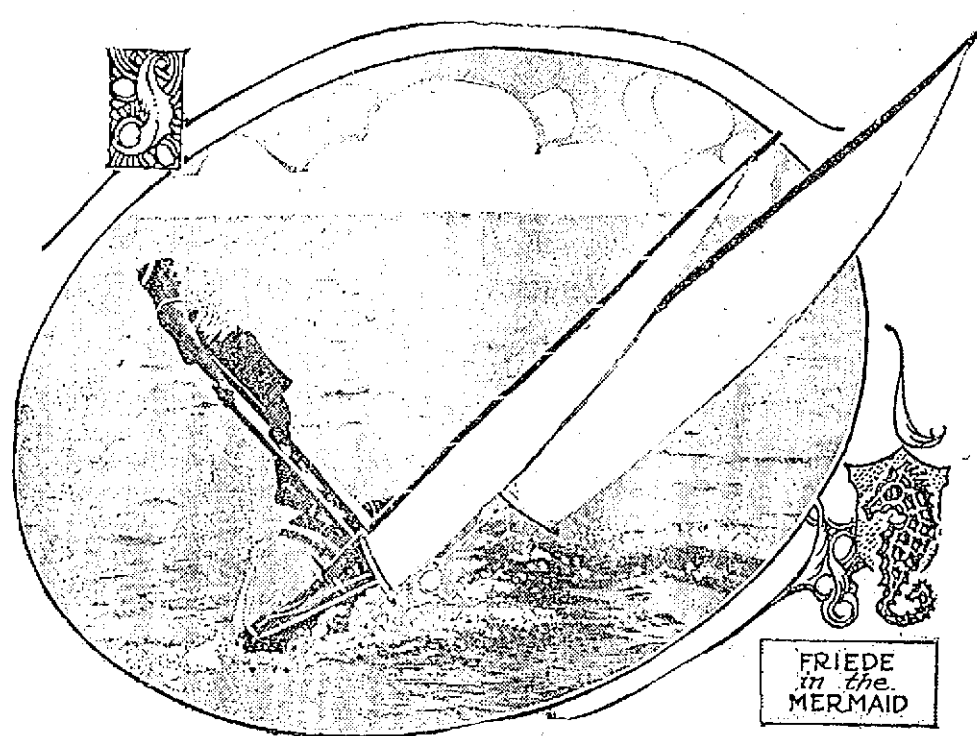

The annexation spirit has caught many residents of the suburban towns, but what seems to puzzle several of the suburbanites is the water question, that is how Lowell would manage to supply the surrounding towns with water without interfering with her own service. But this matter was explained this morning in an interview with Commissioner Carmichael and Supt. Thomas. When asked as to the extension of mains to the neighboring towns, Col. Carmichael allowed that there should be little difficulty but he confessed that he was not an expert on such matters and referred the reporter to Supt. Thomas, who regards the matter as quite practical and even easy. According to Supt. Thomas, Lowell could supply Draeut, North Chelmsford

LEO FRIEDE AND THE MERMAID, PROBABLE DEFENDERS FOR INTERNATIONAL CANOE TROPHY

Leo Friede will again defend the international canoe sailing trophy this year. He was successful last summer and is looked upon as a probable winner when the little boats meet for the final contest. Friede sails the canoe Mermaid and was successful in eliminating J. A. Newman of Boston in the Bug, Wolters of Rochester, N. Y., in the Mad and several other aspirants for the honor.

TO CONSOLIDATE TRUST LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, July 14.—While the senate judiciary and inter-state commerce committees continued their labors today to perfect the administration anti-trust program efforts were being made for joint sessions of the two committees with a view to consolidating all pending trust legislation. Senator Reed of Missouri, who is leading the movement for joint sessions, had prepared a resolution on the subject. He was expected to offer the resolution in the senate today. Sentiment in favor of the proposal was said today to be growing in favor despite the fact that an effort made by the inter-state commerce committee to have the judiciary committee co-operate with it had proven unsuccessful.

and Tewksbury with water without hardly noticing it. Mr. Thomas also gave valuable information concerning the extension of water mains to surrounding towns and he believes it would be a small matter to do the work, especially in North Chelmsford and the parts of Draeut where water systems are already in existence.

To extend the water main to Belle Grove, Mr. Thomas figures it would cost approximately $12,000, that is, $6000 to a mile for an eight-inch main, and inasmuch as the city main goes as far as the corner of First and Simpson streets, there is left a distance of about two miles to cover. These figures include material and labor.

To Draeut Centre and the Navy Yard the cost of supplying water would be very small, inasmuch as those two places have already got water mains and all that would be necessary would be to connect the Lowell mains to the others and send the water through. The city main in Bridge street toward Draeut Centre extends beyond Willard street, this being an eight-inch main, while in Willard street as far as the city line lies a six-inch main. Mr. Thomas believes that the Bridge street main above Sixth street should be enlarged for the city's benefit and this work could be done with the coupling of the city main to the Draeut main.

In the Navy Yard there is also a water system and it would be a very small matter to connect the city main to the Navy Yard pipe. To Collinsville it would require about two miles of piping at about $6000 a mile. A few years ago the total cost of connecting Lowell with Draeut was figured out, and at time, which was before water systems were installed in the town, the approximate cost of the work had been figured at about $20,000, but this would now be reduced much more than half.

North Chelmsford is about in the same situation as Draeut for it has its own water supply and all that would be necessary would be to extend the Princeton street ten-inch main at a very small cost.

Toward Tewksbury the city main extends as far as Spalding park which would mean an extension of the city main of about two miles and a half, and this would take in the Wamesit district. In Rogers street a ten-inch main is laid as far as Phoenix avenue and from there to the city line is an eight-inch main.

WILL OF HENRY BARNES

FILED IN SUFFOLK PROBATE COURT—LOWELL MAN NAMED AS EXECUTOR OF ESTATE

The will of Henry K. Barnes of Boston, who died recently, was filed yesterday in the Suffolk probate court, and Oliver J. Perry of 282 Nesmith street, this city, has been named as executor of the estate. For his services in this capacity, according to the terms of the will, Mr. Perry will receive $15,000.

Mr. Barnes, who was a bachelor, had lived at Young's hotel, Boston, for 49 years, and his private bequests, which amount to $30,950, include many of the employees of that hotel. To his physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, Mr. Barnes left $5000, and to Dr. Cilley's daughter, Dorothy, $3000.

Royal H. Abbott, Charles A. Rideout, Walter M. Ray and Elizabeth E. Ray, clerks in the office of the H. K. Barnes Co., Boston, are given respectively, $5000, $3000 and $2000. Other clerks and former employees are remembered with smaller amounts, and all persons who, on Nov. 22, 1912, were in the employ of the company are to receive $50 each.

The following legacies were given to employees of Young's hotel: Sam (or Sam) Banks, waiter, William Maynor, waiter, and Julius Raddick, $50 each; Eva Day, housekeeper, Margaret Kennison and Grace Myrick, telephone operators, $200 each; Minna Worcester, Edith Leary and Mary Maloney, telephone operators, Elizabeth Toomey and Elizabeth Perry, employed at the news stand, Adalade Breshnan, telegrapher, Leonard W. Cook, William W. Follansbee and C. E. Williams, clerks, George Betts, head waiter, Patrick McMahon, barber, and Catherine Sullivan, night telephone operator, $100 each. Mr. Barnes left $1000 each to the Boston Floating hospital, Children's Mission, to the Children of the Destitute, Newsboys' Reading Room association, and the Salvation Army for charity work in Boston and Salem.

The residue of his estate is divided into seven parts, of which Elizabeth Ray of Hyde Park, Susan Lyon Hunt and Emma Leona Hunt get two parts each, and Margaret C. Colgate the remaining seventh.

INJURED AT CHELMSFORD

ABRAHAM STONE OF TYNGSBORO STRUCK BY B. & M. ENGINE—TOWN NEWS

Abraham Stone, employed by the Boston & Maine railroad as a lamp trimmer in Chelmsford, suffered a painful accident yesterday while at work near the Riverside cemetery in Chelmsford when he was struck by a shifting engine and thrown against a stone wall, sustaining severe bruises to both legs and possible internal injuries. It is said that Mr. Stone became confused when two trains were approaching at the same time and stepped almost directly in front of the shifting engine. He was removed to his home in Tyngham where it was stated he would recover.

David Ingham, carrier on route No. 1, J. F. D., has been elected a delegate to the convention of rural carriers, to be held in Washington, D. C., in August.

The car traffic in Chelmsford Centre was tied up for a short time yesterday forenoon as a result of a load of hay being upset on the car tracks.

HEAT IS QUICK TO AFFECT THE BOWELS

Well-Known Fact That Extreme Heat Conduces to Chronic Constipation

So many people are in the habit of eating cold food in hot weather that constipation is very common during summer. It is best to vary the food and have some hot things, as, for example, soups and hot fish and meats, if that is to be the diet. Food water should be drunk sparingly.

In spite of all care people will become constipated, and if you find yourself in that condition you can get immediate relief by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. There is no time of the year when you should be more careful of constipation than in the summer, for many of the serious illnesses as well as the fatalities result from a clogging up of the bowels. You also need general good health to withstand the heat, and hence Syrup Pepsin is best to take because it contains tonic ingredients that help to build up the entire system.

Numerous users throughout the land will verify these facts, among them Mr. George C. Allen, 48 S. Main st., Reading, Mass., who recovered his health completely after using two bottles; and Miss Anna Schoff, 249 S. Washington st., Baltimore, Md., who uses it for constipation and now has her mother and friends also using it.

They now avoid drastic remedies like cathartics, tablets, purgatives, salt waters, pills and such things. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is mild and pleasant, and children like it. You can obtain it of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a large bottle. Each bottle must do what is claimed or your money will be refunded. Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it, postpaid, by addressing Dr. W. D. Caldwell, 413 Washington st., Naticket, Ill.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Jimmie Gray and Andy Roach may complain about bad weather, poor attendance, etc., but they should worry. They're getting by and their players are getting their salaries and the public is getting a good article of baseball. In the old days it used to be a saying, "There'll last till after the 4th of July." After the Fourth the team that could finish the season was in luck. Twenty-five years ago the Lowell team's trouble began immediately after the Fourth, for just one week after the glorious holiday a change of management came about and for a time it looked as if the team was about to embark for Salt River.

Here's what The Sun of 25 years ago said of the local baseball situation: "Saturday night, Senator Frank W. Howe concluded that he had had all the baseball experience that he could stand, so he dropped the Lowell club with a suddenness that set the whole town by the ears. Players and public were startled and the news was sent over the land that baseball in this town had died a sudden death."

"All day Sunday the reported death of baseball was discussed and many regrets were expressed that the sport must go to the wall. But on Monday there was a rift in the clouds when it was reported that ex-Alderman Peter H. Donohoe and Editor Dennis Sullivan of the News were to take the team in hand and continue it as a member of the Atlantic association."

"Monday evening, Messrs. Donohoe and Sullivan met the players and Senator Howe at the American house and at the end of the conference the franchise, contracts, grandstands, bleachers, uniforms, pennants, etc., were turned over to the new managers and the players agreed to remain and play out the season. Every lover of baseball received this news with a whoop and when it was said that games will be played hereafter on the Fair Grounds instead of the Riverside grounds there was more joy than ever before. Plans for baseball on the Fair Grounds under new management were gotten under way at once. Manager Czeskove retired from the management of the old club and Captain Nate M. Kellogg was appointed captain and manager under the new order of things. Work on a new diamond for the grounds and the work of removing the grandstands, bleachers, etc., was begun immediately after Tuesday's game with New Haven. The Lowell are now away on a ten days' trip and when they return new quarters will be awaiting them at the Fair Grounds. On the new grounds there will be fewer balls knocked over the fence and the players will have a better chance to play the game as it should be played. Lowell people should see to it that the new management receives proper encouragement for their pluck in taking the team as it was about to go under."

It was ever thus in the old days of baseball, in Lowell.

The Sun further says: "The Fair Grounds is the place to see fair playing. No more home runs into River street."

The Riverside grounds were so small that both outside fences were short and any ball that went over the left field fence dropped into the river where the management kept a man in a boat to "snag" after lost balls. When a ball had been recovered from the river and put into play again it was as heavy as lead. If a ball went over the right fence it went into River street, now Lakeview avenue, where an army of kids awaited it and generally it never came back but subsequently did so many times on the sand lots. If it was a particularly high drive it usually dropped into an open window of one of the tenements along the line and again it was gone forever. Sometimes the window would be closed and the ball would crash through a pane of glass. In that event it was always promptly returned by the tenant together with a bill for the broken glass (at the double thick price), and was not given up until the bill was paid. At the Fair Grounds the only chance to put a ball over the fence was by means of a foul over the grandstand into Gorham street. In that case the ball always came back, for the neighbors across from the Fair Grounds had long since ceased to take an interest in the national game or any other for that matter, and remained undisturbed in their narrow tenements, while the foul balls pattered on their turf roofs.

The old Sun says: "Billy Sullivan pitches finely for a time and then has a couple of off days. Thursday was one of his off days. His namesake, Billy, of The Sun, pitches finely six days a week and has an off day every Sunday, but with no rain checks for wet Sundays."

Likewise we told: "Henry Lynch assaulted Cuddy at Worcester, Wednesday, and was arrested for assault. He claimed that Cuddy attempted to interfere with him while running a base. If Cuddy did that it was a shame for it was so seldom that Henry was found guilty of attempting to run a base that he should have been allowed the opportunity without interference. Happily, Cuddy recovered from the effects of the assault and bears no marks of an encounter on his genial countenance today."

Bankers vs. Newspapermen
Says the old Sun: "The Bankers gave the Newspapermen another beating on the Riverside grounds, Wednesday, C. P. Coburn and Charles Mitchell were the battery for the Newspapermen, while Alderman Walter F. Sawyer and Clogston officiated for the Bankers. The two Smiths—Lawrence J. and Joseph—were the umpires. Linton, Chadwick, Crowley, John Sawyer, W. M. Sawyer and Forley did the batting for the Bankers, and Manning, Harrington, Mitchell, Cook and Martin for the Newspapermen. Up to the seventh inning the score was very close but then several errors let the Bankers get in six runs. The final score was 14 to 7."

George Dempsey's Find
Things were coming Geo. C. Dempsey's way as far back as quarter of a century ago, for the Sun of 25 years ago states:

"Mr. George C. Dempsey picked up a pocketbook in Dutton street Tuesday. Opening it he found a bundle of money—$300 in all. The money was dropped by Michael Riley, a Hudson farmer, who nearly fainted when he discovered that his money was gone and he returned to his home thinking that he would never see it again. Mr. Dempsey returned the money and refused to accept anything but Mr. Riley's blessing."

And he's never had a bad day since.

Hope Springs Eternal, etc.
The Sun a quarter of a century ago

had the following editorial:

"Certain Irish-Americans are talking of founding an Irish-Republic in lower California. Wait a while, friends. Some day we will have an Irish republic in Ireland, the proper place for such an institution."

After a quarter of a century of watchful waiting, the home rule bill has just passed the house of commons, and the lords' veto has been voted out, so that all now remaining is the king's signature. Within a quarter of a century one home rule bill was killed in the house of commons while a second got by the lower branch and was killed in the house of lords.

Griffin-Swan Nuptials

The old Sun says: "Mr. Charles Griffin who is established in business here as a wheelwright and Miss Sara Swan, formerly principal of the River Street school, were united in marriage, Tuesday, July 26, 1889, at their future residence in South Walker street, by Rev. Mr. Adams. The newly wedded pair were the best wishes and congratulations of a wide circle of acquaintances, among whom they are deservedly popular. Mr. and Mrs. Griffin will be happy to receive their friends at their new home after August first."

Mrs. Griffin has since become noted as a writer and her recent publication entitled "Quaint Bits of Lowell History," is a charming and interesting little book and just what its title says it is, book and just that its title says it is.

When Boulger Got His "Pull"

While George C. Dempsey was picking up pocketbooks containing fat wads of money, 25 years ago, his present business partner, Patrick Keyes, Jr., was also in the limelight though in a less lucrative way, for Mr. Keyes, we find acting as floor director of a dance at a union outing of Lowell and Lawrence Catholics societies. As this was before the days of the tango and hooch there's no chance for gossip.

The old Sun says: "There were about 200 persons from Lowell and Lawrence at Canobie lake, Thursday. The picnic was held by the Catholic union of Lowell and the Catholic League of Lawrence. Owing to the threatening weather the attendance was not as large as was expected, but those who attended enjoyed themselves. The following clergymen were present: Rev. Fr. McKenna, of Lowell, Rev. Denis Whaley of St. Joseph's church, Boston; Rev. J. J. O'Brien, O. S. A., of St. Mary's church, Lawrence; Rev. T. H. Welch of St. Patrick's, Lawrence; Rev. James McGowan of St. Mary's, Lawrence. In the sports which took place in the morning, Joseph Donohoe, of Lowell won first prize in the dog-sport and jump and James Reynolds of Lawrence, second. Thomas Boulger of this city and J. Sullivan, of Lawrence won the one-mile boat race and P. Sullivan and W. S. Morris of Lawrence, the second prize. P. Keyes, Jr., was floor manager in the dancing section where Nute's orchestra furnished music. The ball game was not played because of the poor weather."

It is certainly interesting to find out what people used to do quarter of a century ago. Who'd imagine that License Commissioner Boulger was ever an oarsman. It must have been those days that he contracted the "pull" that has been a great help to him in later years.

sister, Mrs. Robert Dawson, widow of the late Robert Dawson, left Thursday for a three weeks' pleasure trip. During their travels they will visit New York, Philadelphia and Washington, returning by way of Niagara Falls.

"T. F. Maguire is our old friend, Thomas of The Sun who, like the celebrated watering place that he visited quarter of a century ago, is running yet. In those days Thomas was engaged in the confectionery business in which he developed a sweetness of language and vocabulary that have remained with him these many years. Shortly afterward he entered the employ of The Sun and is still on the job and will be, we hope, "ad multos annos," whatever that is.

"Little Apples on Top"
The Sun of quarter of a century ago hardly let a week go by without an editorial reference to the late "Pa" Jewett, who at that particular time had his eye on the office of Lieutenant governor of this grand old commonwealth. Lowell up to that time had been honored with two governors, Thomas Talbot and Benjamin F. Butler, and if I am not mistaken three Lieutenant governors, Eliza Huntington, John Nesham and Thomas Talbot. Twenty-five years ago, according to The Sun, Lowell had republican candidates for governor and Lieutenant governor as will be seen from the following editorial:

"Ever since the firm of Jewett and Swift was interested in the defeat of Congressman Allen because he voted for the law which placed a tax on oleomargarine, Col. Allen has been wearing a chip up his sleeve for 'Pa' Jewett. With this fact in view it isn't so remarkable that Col. Allen is a candidate for the nomination for governor on the same ticket on which 'Pa' Jewett hopes to pose as a candidate for Lieutenant governor. Col. Allen is an all-round politician and to him revenge is sweet."

If Col. Allen was simply looking for "Pa" Jewett's scalp in 1889 he was successful, for "Pa" did not receive the nomination. But the colonel went down for the gubernatorial nomination in that year as well, so that "Pa" had a little satisfaction out of it anyway. In 1889, John Q. A. Brackett was elected governor over William E. Russell and William H. Hall, Lieutenant governor over John W. Corcoran. The following year William E. Russell defeated Gov. Brackett for a second term, the vote being: Russell 14,597, and Brackett 12,144. Russell proceeded to become a prominent and popular national figure and when it came time for him to run for a second term there was no great desire on the part of any republicans to do battle with him. But after turning down Col. Allen two years previous the republican leaders thought to "square" themselves by according him the doubtful honor of the nomination in a year when it was almost a foregone conclusion that Gov. Russell would be elected. Allen was nominated but afterward was practically left to his own resources by the leaders, who weren't strong on booming lost causes. But if there had been any doubt about Col. Allen's subsequent defeat, before the convention, it was all wiped out in the very convention in which he was nominated, by one speech made by former Gov. John D. Long, who was one of the party's biggest guns in those days. Ex-Gov. Long when called upon was greeted with tremendous applause. With characteristic eloquence he loaded the prizes of the party and its candidate and compared the solidity of the grand old party to the superficial strength, or veneer, of the democracy. Russell was a big man in the papers, etc., but there was nothing in the very convention, said the speaker. The democratic party, he said, reminded him of the trick adopted by the fox farmer to sell his apples. In filling his barrels for market the wily farmer put the big, rosy apples on the top of the barrel and hid the little apples at the bottom so that the purchaser would be fooled. Had he stopped there everything would have been lovely, but John D. was "jest het up" and he continued to say: "But such is not the case with the republican party. It editors no deception to the voters. It puts its 'little apples on top.'"

Col. Allen had just been placed at the top of the state ticket and the democratic papers immediately christened him "Little Apples," and went on to discuss at great length the "fact," as brought out by Gov. Long, that this year the republican party had placed in nomination a weakling, a "little apple," and was reserving its big apples for a year when there was a chance to win. Col. Allen, of course, was defeated but ex-Gov. Long worked nobly to repair the wrong in later years and, judging by the colonel's subsequent career, it did him no harm.

"Little Johnnie" Bourke

Looking just as young as he did 25 years ago, "Little Johnnie" Bourke, one of Lowell's best known hotel clerks of quarter of a century ago, and the organizer of the famous Lowell branch of "Hogans," a jolly crowd of good fellows who held forth years ago, came into town a day or two ago to renew old acquaintances. For the past several years Mr. Bourke has resided with nieces in Salem and had a thrilling experience during the fire. Mr. Bourke's home is in Gardner street only a short distance from the City Orphan asylum in Lafayette street which was reduced to ashes. As the fire approached his home in Gardner street, Johnnie mounted the roof with a garden hose and for hours kept a stream going on the roof while the other members of the family removed the household furniture. Sparks and flying embers without number landed on the roof, but Johnnie was there with the hose and by the best of good fortune the house was saved, although practically all of the neighbors suffered. "It was the hardest day's work I ever did," said Johnnie, "and perhaps I wasn't scorched by the heat."

It's routine work, done on a tremendous scale with great stills, towering agitators, and huge compressors. Yet it is all done as deftly, as delicately, and as surely as the chemist might do it, working alone in his laboratory.

When the process is completed, the finished product, has assumed certain physical properties that are unvarying in every drop of genuine Polarine you buy.

Polarine

These properties are:

Stability: Polarine maintains its lubricating body at high temperatures.

Low Cold Test: Polarine feeds freely down to zero.

Purity: Polarine is an absolutely clean oil. Every particle of free carbon is removed in the course of the refining process.

Lubricating efficiency is merely a matter of getting an oil which has these qualities always and feeding it to your engine in the right amount.

BRIGHT BUSINESS OUTLOOK

The financial journals, business magazines and other interests that make a study of conditions generally throughout the country are emphatically of the opinion that the uncertainty and world-wide stagnation which have created a measure of business depression for some time past are passing and that the country is on the eve of a great business revival. This confident outlook justifies the recent prediction of the president and it seems to be borne out by those signs by which business conditions are generally prognosticated.

In the first place, a recent improvement in the steel industry has made the American public look forward to better times for the steel industry is what the Springfield Union calls "the country's 'barometrical' industry" and most of the "dismal forebodings" in congress and out for some time have been based on the steel outlook. The June report of the United States Steel Corporation shows that for the first time since February the volume of new orders exceeded deliveries last month. The improvement in the condition of steel will set about 25 percent more of the steel-producing machinery in motion. In this one activity tangible improvement is to be expected immediately, and its betterment will have an effect on many other industries.

Even more important than the report of the steel industry is the announcement, made in the government crop report, of a phenomenally great yield of wheat and other crops in proportion. At the same time foreign reports indicate contrary conditions abroad so that this country may look forward to the greatest crops in years and a ready market for our exports in food products. Private reports had already indicated unprecedented crops and now the official government reports show that early predictions were not exaggerated. The farm returns have always had the strongest influence on the general business of the country, giving an immediate impetus to the financial markets. The government, anticipating a shortage in the money supply has announced that it stands ready to help the farmers, and the attention of the public will be centered on this splendid condition to a degree that will offset the temporary unfavorable factors that impede progress.

Though our local mills have taken advantage of the partial depression in the textile industry to announce their mid year vacation, it is very significant that in other parts of the country the usual vacation period has been shortened owing to an increased demand for their products. Stagnation in the textile industry can never be very long, owing to the conditions surrounding the business and it is apparent that the worst is now over, though so far as this is concerned, Lowell has not had much reason to complain.

In practically all other lines of industry a vast improvement may be noted. Bank clearings in June were larger than in the same month in either 1912 or 1913, and the stock market sales reflect optimism. As one contemporary says: "Fundamental conditions are sound, and furnish almost an ideal basis for business expansion. The one great thing needed is more confidence." That confidence will grow may be learned from the attitude of business regarding the conferences which President Wilson has had and will continue to have with the leaders of industry, for it is now evident that the administration will not be other than fair-minded in its dealings with the business problems to come up in the near future. After a long and detailed canvass of business conditions in all parts of the country and after interviewing hundreds of bankers, manufacturers and railroad heads, the New York Times says: "There is apparent, running through the entire mass of reports, a feeling of confidence in the immediate future. This is not the perfunctory optimism that is easily tapped, but rings true and is supported by conditions cited in replies."

GOOD ROADS NEEDED

Even taking into account the adverse factors of recent origin which prevent Commissioner Morse from making some much needed repairs on the principal streets of the city, it must be apparent to the most casual observer that the streets and roads both in this city and in its immediate vicinity stand in need of a thorough renewal, for in all parts of Lowell are patches where the surface has worn into great holes, with hardship to motorists and to general traffic. Conditions partly justify the stand taken by the residents of Tewksbury and other neighboring towns who point to our streets and highways when we strive to convince them of the advantages to be derived from annexation with this city. They may well call attention to Rogers street, to Gorham street, to parts of Central street to portions of Pawtucketville, and above all to Westford street, where a decided feeling of protest against municipal conditions exist.

Perhaps the run down condition of the streets may not be due wholly to recent neglect, but it is always the way of people to blame those in charge when conditions are noted.

While Lowell is striving to meet its street and road problems and but with indifferent success, other cities and states are making great strides in the road movement which is now regarded by all communities as a very paying proposition. The commendation for improvements in Braintree following the completion of the new river road is an indication of the progressive spirit that follows good roads everywhere, and if the other arteries of traffic leading into Lowell from all directions were so improved, the city would gain materially in property valuation and higher standards of everything else in proportion. It is a matter for serious reproach that the roads which run through our best park section are notoriously bad, and all motorists know that to find good roads they must go well outside the city limits in almost all directions.

Recent reports from Illinois show that the western state is undergoing a perfect fever of road building, over 100,000 miles of roads under state aid and supervision being constructed at the present time. Great sums are being spent in like manner in almost every state in the Union for the value of good streets and highways will not now be denied by students of state and municipal conditions. It is to be hoped that the needs of the public will prevail in this city very soon over every other consideration and that the commissioner in charge of our streets will not allow any other influences to sway him, to the inconvenience of the citizens and to the ultimate disadvantage of the city.

WORCESTER'S WATER PRESSURE

The Worcester Gazette calls editorial attention to possibilities in that city which invite a repetition of the Salem disaster, if a fire should break out in certain sections during a high wind. The evil which is thus emphasized is low water pressure, and there are men in Lowell who assert that in Belvidere and in some other sections, the same might happen in Lowell if a fire gained great headway. It is easy to understand what would have been the consequence in the Highland district had a serious fire started there previous to 1912, and it is to be feared that the citizens of Lowell did not fully appreciate the improvement of that period, which was one of many, although the big water main has not yet been utilized. If this city suffered from a low water pressure in any other section, money should not be spared in attending to it, for with a low water pressure the most efficient fire-fighting force can do but little. It will be a long time before the people of Massachusetts will cease to speak of Salem or to apply its lessons to local needs. The time to profit by the terrible lesson is now while its echoes are still in the air. Lowell, Worcester and all other sister cities must beware of the wooden shingles, hasty construction, run-down tenements in congested areas and the low water pressure which, though mentioned last is the most dangerous of all.

MEAT PRICES

The price of many commodities rises or falls periodically owing to certain contributory conditions, but the price of meat rises and still rises, despite any and all conditions. At first the packers were wont to ascribe rising prices to the shortage in grain and other fodder. Then they attributed it to the falling off in the cattle raising industry. The tariff changes were blamed for some of it. The one important fact to the public is that no influence has tended to lower the price, and there is good ground for supposing that prices are soaring higher and higher because the packers would have it so and are in a position to enforce their demands. When the new meat tariff lowered the bars to beef from Argentina and other foreign points, the American packers

BILE AND BILIOUSNESS

Bile is manufactured in the cells of the liver. It assists digestion and prevents putrefaction in the intestines. Bile is necessary to life but excess of bile is poisonous.

The effects of excessive secretion of bile and failure to eliminate it from the blood, which is also a function of the liver, are white coated or brown-furred tongue, bitter taste in the mouth, indigestion, headache, lack of appetite, constipation and weariness.

This is a condition popularly called biliousness and points directly to the need of something to regulate the liver. For this purpose the claim is made that Pinkettes, the new laxative, are greatly superior to old-fashioned liver medicines which over-stimulate the liver and when their use is stopped, leave the liver more torpid than before. That over-stimulation debilitates the liver is as certain as anything known in the science of medicine. Pinkettes are tiny, sugar-coated pills, dainty to take, easy in action and they do not upset the stomach nor cause griping. Given a thorough trial they really correct chronic constipation.

Your druggist sells Pinkettes or they will be sent postpaid, on receipt of price, 25 cents per bottle, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Send today for booklet and free sample.

promptly got hold of the refrigerator lines and eventually of the supply of meat at the foreign source, and prices went up instead of coming down. At present the crop outlook is unusually bright and there does not seem to be any good reason why meats should become dearer, unless cattle are vanishing as a food product. It is certain that if meat goes much higher, many people will be forced to become vegetarians. In this era of congressional and other governmental investigations, the searchlight should be turned on the Chicago packers so that the people of the country may know if they are being misled justly or unjustly.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE FINDING

Things are certainly breaking darkly for the New Haven railroad. After years of financial embarrassment, persistent hounding by the public, legislative animosity, and state interference it is as roundly scored in the last report of the interstate commerce commission as any public utility could very well be—and survive. With the "confessions" of former President Melton still in the air, the charge is pointedly and deliberately made that the directors wrecked the involved property, robbed the stockholders and brought their railroad to the verge of bankruptcy. Without any palliating circumstance charge after charge is driven home and enough evidence is quoted to show that so far from being wronged in the popular estimate, the

New Haven was treated all too kindly by the New England public. It will be strange indeed if such a sweeping accusation will not be followed by indictments and suits to recover the misused and squandered public funds. The unmitigated condemnation of the government body will go far toward supporting the Massachusetts legislature in its desire to keep the jangled New Haven stock under future state control. Unfortunately the report will not restore the lost prosperity and prestige of the New Haven and it is doubtful if it will have any more direct effect than to give some people a chance to say, "I told you so."

RIOTING BY CAMPERS

If such things as the Sunday riots of campers in Tewksbury continue, the time is not far distant when the uniformed policeman will be one of the regular sights of camp locations. A few years ago a camp was looked upon as a place of legitimate summer enjoyment where all people might lay aside their cares and live close to nature. Today a feeling of suspicion is growing up in the popular mind which threatens to react against camp life in general. This is due to the presence of undesirable people at summer places and it is to the best interests of all summer communities to weed out the licentious and lawless so that decent campers may not suffer for the faults of the few.

WAS BRILLIANT REPORTER
The greatest journalist the world ever knew lived 1500 or more years before the invention of type, according to Rev. Dr. Frank N. Palmer, says the Philadelphia Bulletin.

St. Matthew put his chronicles in 35 chapters; St. Luke used 24 to tell his story; St. John used 21, but St. Mark covered all the details more vividly in 15, and, true to the spirit of action that animates his kind, put a miracle in every chapter.

St. Mark, Dr. Palmer said, was the reporter among the apostles. His viewpoint, his language and his marvelous ability to give action and climax, dash and color in a sentence should be a glowing example to the newspaper writers of this day.

Each of the other apostles speaks of skies that opened. Mark says they were rent asunder. He is the only one among his brethren who stopped dutifully to describe the color of a given scene. In the writings of his fellows it is told that the people went to the sermon on the mount. Mark writes vividly that the people ran.

In writing for the Romans he used colorful allusions and the references to wild beasts to touch their intelligence in sympathetic fashion at every stroke.

TWO NERVOUS WOMEN

Made Well By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I had a severe case of nervous prostration, with palpitation of the heart, constipation, headaches, dizziness, noise in my ears, timid, nervous, restless feelings and sleeplessness."

"I read in the paper where a young woman had been cured of the same troubles by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So I threw away the medicine the doctor left me and began taking the Compound. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to sit up and in a short time I was able to do all my work. Your medicine has proved itself able to do all you say it will and I have recommended it in every household I have visited."—Mrs. MARY JOHNSON, 210 Siegel Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Bad Case.
Ephrata, Pa.—"About a year ago I was down with nervous prostration. I was pale and weak and would have hysterical spells, sick headaches and a bad pain under my shoulder-blade. I was under the care of different doctors but did not improve. I was so weak I could hardly stand long enough to do my dishes."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me well and happy and I have begun to gain in weight and my face looks healthy now."—Mrs. J. W. HORNBERGER, R. No. 3, Ephrata, Pa.

For over thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

Information on foreign educational movements is the belief of the U. S. bureau of education. The bureau acknowledges that it counts on the diplomatic and consular service for a considerable part of the matter on foreign schools it publishes every year for the sake of American school men who cannot go abroad but who need to know what other countries are doing educationally. By special arrangement with the department of state the bureau of education receives all reports forwarded by consuls or other diplomatic agents on educational subjects.—New Bedford Times.

THE THRIFTY FRENCH
Whereas we Americans are universally regarded as the embodiment of prodigality, the French are known as the thriftest people. They have been called the Chinese of the west in this respect. We on this side have passed out of the early stage where the natural effect was seen. From high to low we have become prodigals, with little plan or calculation for the most of us, pursuing wealth and wasting it as we go.—Manchester Leader.

OUTCAST ANIMALS
Paterson is a city of about 130,000 people. At present it has between 1500 and 2000 stray, homeless, uncared for dogs, that is too many. For it must mean that there are three or four times as many more or less of actively spaced dogs as the population of the city. The question of the economic limit of dog population is one that has never been satisfactorily settled, and probably never will be so long as we have plenty of room and plenty of food for the people. But even a few unaccounted for, irresponsible dogs is too many. Paterson has more than a few.—Worcester Gazette.

CITY HOME RULE
So far as possible, municipalities should be encouraged and even required to solve their problems and settle their disputes without depending upon the time and energy of the legislators at the state house. If they will do this they will come to be better governed, and the work of the legislature will be done more satisfactorily and at less expense.—Springfield Union.

LIQUOR AND CRIME
If any set of men know the evils of the use and sale of intoxicating liquors it is men who are in jail or prison for some crime. An examination of upwards of 30,000 people sentenced for crime in Massachusetts during the course of one year, an investigation ordered by the state legislature and conducted by the bureau of statistics, showed that more than 90 out of every hundred were addicted to the use of intoxicating liquor. Our recollection is about 91 per cent.—Fall River News.

The world has seen some remarkable demonstrations of the development of the motor car industry in the past few years, but New York city provides the most striking illustration of how the self-propelled vehicle has

Pitts Auto Supply

Harry Pitts of Pitts' Auto Supply, Hurd street, saw a public need and responded readily and quickly when he decided to be printed and distributed these fire alarm cards which are still in demand. The recent calamities in Salem, Manchester, and other nearby cities, emphasizing the need of preparation and foresight in such disasters, many of which could have been avoided if a little precaution was exercised and a little knowledge used. To battle is the American spirit and it usually means to battle in our own interest. But if we neglect to familiarize ourselves with these cards, which cost us nothing either in money or in inconvenience, it may prove evident that our haste was making waste when a fire comes and destroys the car of a lifetime together with a loss of life. Every member of this community should feel it his duty to get one of these cards which are furnished at Harry Pitts' expense, and a branch of duty and a severe lesson if he neglects to obtain a copy.

At the present writing a great number of people have co-operated with the well known auto supply man and have called for copies of these fire alarm cards; but nevertheless there is still a large number of people to whom these cards might be a great benefit and who have shown apparent indifference to Mr. Pitts' efforts to help them. This apathy is shown by the fact that they have not yet asked for any copies of the card.

In an undertaking such as this distribution is an important factor and it rests in this case with the people themselves to simplify this problem. Already 3,000 cards have been distributed and 3,000 more have been received just now, so don't fail to get one thinking that you will be depriving others. There are 4,000 more cards to come. It is estimated by inquiry that 50 per cent of the people who have come by Pitts did not know where their fire alarm box was and 50 per cent didn't know how to ring in an alarm. Only last week in Boston the ignorance of a person nearly occasioned the death of another in a burning building. The individual thought he was ringing in the alarm when in reality he was only turning the handle back and forth. Don't let such an accident happen in Lowell. Study up your fire alarm card by taking the Pitts' card is veracious, authentic and official for it has the approbation and the endorsement of Chief Saunders, who sent the following letter to Harry Pitts on receipt of a copy from the latter:

City of Lowell, Mass. Department of Water Works and Fire Protection, June 27, 1914.
Mr. Harry Pitts:
Dear Sir: Have just received a copy of your card with directions for operating fire alarm boxes, and other information of value to all property owners. I trust they may be widely distributed and that the people will familiarize themselves with the reading matter, all of which is very essential to know. The recent terrible fire at Salem with its attendant loss of life, is an example of what sometimes happens just through lack of such knowledge. Thinking you are taking the interest to provide these cards, and with the hope that they may be appreciated and made use of, I am,
Very sincerely yours,
E. F. Saunders, Chief.

In speaking about the way the cards are being called for, Harry expressed the delight at the rapidity with which they were going. "This shows," he said, "that I have the approval and the interest of the people in this undertaking." Show your appreciation and approval by getting a fire alarm card and posting it in a conspicuous place.

Peter P. Leabert, an interpreter and real estate dealer, living at 537 Summer street, Lynn, who was arrested in this city Saturday, charged with receiving stolen property in the form of money in the sum of $550, was arraigned in the police court at Lynn yesterday and his case was continued until July 15. J. Joseph O'Connor of Lowell appeared for the government. It is alleged that Joseph Keris of this city stole the sum of $800 and gave Leabert a portion of it to keep for him.

Beer Purchased at Hotel

A bottle of beer, alleged to have been purchased in a local hotel last Sunday, was responsible for a row on a farm in Tyngsboro the same day and as a result an Andrew C. Peterson was brought into court today and fined $20 for assault and battery upon M. Sumner Holbrook, Esq., of Boston and Tyngsboro. Defendant paid his fine.

Mr. Holbrook testified that he practices law in Boston and spends the summer months at his farm in Tyngsboro known generally as the Noyes' farm. He said that Andrew had worked for him for several weeks and last Sunday left the house about noon. During his absence the storm had passed over the town of Tyngsboro and when he strolled unsteadily up to his employer's farm, the latter notified him of the damage and tried to get Andrew interested but the latter refused to listen.

The complainant said that he gave his employee a severe lecture about drinking during working hours and when he, the defendant, turned his back a bottle of beer was plainly displayed. Mr. Holbrook took the bottle from his pocket, and Andrew resented and demanded it back. However, the complainant was very persistent that no employee of his should carry liquor about the premises and he told the man that he would keep it for him and return it later.

Mr. Holbrook told a lengthy story of the affair saying that Andrew insisted upon getting his bottle back and offered to fight many times. Finally, the complainant alleges, Andrew put up both hands and with one stroke hit him in the chest. He said that the defendant wanted his pay and he told him he would get it on Monday, as it was illegal to transact business on Sunday.

Mrs. Holbrook stated that Andrew was intoxicated on Sunday and challenged her husband to fight many times. She did not see any blows exchanged.

When it came the prisoner's turn to testify, he admitted that he drank and that he offered to fight his employer but said that he did not strike him. When asked by the court where he purchased the beer, he answered: "In a hotel about the city."

"I don't know," said the witness. "I had never been in Lowell before in my life, having worked in Boston and Portland, Me."

This flower pointed that the assault might have been a more serious one and imposed a fine of $20.

Drunk on Elder

As a result of complaints made to the local police about young men getting drunk on elder purchased in a variety store conducted by one Max Binder of 43 Coburn street, inspectors Higley and Hession were sent out to investigate and they seized a small bottle of the elder which when analyzed at the state house in Boston contained over seven per cent alcohol. As a result the store proprietor was brought into court charged with unlawfully keeping liquor with intent to sell and he entered a plea of not guilty. The officers testified that they took the pint of elder from a can in the defendant's establishment and, believing it to be extra strong, brought it to Boston, to be analyzed with the above result. Hon. James B. O'Donnell, appearing for the defendant, asked for

Every year in the United States two hundred million dollars worth of property is destroyed by fire. Every day in the United States five hundred and fifty thousand dollars worth of property is destroyed by fire. Fifty per cent of these fires are caused by carelessness. You can do your share to prevent fires by observing the following:

1. Fire alarm boxes are located near your house and place of employment. You should know the location of these boxes. You should know how to ring in a fire alarm. This is the method:
2. In case of a fire go to the box and open the door. On the inside you will find a hook. Pull this hook all the way down once and let go. Opening a door rings a bell but does NOT give the alarm.
3. Listen for the working of the machinery in the box. If you do not hear it pull the hook again. If then there is no sound go to the next nearest box. Repeat the same thing there.
4. Do not touch any other box if you hear the machinery in the first one moving.
5. After giving the alarm remain at the box to direct the firemen to the fire.
6. If you do not understand these directions go to the nearest fire station. The officer in charge will instruct you.

CAUTIONS

Never open the box or touch the hook except in case of fire. Never give an alarm for a fire seen at a distance. Be reasonably sure that there is a fire before giving an alarm.

Be just as cautious when buying your AUTO SUPPLIES as you are of the nearest fire alarm box.

FIRE PREVENTION RULES

1. Be careful in the use of matches. Use only safety matches. Always keep them in metal holders. Don't light them in closets where light dresses or materials are hung. Don't light them near lace curtains. Be careful in lighting swinging gas jets or lamps near curtains.
2. Never use kerosene in starting a fire.
3. Keep all light material, such as cotton, muslin, lace, etc., away from stoves and lighted lamps or gas jets.
4. Never look for a gas leak with a lighted match, candle or lamp. Notify the gas company.
5. Never put hot ashes, oily rags or inflammable waste in wooden boxes or barrels. A metal receptacle should be used.
6. Never allow rubbish, shavings, papers, etc., to accumulate in cellars, on roofs, stairways, halls, fire escapes, etc. If your neighbor allows it, notify the Police or Fire Department.
7. Never use gasoline for cleaning purposes in a closed room. The fumes that gasoline gives off when confined, will take fire from a lighted match, lamp or gas.
8. If a person's clothing catches fire it should immediately lie down and endeavor to smother the fire by rolling in a blanket, rug or any other like thing.
9. In case of fire in an automobile use sand to extinguish it.
10. Learn to use a fire extinguisher. Fire extinguisher heads should be removed and the contents stirred once each year.
11. Learn the use of standpipes and hose.
12. Learn where the exits and fire escapes are in the building in which you live or are employed.
13. Don't throw water pipes with anything aflame. Use hot water only.
14. When a fire starts in a building don't open the doors and windows. Let the Fire Department do that when they arrive.

William Sullivan pleaded guilty to being a vagrant and was ordered committed to the state farm. He appeared, James J. Mahoney, arrested on a capias, was sent to jail for three months and a woman was given the same sentence for drunkenness.

Revere Man Held

John J. Haffan of Revere street, Revere, the young man who was arrested in Boston several weeks ago by Chief Martin Conway on a complaint charging him with breaking entering in the night time and larceny of automobile equipment from the garage of Frank Casey on River street, Billerica, and later was defaulted for jumping his bail, was arrested yesterday on a capias and today his default was removed. Defendant waived examination in the local court and he was held in $500 bail for his appearance in the superior court. It is understood that Haffan has returned the articles stolen.

Michael J. Connors, one of four young men who, it is alleged, were creating a disturbance by fighting in Merrimack square about 5 o'clock this morning, pleaded guilty to drunkenness and his case was continued until tomorrow as his companions were not in condition to appear in court.

Becke Was Promise

James P. Gilbride, who was placed on probation yesterday forenoon on condition that he abstain from using intoxicating liquors, was in again today and was slated for a three-months' sentence to the Lowell jail when he asked for a chance to leave town and upon this promise, his sentence was suspended for six months.

Annually Arrested Again
Thomas F. Donnelly, who has a forgery case pending in the superior court, was arrested last night by Sergeant Patrie while causing a disturbance in a downtown saloon. The arresting officer testified that the defendant was very abusive and was ejected from the saloon for calling the employees and customers hard names. After giving him a severe lecture, Judge Knight told Donnelly to go home and take care of his family, and he was given a suspended sentence to the Massachusetts reformatory.

COAL DEALERS OB DURATE TO PROMOTE NAVIGATION FALL OF BASTILE WAS MOURNED AS DEAD

Refused to Grant Any Concession Conference to Smooth Out Difficulties Over Pending Conservation Legislation

The coal dealers have refused to make any concessions whatever to the striking coal teamsters and helpers. The teamsters made one proposition after another and all were refused. They must return to work tomorrow morning if they would work at all. This was the ultimatum issued by the coal dealers yesterday afternoon after a conference with the strikers in the public reception room at city hall.

The dealers voted unanimously not to make a single concession until the coal year, so-called, starts in April of 1915 and at that time, it was said, some of the demands would be considered.

The teamsters, through their committee, consisting of William Fennell, president; Patrick McFarrell and John McCaffery, appeared before the dealers and submitted their final proposition. They agreed to work on a nine-hour day, and to what will happen tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Conservationists in Congress looked with interest today to the conference which had been arranged to be held at the White House tonight when efforts are to be made to smooth out difficulties over pending conservation legislation. President Wilson, members of the cabinet and members of the house planned to consider the pending Adams general dam bill.

The bill is designed to promote navigation on what are now in the aggregate thousands of miles of shoal streams with possibilities of power development attractive to private capital but practically prohibitive to the government if undertaken to promote navigation only.

The plan is to grant permits, for 50-year periods, for private construction of dams and locks so as to provide heads of water for generation of power and hydro electric power for public use.

Parisians Celebrate—20 Aeroplanes Fly in Perfect Alignment

PARIS, July 14.—Half a million Parisians celebrating the fall of the Bastille were thrilled today at the opening by the president of the republic's annual review of the Paris garrison when 20 military aeroplanes rose at the far end of the Longchamps course and in perfect alignment of four swished at full speed past the presidential stand.

A mighty roar of enthusiastic cheer swept over the ground, and this was kept up as the 50,000 troops, comprising cavalry, artillery, infantry and other branches marched in close order before the reviewing stand.

Another minute of excitement was provided at the close of the review by a charge of 2,000 cuirassiers in bright steel breastplates and brass helmets and waving their swords, who galloped at full speed in a single line to within 50 paces of the president.

Brilliant weather had brought out a large number of distinguished guests. The troops of all the garrisons of the French empire and the military authorities estimated that over four hundred army aeroplanes were on the wing at one time in various parts of the country.

A. Gilbert Sargent of Medford, Caught After Years' Hunt and Held on Bond Theft Charge

BOSTON, July 14.—Gone from his home nearly two months, reported to the Medford police as missing and mourned as dead by his wife and daughter, A. Gilbert Sargent, aged 38, for the past 16 years a resident of Medford, has been under arrest in Philadelphia since June 21, according to the Boston police.

The police say that Sargent, who is well known also in Boston, has been wanted here for the past 12 years. They charge that in 1902 he obtained bonds worth $15,510.42 from N. W. Harris, now of 25 Federal street, by means of a falsified certified check. There are two other smaller larcenies charged against him in this city. He was arrested in Philadelphia on a like charge.

The Medford police also have complaints of other larcenies from Springfield, Lynn, Salem and Kansas City.

CUSHING FOR LIEUT. GOVERNOR

BOSTON, July 14.—Nomination papers to be circulated for Joseph Walker of Brookline as the progressive candidate for governor were asked of the secretary of state yesterday by Nelson Clark of Beverly, a member of the state committee of that party. Mr. Walker has made no announcement of his candidacy. Announcement that he was a candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant-governor was made last night by Grafton D. Cushing, speaker of the house of representatives for the past three years.

TO HELP SALEM UNEMPLOYED

WASHINGTON, July 14.—In response to appeals on behalf of thousands of men and women thrown out of work by the fire at Salem, Mass., Secretary Wilson yesterday telegraphed textile and boot and shoe manufacturers of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia and Maryland asking whether they can give employment to any of these people.

A GANG OF KIDNAPPERS

Stole 150 Children to be Held for Ransom—Have Been at it for Ten Years

NEW YORK, July 14.—Investigation by the grand jury of the operations of a band of kidnapers and blackmailers that has been stealing children for ten years, will begin today under the guidance of Assistant District Attorney Weller.

Mr. Weller says that in the past ten years 150 children have been stolen in New York and held for ransom varying from $500 to $1500, according to the resources of the parents.

It is believed that there will be many indictments. There are ten defendants in one case that will be submitted to the grand jury. These men were held in a jail yesterday by Magistrate McQuade in Jefferson market court. They are accused of kidnaping Frank Lougo, eight-year-old son of Francesco Lougo, baker, at 150 Bleecker street.

Two of the defendants in the case are held for participation in the stealing of Frank at Florio, eight-year-old son of a Harlem grocer. The child was stolen in the summer of 1912, and held until his parents paid $500.

An Unfailing Way to Banish Hairs

(Beauty Notes)

Ugly hairy growths can be removed in the privacy of your own home if you get a small original package of delatone and mix into a paste enough of the powder and water to cover the hairy surface. This should be left on the skin about 3 minutes, then removed and the skin washed and every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm or inconvenience can result from this treatment, but be sure you buy real delatone.

A REFUTATION

In connection with an article on street paving which appeared in the edition of a local Sunday paper of July 12, 1914, a certain part of a paragraph of said story contained a reference to the great trouble which "Fred" Tuttle, the provision dealer, was put to through the hold-up and delay in the finishing of the paving of Davis square, he being forced, according to the story "to cart his produce from the other side of the broad square." This statement, the origination of which I cannot account for, owing to the fact that neither myself nor my employees were approached for any information about the actual expense and trouble which the paving of the street in front of my establishment had brought upon us, places me in a defensive position.

Having no intention of doing anyone a wrong, I wish to disclaim whatever authority for the statement, which the general public may attribute to me.

From the day that the men in the city's employ started working in Davis square all produce coming into or leaving my store has been delivered to within five yards of the door of my market, via Thornhill street.

But forgetting for the moment the "carting of produce" portion of the item, I wish to say that on July 12, 1914, I RECALLED THE PROVISION BUSINESS WHICH UP TO THAT TIME I HAD BEEN CONDUCTED BY FRED TUTTLE, AND I HAVE FROM THAT DAY BEEN THE SOLE OWNER OF THE BUSINESS.

C. I. COLLAMORE IS DEAD

OLDEST FARM MASTER OF MAINE MASONIC GRAND LODGE—WAS PHONE AND TELEGRAPH MGR.

BANGOR, Me., July 14.—Chas. I. Collamore, for nearly 60 years identified with local telegraph and telephone management and a past masonic grand master, died in his home here yesterday in his 74th year.

He was born in Bangor. In 1855 he entered the employ of the Maine Telephone Co., one of the pioneers of the state, using the tape recorder before the days of sound receiving. In 1859 he went to the American Telephone Co. In 1866 to the Western Union and 11 years later to the Mutual Union. With the first introduction of telephones here in 1883, he was employed as manager and remained in that position with the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., when it took over the old company. He was local and district superintendent until 1902, when he was relieved and made district manager of the Bangor office. He held until he was retired on a pension last February.

He was much interested in Masonry, taking 22 degrees, was a past officer of nearly all the local Masonic bodies and was the oldest past master of the Bangor Grand Lodge of Masons and prelate of St. John's commandery, Knights Templars. He was also secretary of Bangor council, Royal Arcanum.

He is survived by his wife, Henrietta M. Collamore, their 51st wedding anniversary being observed July 3, also a son, Charles E. Collamore.

The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon with Masonic honors.

IS NOT ANSWERABLE

THIRD OFFICER OF TEFENSES OF STORSTAD CANNOT BE PUNISHED BY CANADIAN LAW

OTTAWA, July 14.—Because Third Officer Alfred Tefenses of the collier Storstad held a Norwegian navigator's certificate the Canadian parliament, it was announced yesterday, has found itself unable to inflict any punishment upon him as the man held responsible for the Empress of Ireland disaster.

A report is being sent to the Norwegian authorities, however, and the Canadian law will be altered so that in the future officers of foreign vessels engaged in the Canadian trade must have Canadian certificates. It is probable that Tefenses will be prosecuted, as his mistake, the authorities here said, is considered more an error of judgment than a case of criminal negligence.

Capt. Kendall, who commanded the Empress of Ireland, is not likely to go to sea again. It was said here that the Canadian-Pacific officials have given him several months' leave of absence and that later he will be given a shore position, either in Canada or in England.

FUNDS TO MOVE CROPS

THOUSANDS OF NATIONAL BANKS REPLY TO SECRETARY McADOO'S LETTER

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Thousands of national banks have already answered to Secretary McAdoo's letter asking the opinion of bankers throughout the country as to the advisability of lending government funds to banks to move crops.

Many bankers urged the lending of government funds just as was done last year when about $37,000,000 was loaned to banks by the treasury department.

It now seems unlikely that the federal reserve board would be organized immediately and Secretary McAdoo will not have his advice in arranging for crop movement money.

It is now generally believed that Milton C. Elliott, secretary to the organization committee, will be retained by the board as legal adviser. Mr. Elliott has been mentioned as successor to Charles S. Hamlin, an assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of fiscal affairs but his intimate knowledge of the organization of the board is so necessary to its work that he shall continue his association with the new organization.

BEER GOES INTO SEWER

BANGOR DEPUTES DESTROY $2000 IN LIQUORS—ALCOHOL TO BE EXTRACTED FROM MIXTURE

BANGOR, Me., July 14.—Sheriff O'Connell's deputies destroyed about $2000 worth of seized liquors yesterday, including about $500 worth of beer and ale in barrels and bottles which were dumped into the sewer. Eight barrels were filled with a mixture of whiskey, gin, rum, wine and brandy of all grades, from which the alcohol will be extracted for the credit of the county.

PEASANT KILLED SEVEN

ITALIAN DOES WHOLESALE MURDER AND MAKES ESCAPE TO MOUNTAINS

BERGAMO, Italy, July 14.—A peasant of the village of Gamberella Corbelli, Simone Pianella by name, yesterday killed seven persons, presumably to satisfy old hatreds, and then took refuge in the mountains, where carabinieri are hunting him.

Pianella appeared in the neighboring village of San Giovanni Bianco armed with a gun. Coming upon the village physician, Dr. Murali, he shot him dead.

He proceeded to the house of the parish priest, Fr. Palati, burst into a room where the priest was sitting at the bedside of his stepmother, and killed him before the eyes of the sick woman, who is dying from the shock. Pianella's next victim was Signor Giudice, the secretary of the local authorities and he also shot to death Giudice's daughter, Walteria.

On leaving Giudice's house, Pianella proceeded towards the open country and on his way killed two men who were walking along the highway. He killed his last victim by shooting a laborer who was digging in a field.

FOR MURDER OF HUSBAND

BESSIE J. WAKEFIELD PLACED ON TRIAL FOR THE SECOND TIME

NEW HAVEN, July 14.—Bessie J. Wakefield was placed on trial for a second time today under an indictment for murder in the first degree in slaying the death of her husband, William O. Wakefield at Cheshire on June 23, 1903. At the first trial the woman was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged. Upon an appeal the execution was stayed and a new trial was granted on an error. James Plew, who actually killed Wakefield, was convicted of murder in a separate trial and hanged. The state alleged in the first trial of Mrs. Wakefield that the woman was the master mind in the plot to kill Wakefield. She obtained a new trial chiefly upon the contention that evidence was admitted which had to do with Plew's acts.

TO REBUILD THE BRIDGE

YESTER COUNTRY CLUB WILL REPLACE BRIDGE WHEN INSURANCE IS ADJUSTED

It is believed that within a month the Vesper Country club bridge spanning the Merrimack river and Tyngs Island, which was badly damaged by the storm Sunday, will be rebuilt and opened for traffic. The executive board of the club held a meeting at the club house last evening for the purpose of considering plans for the rebuilding of the bridge, but it was deemed advisable to wait until the insurance companies have settled with the club, for the organization carried a $5000 policy on the structure which cost $5000, and it is believed that the club will get almost the full amount.

Yesterday an expert engineer in bridge construction from Boston visited the premises and looked over the bridge with a view to suggesting plans for its reconstruction. As soon as the insurance companies have settled with the club members the bridge will be rebuilt and made stronger than ever.

The committee last night decided to make temporary provision for traffic, and today a float was placed on the main span and a motor car was transported from Tyngsboro, and a motor boat accommodating 30 persons will carry the club members to the island landing them at a similar float at the bathhouse on the creek. The motor boat will make all runs and will be kept in operation until the bridge is reopened to traffic.

THAW CLIMBS MOUNTAIN

FIRST OF PARTY TO REACH TOP OF MT. WASHINGTON AND LIKES THE TRIP

BERLIN, N. H., July 14.—A party made up of Harry K. Thaw, C. B. Stevedore, R. H. Houghton and B. B. Houghton made the trip up Mt. Washington and over the northern peaks of the Presidential range Sunday and yesterday. The party started from Mount Madison house, Gorham, N. H., at 10:15 Sunday morning and went by automobile to Crystal Cascades, 11 miles into the heart of the mountain.

They took the Crystal Cascade trail up the side of Washington, one of the most difficult ascents. Mr. Thaw was the first to arrive on top of Mt. Washington. The party arrived in Gorham about 4 p. m.

Thaw, delighted with the trip, grew more enthusiastic as the journey progressed. He stood the trip wonderfully.

AVERAGE FOR INSANE

Maine State Board of Charities Compares Expenditures With Those of Other States

AUGUSTA, Me., July 14.—The state board of charities and corrections completed yesterday a comparison of the expenditures of Maine for 1913 with those of other New England states. The average appropriation per capita for Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Connecticut for the care of the insane was $2.08. The smallest amount was by Massachusetts, .13, and the largest by New Hampshire, .64, while that of Maine was .455.

Vermont makes no appropriation for the care of the feeble-minded. Connecticut appropriates .931 per capita of population, Maine, .08, Massachusetts, .934 and New Hampshire, .15. Maine has appropriated .011 for its children and Massachusetts .003. The average appropriation for charitable purposes is .573, the highest being in New Hampshire and the lowest in Massachusetts. The average appropriation per capita of population for state correctional institutions for the five states was .71, New Hampshire being the highest and Massachusetts the lowest.

WOMEN COPS IN THEATRES

MAYOR TO GIVE MISS FISHER AND MISS CUTLER AUTHORITY TO ENTER ALL AMUSEMENT PLACES

MARLBORO, July 14.—Miss Elizabeth Fisher, who with Miss Mary E. Cutler was appointed a police officer by Mayor O'Halloran a week ago, qualified last night and was sworn as a member of the police department by City Clerk Peter B. Murphy. Miss Cutler was sworn in last Saturday.

Mayor O'Halloran said last night that he will give them authority to enter all theatres and other places of amusement in the city and he warned that anybody who refused them admittance would have the license revoked.

MILEAGE CONTROVERSY

SENATE INSISTS ON RETAINING PRESENT ALLOWANCE OF 20 CENTS FOR CONGRESSMEN

WASHINGTON, July 14.—With the senate insisting upon retaining the present allowance of 20 cent mileage for congressmen the house was confronted today with a report of disagreement between the two bodies on the executive legislative and judicial appropriation bill. The house conferees had been instructed to insist upon the house provision for five cents a mile. Twenty cent mileage had been in vogue in congress since the early days of the government.

The senators told the house conferees that they never would agree to the proposition to reduce the twenty cent allowance and it was on this fixed determination on the part of the senate which the senate yesterday ratified by a large majority that the house conferees were ready today to present their report of continued disagreement and to ask further instructions from the house.

The big appropriations for general purposes carried in the bill have been held up pending the settlement of the mileage controversy.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Nahantsett grove has been selected by the officers of industry council No. 122, Royal Arcanum, as the spot for the annual picnic of the council which will be held in the near future. The officers held a meeting last night and discussed several matters of importance which will be presented at the regular meeting of the council next Wednesday evening. Remarks were made by James E. Thom, Thomas H. Wilson and Peter Farrington.

DIVISION S. A. O. H.

The regular meeting of Division S. A. O. H. attracted a large number of members of A. O. H. hall last evening. Two candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order and two applications for membership were received. It was reported that the recent anniversary banquet was a great success and the committee submitted its final report. The following members were elected to represent Division S. at the state convention to be held in Worcester: D. F. Reilly, Thomas Dorsey, Michael Byrne and Hugh McGowan.

BUFFALOES

Lowell herd, No. 13, Benevolent Order of Buffaloes, will hold its annual picnic on July 26 and a committee is now at work making arrangements for the affair. At this week's meeting considerable important business was transacted.

GIVEN MILITARY HONORS

BODY OF FIRST AMERICAN OFFICER TO DIE OF DISEASE AT VERA CRUZ ON WAY HOME

VERA CRUZ, Mex., July 14.—The body of the late Capt. Clarence S. Owen, United States Marine corps, the first officer to die here of disease since the American occupation, was started on its homeward voyage to the United States yesterday, on board the battleship Florida. Dysentery was the cause of Capt. Owen's death.

Simple military honors were rendered to the dead marine, but special funeral services were held at the municipal palace under the direction of the Army Masons and the Army and Navy union. Afterward the body, covered with the Stars and Stripes, and several floral pieces was taken on a caisson to the water front, under the escort of a composite detachment of officers and men representing all the marine organizations here. Bands played funeral marches on the way to the quay.

BORN IN PENNSYLVANIA

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Capt. Clarence Senior Owen, whose death was reported from Vera Cruz yesterday, was born in Pennsylvania in 1875, and was appointed to the Marine corps as a second lieutenant in 1902. He was attached to the First Battalion of the Marine corps, which landed at Vera Cruz in April, and since then had been exposed to all the hardships of tropical service in the outposts. The Marines have been the particular sufferers from dysentery and malarial troubles.

BROOKLYN PUTS TO SEA

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—The armored cruiser Brooklyn, which took part in the operations of Cuba in the Spanish-American war, left the Philadelphia navy yard today for Boston, where the old fighter will become a receiving ship. It is the first time in seven years that the Brooklyn has put to sea.

OWNERS OF SKYSCRAPERS

IN CONVENTION AT MILWAUKEE
HORIZONTAL "ELEVATORS" COMING —BUNGALOWS ON ROOFS—

MILWAUKEE, Minn., July 14.—Those who own the buildings in the United States and Canada and the men who manage the buildings for the owners, about 500 altogether, are here today in attendance at the annual four days' convention of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers.

That the skyscraper office building of the near future will contain many new features was the prediction of C. A. Patterson, secretary of the association.

"It will be a matter of a very short time," said Mr. Patterson, "when big office buildings will have 'elevators' running horizontally on different floors. Furthermore, patrons will pay fares to ride on these cars and get transfers from them to the elevators to the horizontal lifts as we get them on street cars now."

"They will pipe pure air into the big city buildings just as they pipe pure water and bungalows built on top of a tall building will house the owners in summer. A building permit for such a bungalow already has been taken out in Chicago."

ARMY CANTINE SCANDAL

ATTY-GEN. DECLARES THERE IS NO EVIDENCE TO JUSTIFY PROSECUTION OF LIPTON

LONDON, July 14.—The attorney-general declared today there was no evidence before him to justify the criminal prosecution of Sir Thomas Lipton in connection with the recent army canteen scandal, for which several army officers and employees of Lipton, Ltd., were convicted on charges of accepting or giving bribes to influence contracts.

Replying to a question by Sir Arthur Markham in the house of commons, the attorney-general said proceedings already had been taken in regard to those against whom evidence existed. No such evidence, however, existed against Sir Thomas Lipton.

Sir Thomas Attacked

At the annual meeting of Lipton, Ltd., today, Sir Thomas was attacked by a number of shareholders.

Sir Thomas in a speech said nobody could attempt to justify the acts of the men who had been implicated in the canteen scandals and nobody declared them more than he did. He declared such steps had been taken as would effectively prevent a recurrence of the scandal.

The meeting concluded with hearty cheers and the expression of wishes for the success of Shamrock IV in its attempt to lift the America's cup.

BIG REUNION OF ELKS

POLITICS BROUGHT INTO 28TH ANNUAL SESSION AT DENVER, COL.

DENVER, Colo., July 14.—Politics was brought into the 28th annual national reunion of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks and the golden jubilee of the Grand Lodge today.

The official session of the grand lodge began its three day secret session. Among other things it will consider charges made by Grand Exalted Ruler Edward Jones in his annual report upon a tendency of some lodges to develop the social or "club" feature of a lodge in the extent in prohibition territories that they have become substitutes for selling liquor.

Five thousand child delinquents have come under guardianship of 308,053 Elks in 901 lodges in 48 states since the Rochester inauguration of the Elks' "big brother" movement in 1912. An appropriation of $30,000 to continue their work, the publication of a periodical upon the movement and incorporation of the "big brother" committee into the grand lodge was urged by that committee in a report to the grand lodge.

WILL CONFIRM JONES

ADMINISTRATION SENATORS REPORT THAT NOMINEE TO BE SERVED BOARD IS ACCEPTABLE

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Administration senators after a canvass reported to the White House that President Wilson's nomination of Thomas D. Jones of Chicago to the federal reserve board would be confirmed by a majority ranging from five to ten.

There were no developments in the nominations of Paul M. Warburg of New York. Indications were that the White House would not begin the fight for his confirmation until after Mr. Jones had been placed.

COTTON CONSUMPTION

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Cotton consumed during the month of June amounted to 435,545 bales exclusive of bales compared with 411,167 in June last year, the census bureau announced today. Consumption for the ten months ending June 30 was 4,715,353 bales, against 4,555,123 last year.

Cotton on hand June 30 in manufacturing establishments was 1,154,467 bales, compared with 1,224,476 a year ago and in independent warehouses 65,455, compared with 66,639 a year ago.

Exports during June were 131,533 bales against 124,921 last year, and for the ten months 1,167,571 against 1,166,685 a year ago.

MUST PROPERLY LABEL JELLY

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Heat fruit jelly must "gel" because of the fruit juice in it and not because gelatin has been added to it, the pure food board announced in a ruling today. Under the decision products thickened by gelatin cannot properly be labeled as fruit jelly but must indicate by its name its true character. The board also ruled today whenever gelatin is added to a natural water the label must state that the water has been artificially treated.

GERMANS TO COMPETE

BERLIN, July 14.—Oscar Kretzner and Otto Froitzheim, the German lawn tennis players, will leave for the United States this week to represent Germany in the preliminaries of the tournament for the Dwight F. Davis international lawn tennis trophy.

FOR FLIGHT ACROSS ATLANTIC

NEW YORK, July 14.—The record made on Saturday last by Rheinhold Boehm at Johannisthal when he remained in the air for 24 hours and 12 minutes and flew a distance of 1350 miles has caused members of the Aero club to feel more confident than ever that Lieut. Porte will accomplish his proposed Atlantic flight in the air boat America. Boehm used an ordinary biplane in his flight, and the fact that it was not equipped for an endurance test is an indication, according to Henry Woodhouse of the Aero club, that the America with her special equipment will be able to carry Lieut. Porte to the Azores without mishap. The route to be followed by Lieut. Porte to the Azores is 1140 miles, or some 210 miles less than the distance covered by Boehm.

STEAMER AND TORPEDO BOAT COLLIDE

MEXICAN SITUATION

tying the United States that he would not sanction any conference with representatives of Huerta to draft peace terms declared that unconditional surrender of the authorities in Mexico was the only thing he would accept. He said he could give ample assurances for the guarantee of life and property.

While Washington officials have indicated they would take no step to interfere with the resolution the constitutionalists have been notified that recognition would not be extended to them if excesses marked their entrance into Mexico City.

One plan suggested for transfer of power to the constitutionalists was the resignation of Huerta or the administration that succeeded him leaving police power over the capital in the hands of local minor authorities. Members of the revolutionary junta in Washington who made the suggestion said that if that course were pursued Carranza could then enter the capital and assume control, avoiding any repetition of the bloodshed that might be implied by acceptance of executive power directly from him or a minister succeeding him.

At Santa Rosalia, a mining port on the outer coast of lower California, the federalists and constitutionalists held a conference yesterday at which it was decided to bury the hatchet and make joint cause with Carranza.

The same proceeding is expected to take place at La Paz, another lower California port while at Guaymas an armistice has been agreed on to expire at midnight July 20.

REPORTS THAT CARRANZA

HAS MOVED HIS CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Reports from consular agents Carranza say that Carranza has moved his provisional capital to Monterey from Saltillo.

HUERTA NOT AMONG

REFUGEES ON LINER

WASHINGTON, July 14.—General Huerta was not among the high official Mexican refugees sailing from Vera Cruz on the liner Espagne, according to early despatches today from General Panstun. The holding of the liner and the hurried repair of the railroad to Mexico City had been taken as an indication that the dictator was ready to flee with Adolf De Lanza, Escobar, Querero Moreno and General Masam, all of his official family, who sailed on the Espagne.

MEXICAN INSURGENTS ARE

SWEEPING PACIFIC COAST

ON BOARD U. S. S. CALIFORNIA

MAZATLAN, July 13, by wireless to San Diego, Cal., July 14.—The insurgents are sweeping the Pacific coast of Mexico. Placations, confiscations, armistice and the exchange of prisoners are everywhere reported to Rear Admiral Howard, commanding the American Pacific fleet and the indications are that within a week the federalists will be in possession of only Mazatlan and Salina Cruz.

AMERICAN ARRESTED

BY CONSTITUTIONALISTS

EL PASO, Texas, July 14.—Manuel Trevino, an American citizen and manager and part owner of the electric light plant at Matamoros, Mexico, has been arrested by constitutionalists, charged with having committed acts against the constitutional cause, according to a despatch from Matamoros.

As a result of Trevino's arrest the electric light plant has been forced to discontinue operation and the town is in darkness. The Matamoros authorities have requested Jess H. Johnson, United States consul, to have appointed another manager for the plant.

TRUCK AND AUTO CRASH

An automobile collision between a delivery truck owned by the Stanley Delivery Co. and a touring car, the property of Charles E. Watt of this city occurred at the corner of Merrimack and Hanover streets this noon, but fortunately no one was injured.

The Stanley car, which was in charge of Abraham Grondin, was being driven out of Hanover street into Merrimack street at a moderate rate of speed, while the touring car was headed up Merrimack street toward Pawtucket street and some of the witnesses of the accident say the motor was going at a high rate of speed. Mr. Watt, who was at the wheel saw a collision was unavoidable when he reached the corner of Hanover street and he quickly steered his car to the left and onto the electric car tracks, just in time to strike the Stanley automobile in the side, breaking the mud guard and the running board. The touring car had both searchlights broken. Both machines were able to continue their journey.

DEATHS

SABOURIN—David E. Sabourin died last night at his home in Perron street, aged 22 years, nine months and three days. He leaves his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. David Sabourin; three sisters, Josephine, Annie and Ethel, and three brothers, Charles, Frank and Leo.

"BILLY" BURKE IS THE CLASS

Lowell Captain Has Been the Mainstay of Local Club

Burke is a Wonderful Fielder and a Great Pinch Hitter

CAPT. "BILLY" BURKE

"Billy" Burke, third baseman and captain of the Lowell club of the New England league, has been the mainstay of the team since the season's inauguration. Although neither his batting nor fielding average is sensational, Burke's ability on the ball field is far above that of a class B performer.

Burke was gotten from the Wichita, Kan. club this year in company with "Pete" Clements, center fielder on last year's championship aggregation. This deal was the greatest haul made in the 1914 season by any New England league manager for in exchange for a fair outfielder Jimmy Gray received the services of two sterling performers.

The local captain is a wizard in the field. At the start of the season he was used at the pivotal position but later on shifted to third. At either job he is easily the class of the circuit.

Possessed of a wonderful arm, a rare judge of ground balls and a wise baseball head Burke has pulled off phenomenal plays this season and has drawn down applause from every grandstand in the league. He is in a class by himself as an infielder.

At the bat Burke is feared by every batter along the circuit. He is especially dangerous in a pinch and has broken up more than one contest with a timely slam to a remote corner of the ball yard. His speed makes him a dangerous man on a bunt ball and he is always trying to outwit the opposing club.

Burke is the fastest man on the path that the Lowell club boasts and that is saying a great deal. He is fast but coupled with this he gets a quick start to the next station and is always playing the pitcher. Beyond dispute "Billy" is the right man at the right place in his position as captain. Although his voice is seldom heard when he does talk there is always something said. It is very likely, in fact practically certain, that the Lowell leader will be seen in a big league uniform next season. As Jesse Burkett once said during a Lowell-Worcester game after Burke had pulled off a wonderful play, "He's too darned good for this league."

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Glendale Juniors are still on the map. They are looking for a couple of good games. Bob Charon is out of the game with a swollen hand, so you'll have a pretty good chance to beat us. We'll take a chance with any team that isn't too big.

The Athletics gave the troquos a trimmin' on the North common last Saturday for the fourth time this year. Four times is a lot to beat one team. The Athletics have won 13 games and only lost three. That's some record, all right, and better than the Lowell team. Heslin was the feature of our game Saturday. He is a great catcher. Barrett played fine for the troquos, but his team ain't as good as us.

The Buffaloes of Lawrence would like a game with any fast Lowell semi-pro team and will play in either city. Full expenses will be expected or given. Josiah Brown is manager of the Buffaloes, and Josiah lives at No. 7 Methuen street, Lawrence.

The D. A. C. team is a fine baseball bunch, and they want to play any 12-year-old team in the city. They want to play on the South common for a quarter ball. Talk up, you guys! What do you say? Our manager is L. Lamoureux, and he sleeps at 1 Dane street.

GARDNER BROOKS

Defeated Jabez White Last Night at Albany in Ten Round Bout

Gardner Brooks, the local 115 pound boxing marvel, last night won decisively from Jabez White of Albany in the most important bout of his career. The bout was a ten round affair and went the distance.

The Lowell boy won all the way and was never in danger at any point. After the first few rounds White knew that he was hopelessly beaten on points and from that time until the final bell the Albany fighter kept trying for a knockout.

Brooks, however, was too shifty for him. The local lad would pepper him with straight lefts and then back out of range so suddenly that "seventeen" times White almost lifted himself off his feet when his swings met nothing but the atmosphere.

It was a battle between a clever boxer and a fighter and the boxer won. Although White is reputed to be a clever man as well as a hard hitter, his style never had a chance last night. Brooks did not receive a hard blow throughout the contest and stepped out of the ring without a mark. His opponent's visage and body, however, gave evidence of the hard mauling he had been subjected to. The Lowell boxer was given an enthusiastic ovation by the fans at the ringside.

STANDS BY CUNNINGHAM

MAYOR GOOD REFUSES TO OUST COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC SAFETY—TELLS MINISTER TO SIT DOWN

CAMBRIDGE, July 14.—After an exciting meeting, during which Mayor Good shook his clenched fist under the nose of Rev. Richard Wright, the mayor yesterday flatly refused to remove Commissioner of Public Safety Henry J. Cunningham from office, and declared that the "fighting committee of 25" who demanded his removal were notorious scoundrels.

Backed up by 20 witnesses the committee held its second conference with the mayor yesterday and turned over to him three bottles of whiskey, alleged to have been purchased in Cambridge drug stores in violation of the law, together with tickets to boxing exhibitions.

Many of the witnesses testified to gambling and illicit Sunday sales, and the entire committee, who were appointed at a mass meeting of citizens about two weeks ago, charged Commissioner Cunningham with neglect of duty.

At the outset of the meeting had feeling developed and Mayor Good threatened at one time to put the entire committee, witnesses and all, out of his office as well as telling them in no uncertain terms that he was conducting the hearing, not the committee.

The opening of the meeting was marked by the clash between Mayor Good and the Rev. Richard Wright, who was conducting the case for the petitioners. Wellman Y. Taylor, an agent of the Watch and Ward society, was testifying to the purchase of tickets to a boxing exhibition held in Cambridge, Dr. Wright was warned by the mayor against promising witnesses.

The witness told of obtaining tickets to the fight and replied to a question of the mayor's that he entered the club room where the bouts were to be staged but left when the crowd "got wise and things got pretty hot."

Here the Rev. Mr. Wright again interrupted and Mayor Good shouted, "You sit down and keep quiet or out you go. When I want you to talk I'll ask you."

Mr. Wright answered, "I will talk. We have our rights. This is a public hearing. I'll not keep quiet. The mayor leaned forward and shaking his clenched fist at the minister cried, "You'll have to keep quiet or out you go and your whole bunch with you."

Further evidence was introduced by operatives of a detective agency who testified to the purchasing of tickets for boxing exhibitions held in a Cambridge club and of which they are not members.

Henry J. Dow and August R. Strong testified to the illicit purchase of liquor. They told of trying seven stores and being able to purchase liquor in but one of them. At the close of the hearing the mayor said that he would at once remove the committee from office and after positively declining to remove Commissioner Cunningham said, "I am doing everything I can to do. Can you deny it?"

"You are seeking notoriety," he continued. "If you were serious you would have taken this matter into court. You should be ashamed of yourselves for this."

TWO COTTAGES TO LET, ALL furnished, 10 minutes from Standish's car line. Inquire, Mrs. Watersworth, 517 Lowell road, Methuen, Mass. Tel. 1189-J.

BOARDS HEAD, HAMPTON BEACH, large double house, to let. G. E. Mitchell, 14 Water st., Haverhill, Mass.

Uncertain terms that he was conducting the hearing, not the committee.

The opening of the meeting was marked by the clash between Mayor Good and the Rev. Richard Wright, who was conducting the case for the petitioners. Wellman Y. Taylor, an agent of the Watch and Ward society, was testifying to the purchase of tickets to a boxing exhibition held in Cambridge, Dr. Wright was warned by the mayor against promising witnesses.

The witness told of obtaining tickets to the fight and replied to a question of the mayor's that he entered the club room where the bouts were to be staged but left when the crowd "got wise and things got pretty hot."

Here the Rev. Mr. Wright again interrupted and Mayor Good shouted, "You sit down and keep quiet or out you go. When I want you to talk I'll ask you."

Mr. Wright answered, "I will talk. We have our rights. This is a public hearing. I'll not keep quiet. The mayor leaned forward and shaking his clenched fist at the minister cried, "You'll have to keep quiet or out you go and your whole bunch with you."

Further evidence was introduced by operatives of a detective agency who testified to the purchasing of tickets for boxing exhibitions held in a Cambridge club and of which they are not members.

Henry J. Dow and August R. Strong testified to the illicit purchase of liquor. They told of trying seven stores and being able to purchase liquor in but one of them. At the close of the hearing the mayor said that he would at once remove the committee from office and after positively declining to remove Commissioner Cunningham said, "I am doing everything I can to do. Can you deny it?"

"You are seeking notoriety," he continued. "If you were serious you would have taken this matter into court. You should be ashamed of yourselves for this."

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a mortgage deed given by Patrick P. Mahoney and Mary A. Mahoney to Albert Smithson, dated July 14th, 1913, and recorded in Middlesex County Deeds, Book 305, page 24, and for the purpose of foreclosing said mortgage for breach of the conditions thereof, will be sold at public auction on Thursday, July 16th, 1914, at three o'clock in the afternoon, at the premises hereinafter described, the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, said premises being described as follows: a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon situated in said tract on the northern side of Pleasant street in that part of said tract called the "Navy Yard" containing nine thousand two hundred and forty-three and 25/100 (9243.25) square feet, more or less and thus bounded and described: beginning at a point on the northerly side of said Pleasant street at the southeasterly corner of the southwesterly corner of land now or formerly of one Clark; thence running westerly along the northerly side of said Pleasant street six (6) feet to a point in the middle of a passageway eighteen (18) feet wide, which passageway as delineated on the plan of the premises mentioned is to be kept open for the benefit of said Clark; thence northerly along the middle of said passageway at an angle of 60 degrees to a point on the northerly side of said Pleasant street, eighty-two and 2/100 (82.2) feet; thence still northerly along the middle of said passageway at an angle of 130 degrees to a point on the northerly side of said Pleasant street, thirty-four and 5/100 (34.5) feet to the end of said passageway; thence westerly along the end of said passageway at an angle of 130 degrees to a point on the northerly side of said Pleasant street, thirty-four and 5/100 (34.5) feet to a stake at the northwesterly corner of said passageway; thence running northerly at an angle of 90 degrees to the stake, seventy-four and 8/100 (74.8) feet to a point in the middle of the wall to land now or formerly of George Hamblett; thence easterly along said wall, fifty-nine and 5/100 (59.5) feet to a drill hole in a rock and in the same corner two feet to said land now or formerly of one Clark; thence southerly along said Clark's line, one hundred and one and 1/100 (101.1) feet to the point of beginning. Being lot marked "A" on a plan of land entered of the Northern District of Middlesex County, Book of Plans 5, Plan 6. Being the same premises conveyed by Albert Smithson to said Patrick P. Mahoney and Mary A. Mahoney, mortgage dated July 14th, 1913, and recorded in said registry. Book 208, page 24.

Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes and legal assessments if any there be, and subject to a prior mortgage, for the sum of one hundred dollars and interest thereon.

The sum of two hundred dollars ($200.00) will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser, at the time and place above specified.

ULSTER DEMONSTRATION

In Celebration of Battle of Boyne Brought no Clash — Counter
Meetings Upheld Home Rule

LONDON, July 14.—The recognition of the danger inherent in the existence of two armed volunteer bodies seems to have imbued Irishmen with a sense of added responsibility and the Battle of the Boyne was commemorated yesterday in Ireland with tremendous enthusiasm. But there was a more noticeable absence of disorder than on past occasions of this kind.

Following the custom a great procession marched from Belfast to Drogheda, where Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, made his now-familiar speech defying the government, either totally to exclude Ulster from Home Rule or come out and fight.

Exclusion "For the Present"

It is looked upon as significant that in interviews recently Sir Edward is quoted as saying that the only condition of peace is the exclusion of Ulster "for the present," while the more remote action of the Ulsterites must, in his opinion, depend on the way the Dublin parliament treated Protestants.

Lord Londonderry at Enniskillen and Walter Hume Long, Unionist member of parliament for Strand, at Garvaghy made speeches in similar vein to other big demonstrations of Ulstermen, but no disorder was re-

Jeer at Each Other

Rival Nationalist and Orange processions at Glendernot reached the stage of jeering at each other and for a few moments it looked like trouble, but the police succeeded in keeping them apart until the danger was over.

One feature of the situation seems

To be that while Sir Edward Carson and the other leaders are using unstrained language, both Ulstermen and Nationalists are showing admirable self-control.

Another feature is that the more defiant the Ulster leaders' speeches become, the more pronounced becomes the feeling among the members of parliament on both sides that a satisfactory compromise will eventually be reached.

Session to Close in August

Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons yesterday that the present session of parliament would come to an end about the close of August, and that the new session would begin in January, which is thought to mean December. Before the present session ends the government will introduce its proposals for the reform of the house of lords.

Under this arrangement, Home Rule and Welsh disestablishment will automatically pass into law by the end of 1 August. Rumors of the early dissolution of parliament continue to float around, but there is nothing to substantiate them.

The house of lords yesterday concluded the report stage of the Home Rule amending bill. An amendment was adopted providing for proportional representation in the elections for the Dublin parliament and several minor amendments were added to the bill.

J. P. MORGAN DENIES STILL ANOTHER OUTRAGE CHARGE OF COMMISSION ON LOWELL TAXPAYERS

Mellen Calls Report "All Politics"
—Counsel for Former President
ment Defending Client's Actions

NEW YORK, July 14.—While J. P. Morgan & Co. refused to discuss the report of the inter-state commerce commission so severely censuring the directors under the administration of Charles S. Mellen for "reckless and profligate" financial operations estimated to have cost stockholders $50,000,000, J. P. Morgan denies the charge that the commission's examiners were not accorded full access to the firm's books bearing on the New Haven.

Correspondence made public at Washington told of Commissioner McChord's directing the chief examiner to cease the work as it was "useless."

Late last night Mr. Morgan issued this brief statement in reply:

"The information with regard to the withdrawal of the inter-state commerce commission's examiners from the examination of the books of our firm is the first intimation that I have had that they have been recalled."

The New Haven situation is now out of the hands of the inter-state commerce commission and what action, if any, is taken on the recommendations that the directors be prosecuted lies with the department of justice and district attorneys in the states in which the system has been prosecuted. Prosecuting attorneys at New York, Boston, Hartford, New Haven, New London and other points have not yet received copies of the evidence. Dis-

KERIS HELD IN $1000 ON LARCENY CHARGE

Lowell Man Gets Mixed up With
Lynn Man and Implicated in
Theft—Liquor Sold in Lowell
Tyngsboro

Joseph Keris was found guilty of larceny of money in the sum of $500 from John Showken by Judge Enright in police court this forenoon and held in the sum of $1000 for his appearance before the grand jury next September. He did not furnish bail and was committed to the Lowell jail.

John Showken, the complainant, was the first witness and he testified that he resides at 14 Auburn street and is employed in a bobbin shop on Rogers street. He said that he had $225.43 in the Traders National bank and at the time of its failure withdrew about $461. To this amount he added a sum given him by his mother, making in all $500 and placed the bills in a box under his bed.

For several weeks Joseph Keris had been rooming with him and even aided him in securing the money from the bank. On July 3, so the story goes, Showken missed the money and upon investigation learned that Joseph had also disappeared. A search was begun and after visits to Haverhill, Boston and other places the defendant was located in Lynn and brought to this city charged with the theft. He pleaded not guilty when arraigned in court about a week ago but when interviewed by the complainant at the Lowell jail admitted that he took the money and had given $550 to Peter Leshurt, an interpreter in Lynn, to hold for him and had purchased a ticket for the old country and a large amount of clothing. The defendant claims that he gave Leshurt $10 for holding the money.

Sergt. Petrie and Supt. Welch told of interviewing the prisoner and of his admitting that he took the money and they also displayed a number of articles which, it is alleged, Keris bought with the money. Keris did not take the stand but admitted that he took the money and gave the larger part of it to Peter Leshurt of Lynn. The court found probable

LAWRENCE AND LOWELL

The League Leaders Play Jimmy
Gray's Champs at Spalding
Park—O'Brien Plays in Centre
Field in Place of Matthews

Eight out of nine is a pretty big average and the Lawrence club boarded their big auto today feeling that they might just as well stay down river drinking pop and chink up another win for themselves as to come all the way up to Spalding park for a sure win.

"What's the use," said someone as the team scrambled aboard. "Sure we've got the league sign on that Lowell bunch and they haven't got a chance." And so it seems.

The league standings have changed since Lowell last played Louis Pieper's ball losers and Lawrence now is at the head of the procession with Worcester a game and a half in the rear. Just how long they will stay there, of course, we can't tell but Pieper has gotten together a mighty likely looking bunch and they haven't got a chance.

However, the team individually isn't so much superior to our own club, but the machinery appears to be better oiled and runs much smoother. Great credit should be given the Lawrence manager for the manner in which he has brought his club to its present position.

Capt. Bill Luyster brought with him his heaviest war clubs. Although Luyster is a slugger on any field, statistics show that he has everlastingly massaged the pill on the Lowell grounds. For one reason or other Bill generally walks the ball hard and far in his performances at Spalding park. The locals seem to be more shot to pieces than ever now that Matthews has been released. Matty was relied upon in the pinches by his club-mates and this fact is no small factor in a successful ball camp. If Gray cannot find an outfielder that suits his fancy it is possible that "Buck" Weaver may be shifted to the outfield. There are six pitchers now on the Lowell team and this is rather too many for a class B organization.

The news that Wilson, premier batter in this league last season, and a Red Sox recruit on the southern trip, was on his way from Memphis to Lynn, made both Jimmy Gray and Louis Pieper sit up and take notice. With Wilson guarding the initial sack for the Shoemakers, Patsy Flaherty's club won't look so easy to defeat. The Lynn manager expects great things of Wilson.

Jimmy Ring was once more picked for mound duty. Jimmy met defeat at the hands of Pieper's crew last week and was anxious to even things up today. The Brooklyn lad has been saving his arm for just this occasion and the day could not have been better for him. Jimmy always works better in hot weather and it was certainly tropical this afternoon.

"Jimmy" O'Brien, captain of a Holy Cross team last spring and Red Sox recruit, showed up today just before the game and went into centre-field in Matthews' place. O'Brien looked very good in the field during the preliminary practice.

President Reach of the Lowell club injected a lot of ginger into the team when he told the players just before the game that he would make each player a present of $50, providing that they won the pennant. Louis Pieper smiled broadly when he heard of the offer.

Harry Thompson was Pieper's choice for the firing line and Bruggs, Lawrence's reliable backstop, was at the other end of the visiting battery. Thompson has pitched five games against Lowell and won four of them. The Lawrence outplay is generally considered the nemesis of the Lowell club. Mike Doherty was the indicator holder and called Pieposki to the plate at just two minutes after 3 o'clock.

The lineup:

Lowell
Dee, ss
DeGroot, cf
O'Brien, cf
Stimpson, lf
Burke, 3b
Cargio, 2b
Kelly, 1b
Wacob, c
Ring, p

Lawrence
Pieposki, ss
Lynch, cf
Bruggs, c
Thompson, lf
Cargio, 2b
Connelly, cf
O'Connell, 1b
Thompson, p

First Inning
Ring was very wild on the first three deliveries but then struck two through the groove. Pieposki fouled off one and was called out on strikes by Doherty on Ring's next offering. Lynch jockeyed into a fine journey to the first bag after fouling several times. He was out, however, when Wacob threw the ball to Cargio when "Mike" attempted to steal second. Ring fielded Luyster's grounder and the captain of the down-river club was retired at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Dee lifted the ball to right field but Luyster came fast and got under the fly. DeGroot smashed over second into centre-field and a vicious hand clapping greeted the slug. O'Brien snapped a liner at Thompson which the Lawrence pitcher knocked down with one hand. Mahoney ran up and threw O'Brien out at first while DeGroot went to second. Stimpson fouled to Bruggs. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Inning
Bruggs got a lift when Dee failed to field his grounder and made second base when Dee dropped Wacob's throw. Bruggs walked, the last ball being high. Bruggs attempted to steal third but Wacob's throw to Burke, in spite of the high pitch, was perfect and Burke had the ball on Bruggs' several feet from the bag. It was a poor play for Bruggs to make, with nobody down. Mahoney stole second after getting a long lead off first. Mahoney went to third on Connelly's infield out, Dee to Kelly. Mahoney attempted to steal home on Ring's windup but Wacob made an easy putout at the plate. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Mahoney was injured while sliding into the plate and the game was held up for several minutes while Larry's injured limb was decorated under the grandstand. Thompson struck

MURDER OF MRS. BAILEY

DR. CARMAN FIRST WITNESS BEFORE GRAND JURY AT MINEOLA, N. Y.

MINEOLA, N. Y., July 14.—The grand jury today took up the case of Mrs. Florence Carman, charged with the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey, one of her husband's patients, who was shot in his office on the night of June 30.

Dr. Carman was the first witness called. He was on the stand nearly two hours. As he left the grand jury room he refused to say anything about the nature of his testimony, but stated he had not been asked to waive immunity, as had been expected.

District Attorney Smith said he was satisfied with Dr. Carman's story and had changed his mind about asking him to sign a waiver of immunity.

Neither Dr. Carman nor the district attorney would say whether the former had in any important details altered the story which he told at the corner's inquest.

Mrs. Carman Talks
While the grand jury was in session, a statement was given out by Mrs. Carman through her attorney, George Levy. She said in part:

"I ask that judgment be suspended until the entire truth in regard to the murder of poor Mrs. Bailey becomes known. I am satisfied that the truth will come out and when I am free Dr. Carman and myself will never rest until the assassin of Mrs. Bailey is found."

This terrible punishment has been meted out to me for the suspicion I permitted to crowd out the love I hold for my husband. My little baby has been sent to the home of strangers. My mother is lying at the point of death. I am innocent and cannot understand why everything said about me has been so distorted. All I want is fair play.

"Still, comfort is to be gleaned from my present position, for my husband and I love each other more than ever before."

SARGENT SENTENCED

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—After he had been sentenced in the criminal court here today to an imprisonment of not less than six years nor more than eight, on the charge of obtaining bonds valued at $15,000 from a local brokerage firm on a forged check, a man who gave the name of William Nash, admitted that he was A. Gilbert Sargent of Medford, Mass. Sargent endeavored to hide his identity and might have been successful but for J. S. Stevenson, who is connected with a Boston brokerage firm from which Sargent, under the name of Barnett, according to the police, obtained by fraud bonds valued at $5524. Stevenson investigated the case for his firm and learned the real name of the prisoner.

TWO DROWNED AT HAVERHILL

HAVERHILL, July 14.—John H. Murphy, aged 35 years, married, and Joseph Marchukewitz, aged 10 years, were drowned today in Little river here. Murphy was carrying the lad across the stream on his back while bathing and was seized with cramps.

$544.17 FOR SALE

BOSTON, July 14.—Today's subscription to the Salem fire relief fund totalled $9307, according to a statement issued by the treasurer of the relief committee, Gardiner M. Lane. The citizens of Haverhill contributed $1003 and the citizens of Melrose $400. The total of the fund now is $544.17.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE ALUMNI

Will Hold Third Annual Reunion in This City Next Month

First Principal of School Now in Montreal Will Be Special Guest

REV. BRO. CHRYSÉUIL

All arrangements for the third annual reunion of the members of St. Joseph's college alumni, which will be held in this city on Thursday, Aug. 13, are completed and, according to plans, the affair promises to be the best ever. The executive committee is hard at work on the small details that remain to be looked after and nothing is being spared to make the event a notable one in the history of this young but progressive organization. Letters have been received from former masters and teachers of the school as well as former pupils, who are now out of town, regarding their presence at the reunion, and it is believed that at least 50 young men will sit around the festive banquet at the banquet hall of the Alma Mater in Merrimack street. Rev. Bro. Chryseuil, the first principal of the school, who is now stationed at Montreal, Que., is expected in Lowell in a couple of weeks, and as usual he will be accompanied by another former master, Rev. Bro. Priscillanus, a favorite among the older members of the association, who is now master of the Quebec school of the Marist Brothers. It is believed that Rev. Joseph M. Blais, O. M. L. of Plattsburg, and Rev. John Racette, O. M. L. of Bailey Harbor, Wis., two former chaplains of the association, as well as several other clergymen, including Rev. Victor Choquette, pastor of St. Joseph's church, Mabel, and Rev. Edmund Goulet of Mabel, all former pupils of the school, will be in attendance. An invitation has also been sent out to Judge Victor Boire of Plattsburg, who, as it is convenient for him to come, will be one of the principal speakers at the banquet.

DON'T WAIT

PROTECT PANAMA CANAL

FINISHING TOUCHES ON GIANT GUN

CARRIAGE UNDER CONSTRUCTION AT WATERTOWN, MASS.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—When its breech-loading device has been perfected at Watervliet arsenal, the great 16-inch gun, the biggest piece of ordnance in the world, which has just been shipped from Sandy Hook proving grounds, will be virtually ready for service on the Panama canal fortifications.

The carriage for this giant gun is now under construction at the Watertown, Mass., arsenal. This gun, destined to protect the Pacific entrance to the Panama canal, is 50 feet long, weighs 142 tons and fires a projectile about six feet long and weighing a ton, which is discharged by 655 pounds of powder. The gun has a maximum range of from 35 to 23 miles. The elevation permitted by its carriage will enable the gun to fire a projectile about 11 miles across the Pacific ocean. It has sufficient power, theoretically, to pierce two feet of the best armor at the muzzle. At 11 miles the gun is calculated to penetrate any size armor. When the shell leaves a gun it is revolving around its axis at about 400 revolutions per minute and develops a pressure of 38,000 pounds to the square inch.

FELL FROM BALLOON

ITALIAN SOLDIER KILLED AFTER BEING CARRIED UP HANGING TO ROPE OF A DIRIGIBLE

ROME, Italy, July 13.—While test soldiers were holding a dirigible balloon by ropes yesterday a sudden gust of wind from the ground. One of the soldiers let go but the rope was carried up. The crew of the dirigible made every effort to haul him aboard, but he fell 500 feet and was killed.

AMONG THE TOILERS

Quite a party last night in Belvidere.

The Harry Shoe Co. outing is not far away.

John Mangan of the Hamilton Mfg. Co. is back at his work after a short illness.

Hats off to Michael A. Lee, the newly elected business agent of the carpenters.

Great arrangements have been made for the plumbers' outing, which will be held Aug. 1, at Bass Point.

George Kelley of the Kitson Machine shop will be present at the launching of the new battleship, Nevada.

James McLaughlin, employed at the Boot mill, made a grand appearance on his new motorcycle Sunday.

Miss Mary Feehey of the Lowell Textile Co. is planning for a trip to Detroit to take place in the near future.

Joseph Burke, employed at the Stirling mills, will start next Monday on a visit to relatives in Worcester.

The Stirling mills will shut down Saturday morning for two weeks, for the annual vacation period.

Harrison Richards of the Stirling mills will start Saturday for New York city, where he will spend two weeks.

Walter Phelps, the presiding officer of the Machinists union, is one of the most likable men in union circles.

President Anton Bellefeuille of Carpenters union, local 45, is a hard, energetic worker in the interests of the union.

William Hartley and John Mack, employees of the Lowell Bleachery, spend most of their time at the Wameet camp.

Jack Shanley, formerly employed at the Northern Waste Co., has started farming. He intends to sell his products direct to the homes of the people.

Miss Alice Riley, employed at the Whitall Mfg. Co., has returned home after a pleasant two weeks' vacation which was spent at Hampton beach.

Frank Flannery of the Saco-Lowell shops returned to work this morning after spending two weeks at the Glenfield camp on the banks of the Connecticut.

Mr. John Shea, employed at the Appleton mill, has returned from a very pleasant vacation which he spent at Long beach. He has put on a good deal of tan.

Thomas Carville of the Bigelow Carpet Co. has returned from his vacation. He visited Atlantic City, Coney Island and various other points around New York.

The Leather Workers union promises a big surprise in the very near future. Secretary Weston and committee are working hard every night arranging details.

Samuel A. Englehart, formerly of

Cleveland, O., is now overseer of spinning at the Clinton Woolen Co., Clinton, Mass., having been appointed to succeed Claude De Mars, recently resigned.

The employees of the different industries are a much rested looking lot after their ten days' vacation. Tanned and healthy looking, they resumed their work yesterday morning. These vacations do a lot of good.

"Al" Popperell has succeeded P. Carlton Wentworth as direct representative of the Draper Co. in Fall River and New Bedford. Mr. Wentworth in the future will cover all the territory north of Baltimore with the exception of the cities mentioned.

The Machinists union will hold a monster outing in September. At the next meeting, which will be held on Thursday evening, a committee will be appointed to make arrangements which promise to eclipse anything run previously.

Next Saturday promises to be a gala day for the employees of the Mears, Adams and Sons Shoe Co., when they journey to Revere beach for their annual outing. Grand preparations have been made to make the day one long to be remembered.

The Massachusetts state conference of painters, which was held last Sunday in Lynn, was a grand success. According to Mr. George Fifield, the hustling business agent of the local painters, the Lowell union was far ahead of the majority of locals represented. The painters of England, who receive $3 per day and work 44 hours.

Thomas J. Hannon has been selected by the New Bedford branch of the National Association of Engineers as its representative at the annual convention to be held in Milwaukee, the week commencing Sept. 12.

Hannon is well known throughout New England as the master mechanic of the Soule mill, New Bedford.

James Coleman of the American Hide and Leather Co. was agreeably surprised one evening last week when a party of co-workers called at his home and presented him with an Irish silk bag. Mr. Coleman is the popular secretary of the United Irish League, and he intends to carry this banner in a parade celebrating some role, in the near future.

Loomdixers Held Meeting

The members of Loomdixers' union held a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting last evening. The meeting was held in Carpenters' hall in the Bunde building. Considerable important business was transacted. Two propositions for membership were received and were laid over for one week. The convention of loomdixers from all parts of New England, which will be held in this city Sunday, was the main topic for discussion. The convention committee reported that final arrangements had been made and that the convention this year promised to be the most successful yet. Workers Share Profits

About 500 employees of the Bourne mills, Fall River, Mass., who have been in the employment of the company for the past six months, received the regular semi-annual dividend, at the rate of three per cent in wages paid from the 1st of December, 1913, to the 31st of June, 1914. The amount paid out was about $4000, and each individual received approximately three quarters of one week's salary. This makes the 49th dividend. The organization was established in 1859, and during those many years there has been only once that the employees didn't receive the usual dividend, which was in the year 1904. The directors have decided to continue this for another six months.

The Burden Will

The will of the late M. C. D. Burden, the owner of the big Fall River Printing Works and the American Printing Co., at Fall River, has been made public. His estate has been equally divided among his three sons.

Mr. Burden provided in his will that his wife, Harriet M. Burden, should have the life use of his estate, and in her death it was to revert to his sons.

Miss Burden died before her husband. Yale university, of which Mr. Burden was a graduate, was the only other beneficiary in his will. The institution received $250,000. Through his lifetime also he was a liberal contributor to Yale. Mr. Burden left a gross estate of personal and real property amounting to $7,592,743.

General Labor Notes

In New Jersey all state employees properly come under the provisions of the compensation law, including chauffeurs.

The farmer does not come under the new workmen's compensation act, according to a decision of the state industrial board.

The California supreme court has upheld a law fixing the interest limit at 2 per cent a month in that state. The decision is a blow to chattel loan agents.

A profit of $10,000,000 was made during the last twelve months by the 14 co-operative societies comprising the northern section of the British Co-operative union.

Thanks to the textile and clothing workers in New York, the percentage of women among unionists in the state has risen from 2.00 in 1908, to 11.8 in 1913.

The American Federation of Labor advocates debarment employment of white women or girls in establishments controlled by Chinese or Japanese.

Demands of the employees of the London, England, General Omnibus company include: Abolition of the payment per journey system; $2.40 a day of nine hours for drivers, and $2.04 per day for conductors.

During his two years' stay in New England, Organizer Fay has won more than 10,000 new members for the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America.

Attorney General Cosen has ruled that the Iowa state board of control may send prisoners to work on the public highways of the state without armed guards.

All state and foreign nation commissions to the Panama-Pacific International exposition have awarded contracts for their buildings to firms employing union labor exclusively.

Workmen's compensation, minimum wage law, widows' pensions and fire escapes were among the recommendations urged by State Factory Inspector Mitchell, of Tennessee, in his first annual report to Governor Hooper.

The introduction of modern methods and labor saving machinery into the bakery industry has had the effect of displacing many skilled workmen in the large bakeries throughout the country.

Many of the Hindus who have lost their places in the sawmills of British Columbia owing to whiteness, being employed in their places have made application to be admitted into the United States and many have already crossed the border.

THE WATER SUPPLY FOR TOWNS

Can Be Easily Supplied
by Lowell Water Dept
Says Supt. Thomas

Cost of Connecting No.
Chelmsford and Dra-
cut Navy Yard Light

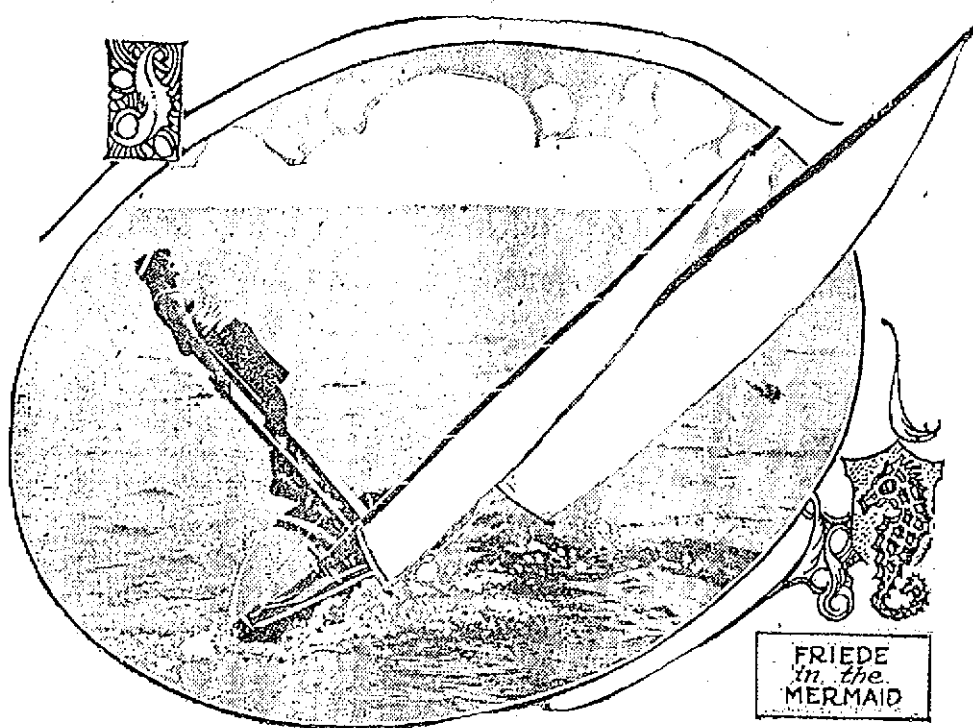

The annexation spirit has caught many residents of the suburban towns, but what seems to puzzle a great deal of the suburbanites is the water question, that is how Lowell would manage to supply the surrounding towns with water without interfering with her own service. But this matter was explained this morning in an interview with Commissioner Carmichael and Supt. Thomas. When asked as to the extension of mains to the neighboring towns, Col. Carmichael allowed that there should be little difficulty but he confessed that he was not an expert on such matters and referred the reporter to Supt. Thomas, who regards the matter as quite practical and even easy. According to Supt. Thomas, Lowell could supply Dra cut, North Chelmsford

LEO FRIEDE AND THE MERMAID, PROBABLE DEFENDERS FOR INTERNATIONAL CANOE TROPHY

Leo Friede will again defend the international canoe sailing trophy this year. He was successful last summer and is looked upon as a probable winner when the little boats meet for the final contest. Friede sails the canoe Mermaid and was successful in eliminating J. A. Newman of Boston in the Bug, Wolters of Rochester, N. Y., in the Mad and several other aspirants for the honor.

TO CONSOLIDATE TRUST LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, July 14.—While the senate judiciary and inter-state commerce committees continued their labors today to perfect the administration anti-trust program efforts were being made for joint sessions of the two committees with a view to consolidating all pending trust legislation. Senator Reed of Missouri, who is leading the movement for joint sessions, had prepared a resolution on the subject. He was expected to offer the resolution in the senate today. Sentiment in favor of the proposal was said today to be growing in favor despite the fact that an effort made by the inter-state commerce committee to have the judiciary committee co-operate with it had proven unsuccessful.

and Tewksbury with water without hardly noticing it. Mr. Thomas also gave valuable information concerning the extension of water mains to surrounding towns and he believes it would be a small matter to do the work, especially in North Chelmsford and the parts of Dra cut where water systems are already in existence.

To extend the water main to Bella Grove, Mr. Thomas figures it would cost approximately $12,000, that is, $6000 to a mile for an eight-inch main, and inasmuch as the city main goes as far as the corner of First and Simpson streets, there is left a distance of about two miles to cover. These figures include material and labor.

To Dra cut Centre and the Navy Yard the cost of supplying water would be very small, inasmuch as these two places have already got water mains and all that would be necessary would be to connect the Lowell mains to the others and send the water through. Dra cut Centre extends beyond Willard street, this being an eight-inch main, while in Willard street as far as the city line lies a six-inch main. Mr. Thomas believes that the Bridge street main above Sixth street should be enlarged for the city's benefit and this work could be done with the coupling of the city main to the Dra cut main. In the Navy Yard there is also a water system and it would be a very small matter to connect the city main to the Navy Yard pipe. To Collinsville it would require about two miles of piping at about $6000 a mile. A few years ago the total cost of connecting Lowell with Dra cut was figured out, and at that time, which was before water systems were installed in the town, the approximate cost of the work had been figured at about $38,000, but this would now be reduced much more than half.

North Chelmsford is about in the same situation as Dra cut for it has its own water supply and all that would be necessary would be to extend the Princeton street ten-inch main at a very small cost.

Toward Tewksbury the city main extends as far as Spalding park which would mean an extension of the city main of about two miles and a half, and this would take in the Wamecet district, in Rogers street a ten-inch main is laid as far as Phoenix avenue and from there to the city line is an eight-inch main.

WILL OF HENRY BARNES

FILED IN SUFFOLK PROBATE COURT—LOWELL MAN NAMED AS EXECUTOR OF ESTATE

The will of Henry K. Barnes of Boston, who died recently, was filed yesterday in the Suffolk probate court, and Oliver H. Perry of 282 Nesmith street, this city, has been named as executor of the estate. For his services in this capacity, according to the terms of the will, Mr. Perry will receive $15,000.

Mr. Barnes, who was a bachelor, had lived at Young's hotel, Boston, for 43 years, and his private bequests, which amount to $30,550, include many of the employees of that hotel. To his physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, Mr. Barnes left $5000, and to Dr. Cilley's daughter, Dorothy, $3000.

Royal H. Abbott, Charles A. Rideout, Walter M. Ray and Elizabeth E. Ray, clerks in the office of the H. K. Barnes Co., Boston, are given respectively, $5000, $3000 and $2000. Other clerks and former employees are remembered with smaller amounts, and all persons who, on Nov. 22, 1911, were in the employ of the company are to receive $50 each.

The following legacies were given to employees of Young's hotel: Sam (or Sim) Banks, waiter, William Mayor, waiter, and Julius Rudick, 150 each; Eva Day, housekeeper, $100 each; Edna Nelson and Grace Myrick, telephone operators, $200 each; Minna Worcester, Edith Leary and Mary Maloney, telephone operators, Elizabeth Toomey and Elizabeth Perry, employed at the news stand, $100 each; Bessie, telegrapher, Leonard W. Cook, William W. Follansbee and C. E. Williams, clerks, George Betts, head waiter, Patrick McMahon, barber, and Catherine Sullivan, night telephone operator, $100 each.

Mr. Barnes left $1000 each to the Boston Floating hospital, Children's Mission, to the Children of the Destitute, Newboys' Reading-Room association, and the Salvation Army for charity work in Boston and Salem.

The residue of his estate is divided into seven parts, of which Elizabeth Ray of Hyde Park, Susan Lyon Hunt and Emma Leona Hunt got two parts each, and Margaret C. Colgate the remaining seventh.

INJURED AT CHELMSFORD

ABRAHAM STONE OF TINGSDORO STRUCK BY D. & M. ENGINE—TOWN NEWS

Abraham Stone, employed by the Boston & Maine railroad as a lamp trimmer in Chelmsford, suffered a painful accident yesterday while at work near the Riverside cemetery in Chelmsford when he was struck by a shifting engine and thrown against a stone wall, sustaining severe bruises to both legs and possible internal injuries. It is said that Mr. Stone became confused when two trains were approaching at the same time and stepped almost directly in front of the shifting engine. He was removed to his home in Tingsboro where it was stated he would recover.

David Ingham, enroute No. 1, R. F. D., has been elected a delegate to the convention of rural carriers, to be held in Washington, D. C., in August.

Car traffic in Chelmsford Centre was tied up for a short time yesterday forenoon as a result of a load of hay being upset on the car tracks.

HEAT IS QUICK TO AFFECT THE BOWELS

Well-Known Fact That Extreme Heat Conduces to Chronic Constipation

So many people are in the habit of eating cold food in hot weather that constipation is very common during summer. It is best to vary the food and have some hot things, as, for example, soups and hot fish and meats. If that is to be the diet, iced water should be drunk sparingly.

In spite of all care people will become constipated, and if you find yourself in that condition you can get immediate relief by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. There is no time of the year when you should be more careful of constipation than in the summer, for many of the serious illnesses as well as the fatalities result from a clogging up of the bowels. You also need general good health to withstand the heat, and hence Syrup Pepsin is best to take because it contains tonic ingredients that help to build up the entire system.

Numerous users throughout the land will verify these facts, among them Mr. George C. Allen, 408 N. Main st., Hingham, Mass., who recovered his health completely after using two bottles; and Miss Anna Schott, 219 S. Washington st., Baltimore, Md., who uses it for constipation and now has her mother and friends also using it.

They now avoid drastic remedies like cathartics, tablets, purgatives, salt waters, pills and such things. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is mild and pleasant, and children like it. You can obtain it of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a large bottle. Each bottle must do what is claimed or your money will be refunded. Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it, postpaid, by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 415 Washington st., Monticello, Ill.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Jimmie Gray and Andy Roach may complain about bad weather, poor attendance, etc., but they should worry. They're getting by and their players are getting their salaries and the public is getting a good article of baseball. In the old days it used to be a saying: "They'll last till after the 4th of July." After the Fourth the team that could finish the season was in luck. Twenty-five years ago the Lowell team's trouble began immediately after the Fourth, for just one week after the glorious holiday a change of management came about and for a time it looked as if the team was about to embark for Salt River.

Here's what The Sun of 25 years ago said of the local baseball situation: Saturday night, Senator Frank W. Howe concluded that he had had all the baseball experience that he could stand, so he dropped the Lowell club with a suddenness that set the whole town by the ears. Players and public were startled and the news was sent over the land that baseball in this town had died a sudden death.

"All day Sunday the reported death of baseball was discussed and many regrets were expressed that the sport must go to the wall. But on Monday there was a rift in the clouds when it was reported that ex-Alderman Peter H. Donohoe and Editor Dennis Sullivan of the News were to take the team in hand and continue it as a member of the Atlantic association.

"Sunday evening Messrs. Donohoe and Sullivan met the players and Senator Howe at the American house and at the end of the conference the franchise, contracts, grandstands, bleachers, uniforms, pennants, etc., were turned over to the new managers and the players agreed to resume and play out the season. Every lover of baseball received this news with a whoop and when it was said that games will be played hereafter on the Fair Grounds instead of the Riverside grounds there was more joy than ever before. Plans for baseball on the Fair Grounds under new management were gotten under way at once. Manager Cosgrove retired from the management of the old club and Captain Nate M. Kellogg was appointed captain and manager under the new order of things. Work on a new diamond for the grounds and the work of removing the grandstands, bleachers, etc., was begun immediately after Tuesday's game with New Haven. The Lowell team are now away on a ten days' trip and when they return new quarters will be awaiting them at the Fair Grounds. On the new grounds there will be fewer balls knocked over the fence and the players will have a better chance to play the game as it should be played. Lowell people should see to it that the new management receives proper encouragement for their pluck in taking the team as it was about to go under."

It was ever thus in the old days of baseball in Lowell.

The Sun further says: "The Fair Grounds is the place to see fair playing. No more home runs into River street."

The Riverside grounds were so small that both outfield fences were short and any ball that went over the left field fence dropped into the river where the management kept a man in a boat to "shag" after lost balls. When a ball had been recovered from the river and put into play again it was as heavy as lead. If a ball went over the right fence it went into River street, now Lakewood avenue, where an army of kids awaited it and generally it never came back but subsequently did yeoman service on the sand lots. If it was a particularly high drive it usually dropped into an open window of one of the tenements along the line and again it was gone forever. Sometimes the window would be closed and the ball would crash through a pane of glass. In that event it was always promptly returned by the tenant together with a bill for the broken glass (at the double thick price), and was not given up until the bill was paid. At the Fair Grounds the only chance to put a ball over the fence was by means of a foul over the grandstand into Gorham street. In that case the ball always came back, for the neighbors across from the Fair Grounds had long since ceased to take an interest in the national game or any other for that matter, and remained undisturbed in their narrow tenements, while the foul balls pattered on their turf roofs.

The old Sun says: "Billy Sullivan pitches finely for a time and then has a couple of off days. Thursday was one of his off days. His namesake, Billy, of The Sun, pitches finely six days a week and has an off day every Sunday, but with no rain checks for wet Sundays.

"Henry Lynch assaulted Cuddy at Worcester, Wednesday, and was arrested for assault. He claimed that Cuddy attempted to interfere with him while running a base. If Cuddy did that it was a shame, as he was so seldom that Henry was found guilty of attempting to run a base that he should have been allowed the opportunity without interference. Happily, Cuddy recovered from the effects of the assault and bears no marks of the encounter on his genial countenance today."

Bankers vs. Newspapers

Says the old Sun: "The Bankers gave the Newspapers another beating on the Riverside grounds, Wednesday. C. F. Coburn and Charles Mitchell were the battery for the Newspapers, while Alderman Waller, Sawyer and Clogston officiated for the Bankers. The two Smiths—Lawrence J. and Joseph—were the umpires. Eaton, Chadwick, Crowley, John Sawyer, W. M. Sawyer and Perley Manning, Harrington, Mitchell, Cook and Martin for the Newspapers. Up to the seventh inning the score was very close but then several errors let the Bankers get in six runs. The final score was 14 to 7."

George Dempsey's Plaid

Things were coming Geo. C. Dempsey's way as far back as quarter of a century ago, for the Sun of 25 years ago states:

"Mr. George C. Dempsey picked up a pocketbook in Dutton street Tuesday. Opening it he found a bundle of money, $50 in all. The money was dropped by Michael Riley, a Hudson farmer who nearly fainted when he discovered that his money was gone and he returned to his home thinking that he would never see it again. Mr. Dempsey returned the money and refused to accept anything but Mr. Riley's blessing."

And he's never had a bad day since.

Hope Springs Eternal, etc.

The Sun a quarter of a century ago

had the following editorial:

"Certain Irish-Americans are talking of founding an Irish-Republic in lower California. Wait a while, friends. Some day we will have an Irish republic in Ireland, the proper place for such an institution."

After quarter of a century of watchful waiting, the home rule bill has just passed the house of commons, and the lords' veto has been wiped out, so that all now remaining is the king's signature. Within quarter of a century one home rule bill was killed in the house of commons while a second got by the lower branch and was killed in the house of lords.

Griffin-Swan Nuptials

The old Sun says: "Mr. Charles Griffin who is established in business here as a wheelwright and Miss Sara Swan, formerly principal of the River Street school, were united in marriage, Tuesday, July 16, 1889, at their future residence in South Walker street, by Rev. Mr. Adair. The newly wedded pair have the best wishes and congratulations of a wide circle of acquaintances, among whom they are deservedly popular. Mr. and Mrs. Griffin will be happy to receive their friends at their new home after August first."

Mrs. Griffin has since become noted as a writer and her recent publication entitled "Quaint Bits of Lowell History," is a charming and interesting little book and just what its title says it is, book and just what its title says it is.

When Boulger Got His "Pul"

While George C. Dempsey was picking up pocketbooks containing fatwads of money, 25 years ago, his present business partner, Patrick Keyes, Jr., was also in the limelight though in a less lucrative way, for Mr. Keyes, we find acting as floor director of a dance at a union outing of Lowell and Lawrence Catholic societies. As this was before the days of the tango and hesitation there's no chance for gossip.

The old Sun says:

"There were about 300 persons from Lowell and Lawrence at Canobie lake, Thursday. The picnic was held by the Catholic union of Lowell and the Catholic League of Lawrence. Owing to the threatening weather the attendance was not as large as was expected, but those who attended enjoyed themselves. The following clergymen were present: Rev. Fr. McKenna, of Lowell; Rev. Denis Wholey of St. Joseph's Church, Boston; Rev. J. J. O'Brien, O. S. A., of St. Mary's church, Lawrence; Rev. T. H. Welch of St. Patrick's, Lawrence; Rev. James McGowan of St. Mary's, Lawrence. In the sports which took place in the morning, Joseph Donohoe, of Lowell won first prize in the hop-step and jump and James R. Koles of Lawrence, second. Thomas Souler of this city and J. Sullivan, of Lawrence won the one-mile boat race and F. Sullivan and W. S. Morris of Lawrence, the second prize. P. Keyes, Jr., was floor manager in the dancing pavilion where Nute's orchestra furnished music. The ball game was not played because of the poor weather."

It is certainly interesting to find out what people used to do quarter of a century ago. Who'd imagine that a Commissioner Boulger was ever an oarsman. It must have been in those days that he contracted the "pul" that has been a great help to him in later years.

Visited Niagara Falls

In its personal column of 25 years ago the old Sun had the following: "T. F. Maguire with his wife and his slater, Mrs. Robert Dawson, widow of the late Robert Dawson, left Thursday for a three weeks' pleasure trip. During their travels they will visit New York, Philadelphia and Washington, returning by way of Niagara Falls."

F. Maguire is our old friend, Thomas of The Sun who, like the celebrated watering place that he visited quarter of a century ago, is running yet. In those days Thomas was engaged in the confectionery business in which he developed a sweetness of manner and vocabulary that have remained with him these many years. Shortly afterward he entered the employ of The Sun and is still on the job and will be, we hope, "ad multos annos," whatever that is.

"Little Apples on Top"

The Sun of quarter of a century ago hardly let a week go by without an editorial reference to the late "Pa" Jewett, who at that particular time had his eye on the office of lieutenant governor of this grand old commonwealth. Lowell up to that time had been honored with two governors, Thomas and Benjamin B. Butler, and if I am not mistaken three lieutenant governors, Elisha Huntington, John Nesmith and Thomas Talbot. Twenty-five years ago, according to The Sun, Lowell had republican candidates both for governor and lieutenant governor as will be seen from the following editorial:

"Ever since the firm of Jewett and Swift was interested in the defeat of Congressman Allen because he voted for the law which placed a tax on oleomargarine Col. Allen has been wearing a club up his sleeve for 'Pa' Jewett. With this fact in view it isn't so remarkable that Col. Allen is a candidate for the nomination for governor on the same ticket on which 'Pa' Jewett hopes to pose as a candidate for lieutenant governor. Col. Allen is an all-round politician and to him revenge is sweet."

If Col. Allen was simply looking for "Pa" Jewett's scalp in 1889 he was successful, for "Pa" did not receive the nomination. But the colonel went down for the gubernatorial nomination in that year as well, so that "Pa" had a little satisfaction out of it anyway. In 1889, John Q. A. Brackett was elected governor over William E. Russell and William H. Little lieutenant governor over John W. Corcoran. The following year William E. Russell defeated Gov. Brackett for a second term, the vote being: Russell 140,507, and Brackett 131,454. Then Russell proceeded to become a prominent and popular national figure and when it came time for him to run for a second term there was no great desire on the part of any republican to do battle with him. But after turning down Col. Allen two years previous the republican leaders thought to "square" themselves by according him the doubtful honor of the nomination in a year when it was almost a foregone conclusion that Gov. Russell would be elected. Allen was nominated but afterward was practically left to his own resources by the leaders, who weren't strong on booming lost causes. But if there had been any doubt about Col. Allen's subsequent defeat, before the convention, it was all wiped out in the very convention in which he was nominated, by one speech made by former Gov. John D. Long, who was one of the party's biggest guns in those days. Ex-Gov. Long when called upon was greeted with tremendous applause. With characteristic eloquence he lauded the praises of the party and its candidate and compared the solidity of the grand old party to the superficial strength, or veneer, of the democracy. Russell was a big man in the papers, etc., but there was nothing in the party behind him, said the speaker. The democratic party, he said, reminded him of the trick adopted by the fox farmer to sell his apples. In filling his barrels for market the wily farmer put the big, rosy apples on the top of the barrel and hid the little apples at the bottom so that the purchaser would be fooled. And he stopped there everything would have been lovely, but John D. was "jest hot up" and he continued to say: "But such is not the case with the republican party. It offers no deception to the voters. It puts its 'little apple' on top."

The Sun of quarter of a century ago hardly let a week go by without an editorial reference to the late "Pa" Jewett, who at that particular time had his eye on the office of lieutenant governor of this grand old commonwealth. Lowell up to that time had been honored with two governors, Thomas and Benjamin B. Butler, and if I am not mistaken three lieutenant governors, Elisha Huntington, John Nesmith and Thomas Talbot. Twenty-five years ago, according to The Sun, Lowell had republican candidates both for governor and lieutenant governor as will be seen from the following editorial:

"Ever since the firm of Jewett and Swift was interested in the defeat of Congressman Allen because he voted for the law which placed a tax on oleomargarine Col. Allen has been wearing a club up his sleeve for 'Pa' Jewett. With this fact in view it isn't so remarkable that Col. ## BRIGHT BUSINESS OUTLOOK

The financial journals, business magazines and other interests that make a study of conditions generally throughout the country are emphatically of the opinion that the uncertainty and world-wide situation which have created a measure of business depression for some time past are passing and that the country is on the eve of a great business revival. This confident outlook justifies the recent prediction of the president and the prediction of the president and the prediction of the president.

In the first place, a recent improvement in the steel industry has had a marked effect on the American public. The steel industry is now producing steel at a rate which is sufficient to meet the demand of the country. The steel industry is now producing steel at a rate which is sufficient to meet the demand of the country.

Even more important than the recovery of the steel industry is the recovery of the cotton industry. The cotton industry is now producing cotton at a rate which is sufficient to meet the demand of the country. The cotton industry is now producing cotton at a rate which is sufficient to meet the demand of the country.

Through our local mills have taken advantage of the partial depression in the textile industry to announce their mid year vacation, it is very significant that in other parts of the country the usual vacation period has been shortened owing to an increased demand for their products.

In practically all other lines of industry a vast improvement may be noted. Bank clearings in June were larger than in the same month in either 1912 or 1913, and the stock market sales reflect optimism. As one contemporary says: "Fundamental conditions are sound, and furnish almost an ideal basis for business expansion. The one great thing needed is more confidence. That confidence will grow may be learned from the attitude of business regarding the conference which President Wilson has had and will continue to have with the leaders of industry, for it is now evident that the administration will not be other than fair-minded in its dealing with the business problems to come up in the near future."

GOOD ROADS NEEDED

Even taking into account the adverse factors of recent years, which prevent consideration from making some much needed repairs on the principal streets of the city, it must be apparent to the most casual observer that the streets and roads both in this city and in its immediate vicinity stand in need of a thorough renewal, for in all parts of Lowell are patches where the surface has worn into great holes, with hardship to automobilists and to general traffic. Conditions partly justify the stand taken by the residents of Tewksbury and other neighboring towns who point to our streets and highways when we strive to convince them of the advantages to be derived from annexation with this city. They may well call attention to Rogers street, to Gorham street, to parts of Central street to portions of Pawtucketville, and above all to Westford street, where a decided feeling of protest against municipal conditions exists.

Perhaps the run down condition of the streets may not be due wholly to recent neglect, but it is always the way of people to blame those in charge when conditions are noted.

While Lowell is striving to meet its street and road problems and but with insufficient success other cities and states are making great strides in the road movement which is now regarded by all communities as a very real and important proposition. The common confidence in the recent following prediction of the president and the prediction of the president and the prediction of the president.

WORCESTER'S WATER PRESSURE

The Worcester Gazette calls editorial attention to possibilities in that city which invite a repetition of the Salem disaster, if a fire should break out in certain sections during a high wind. The evil which is thus emphasized is low water pressure, and there are men in Lowell who assert that in Belvidere and in some other sections, the same might happen. It is easy to understand what would have been the consequence in the Highland district had a serious fire started there previous to 1912, and it is to be feared that the citizens of Lowell did not fully appreciate the improvement of that period, which was one of many, although the big water main has not yet been utilized. If this city suffers from a low water pressure in any other section, money should not be spared in attending to it, for with a low water pressure the most efficient fire-fighting force can do but little. It will be a long time before the people of Massachusetts will cease to speak of Salem or to apply its lessons to local needs. The time to profit by the terrible lesson is now while its echoes are still in the air. Lowell, Worcester and all other sister cities must beware of the wooden shingles, hasty construction, run-down tenements in congested areas and the low water pressure which, though mentioned last is the most dangerous of all.

MEAT PRICES

The price of many commodities rises or falls periodically owing to certain contributory conditions, but the price of meat rises and still rises, despite any and all conditions. At first the packers were wont to ascribe rising prices to the shortage in grain and other fodder. Then they attributed it to the falling off in the cattle raising industry. The tariff changes were blamed for some of it. The one important fact to the public is that no influence has tended to lower the price, and there is good ground for supposing that prices are soaring higher and higher because the packers would have it so and are in a position to enforce their demands. When the new meat tariff lowered the rate to be from Argentina and other foreign points, the American packers

BILE AND BILIOUSNESS

Bile is manufactured in the cells of the liver. It assists digestion and prevents putrefaction in the intestines. Bile is necessary to life but excess of bile is poisonous. The effects of excessive secretion of bile and failure to eliminate it from the blood, which is also a function of the liver, are white-coated or brownish-yellow, bitter taste in the mouth, indigestion, headache, lack of appetite, constipation and weariness. This is a condition popularly called biliousness and points directly to the need of something to regulate the liver. For this purpose the claim is made that Pinkettes, the new laxative, are greatly superior to old-fashioned liver medicines which over-stimulate the liver and, when their use is stopped, leave the liver more torpid than before. That over-stimulation debilitates the liver is as certain as anything known in the science of medicine. Pinkettes are tiny, sugar-coated pills, dainty to take, easy on action and they do not upset the stomach nor cause griping. Given a thorough trial they really correct chronic constipation. Your druggist sells Pinkettes or they will be sent postpaid, on receipt of price, 25 cents per bottle, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Send today for booklet and free sample.

promptly got hold of the refrigerator lines and eventually of the supply of meat at the foreign source, and prices went up instead of coming down. At present the crop outlook is unusually bright and there does not seem to be any good reason why meats should become dearer, unless cattle are vanishing as a food product. It is evident that if meat goes much higher, many people will be forced to become vegetarians. In this era of congressional and other governmental investigations, the searchlight should be turned on the Chicago packers so that the people of the country may know if they are being sold justly or unjustly.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE FINDING

Things are certainly breaking darkly for the New Haven railroad. After years of financial embarrassment, persistent bouding by the public, legislative animosity, and state interference it is as roundly scored in the last report of the interstate commerce commission as any public utility could very well be—and survive. With the "confessions" of former President Mellon still in the air, the charge is pointed out and deliberately made that the directors wrecked the involved property, robbed the stockholders and brought their railroad to the verge of bankruptcy. Without any palliating circumstance charge after charge is driven home and enough evidence is quoted to show that so far from being wronged in the popular estimate, they

New Haven was treated all too kindly by the New England public. It will be strange indeed if such a sweeping accusation will not be followed by indignations and suits to recover the misused and squandered public funds. The unmitigated condemnation of the government body will go far towards supporting the Massachusetts legislature in its desire to keep the jangled New Haven stock under future state control. Unfortunately the report will not restore the lost prosperity and prestige of the New Haven and it is doubtful if it will have any more direct effect than to give some people a chance to say, "I told you so."

RIOTING BY CAMPERS

If such things as the Sunday riots of campers in Tewksbury continue, the time is not far distant when the uniformed policeman will be one of the regular sights of camp locations. A few years ago a camp was looked upon as a place of legitimate summer enjoyment where all people might lay aside their cares and live close to nature. Today a feeling of suspicion is growing up in the popular mind which threatens to react against camp life in general. This is due to the presence of undesirable people at summer places and it is to the best interests of all summer communities to weed out the licentious and lawless so that decent campers may not suffer for the faults of the few.

CAN YOU LOSE A CIRCUS?

A defendant named Jones at Clerkenwell police court yesterday said he went to France and joined a travelling circus. When 300 miles from Paris the circus slipped off and left him. As Mr. Symmons (the magistrate) said: "You can't lose a circus."

WAS BRILLIANT REPORTER

The greatest journalist the world ever knew lived 1300 or more years before the invention of type, according to Rev. Dr. Frank N. Palmer, says the Philadelphia Bulletin. St. Matthew put his chronicles in 28 chapters; St. Luke used 21 to tell his story; St. John used 21, but St. Mark covered all the details more vividly in 16, and, true to the spirit of action that animates his kind, put a miracle in every chapter. St. Mark, Dr. Palmer said, was the reporter among the apostles. His viewpoint, his language and his marvelous ability to give action and climax, dash and color in a sentence should be a glowing example to the newspaper writers of this day. Each of the other apostles speaks of skies that opened. Mark says they were rent asunder. He is the only one among his brethren who stopped dutifully to describe the color of a given scene. In the writings of his fellows it is told that the people went to the sermon on the mount. Mark writes vividly that the people ran. In writing for the Romans he used colorful allusions and the references to wild beasts to touch their intelligence in sympathetic fashion at every stroke.

THIS IS STRAIGHT DOPE

"Let me have hold of that plow," said a father to his boy, who was doing the best he knew to turn a good furrow. "It does not seem to be in you to make a good plowman." Hurt, and his feeling of conscious ability to do things much lessened, the boy walked sadly away to other work, while the father did, it is true, a fine job of plowing. The father had helped the field and hurt the boy.

TWO NERVOUS WOMEN

Made Well By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Philadelphia, Pa.—"I had a severe case of nervous prostration, with palpitation of the heart, constipation, headache, dizziness, noise in my ears, timid, nervous, restless feelings and sleeplessness. I read in the paper where a young woman had been cured of the same troubles by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I threw away the medicine the doctor left me and began taking the Compound. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to sit up and in a short time I was able to do all my work. Your medicine has proved itself able to do all you say it will and I have recommended it in every household I have visited."—Mrs. MARY JOHNSON, 210 Siegel Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Bad Case.

Ephrata, Pa.—"About a year ago I was down with nervous prostration. I was pale and weak and would have hysterical spells, sick headaches and a bad pain under my shoulder-blade. I was under the care of different doctors but did not improve. I was so weak I could hardly stand long enough to do my dishes. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me well and happy and I have begun to gain in weight and my face looks healthy now."—Mrs. J. W. LUNDENBERG, R. No. 3, Ephrata, Pa. For over thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacement, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregular menstruation, etc.

The long tunic is open in the front over a close fitting skirt of the silk.

THE THRIFTY FRENCH

Whereas we Americans are universally regarded as the embodiment of prodigality, the French are known as the frugalists. They have been called the Chiffons of the west in this respect. We on this side have passed out of the early stage where the selfishness of our forefathers incited thrift. When our great country developed, and riches beyond any that history had recorded were produced, the natural effect was seen. From high to low we have become prodigals with little plan or calculation for the most of us, pursuing wealth and wasting it as we go.—Manchester Leader.

OUTCAST ANIMALS

Patterson is a city of about 130,000 people. If at present it has between 1500 and 2000 stray, homeless, uncared for dogs, that is too many. For it must mean that there are three or four times as many more or less effectively sponsored dogs. The question of the economic limit of dog population is one that has never satisfactorily settled, and probably never will be so long as we have plenty of room and plenty of food for the people. But even few uncared for, irresponsible dogs are too many. Patterson has more than a few.—Worcester Gazette.

CITY HOME RULE

So far as possible, municipalities should be encouraged and even required to solve their problems and settle their disputes without drawing upon the time and energy of the legislators at the state house. If they will do this they will come to be better governed, and the work of the legislature will be done more satisfactorily and at less expense.—Springfield Union.

LIQUOR AND CRIME

If any set of men know the evils of the use and sale of intoxicating liquors it is men who are in jail or prison for crime. An examination of upwards of 28,000 people sentenced for crime in Massachusetts during the course of one year. An investigation conducted by the state legislature and conducted by the bureau of statistics, showed that more than 50 out of every hundred were addicted to the use of intoxicating liquor. Our recollection is about 54 per cent.—Fall River News.

HOME RULE BILL AGAIN TODAY'S STOCK MARKET END OF PRESIDENT HUERTA NEAR

LONDON, July 14.—The House of Commons today passed the third reading of the bill to amend the Irish home rule bill and sent it across to the House of Lords for consideration. In its closing stage in the upper house, the Marquis of Crewe, the Liberal leader, took part in the debate on the bill and indirectly promised that the attainment of an agreement in regard to the bill would be the first step towards the solution of the Irish question. The Marquis of Crewe concluded by asking for the exercise of patience and forbearance and firmly hoping for a successful solution.

The Marquis of Lansdowne, the Unionist leader, reiterated that nothing short of the Unionist amendment could avert the civil war that was impending. He said this was his explanation for the demand for the total exclusion of the province of Ulster and he complained that the Government had given the Unionists no assistance whatever in the task of averting civil war. At the suggestion of the Marquis of Crewe, the bill was read a third time without a vote being taken.

the commissioner of water works and fire protection.

Dr. Roderick Mignault had a garage petition before the board. The doctor was present and explained that he had been ordered to make certain changes in his garage and that the necessary changes had been made. His petition was granted.

$9000 for Textile School

The order appropriating $9000 for evening instruction for residents of Lowell at the Lowell Textile school, was adopted.

The petition of H. H. Sumner for a garage was assigned for hearing Aug. 4 at 10 a. m. Many minor petitions for police locations, water attachments, etc., were properly referred.

A bill by Michael J. Maguire for injury to property at 291 Wentworth avenue for water pipe trouble, was referred to the city solicitor, as were claims for personal injuries presented by John Harkins and Joseph C. McCann.

An order having to do with the closing of the streets was adopted. In the beginning of the year it was thought that the assessment for street watering would cover the closing and that no order special would be necessary. John F. Saunders petitioned the municipal council for permission to manufacture sausages. The matter had been referred to the commissioner of public safety and the board of health recommended that the petition be granted and it was so voted.

The petition of U. Lachapelle for permission to erect an illuminated sign at 241 Middlesex street was granted.

Petition to Move Building

The petition of C. E. Fille for permission to move a house from Ford street to Mr. Fille's lot was assigned for hearing at 10 a. m. Commissioner Morse asked if everything had been made satisfactory with the Lowell Electric Light corporation, Ray State Street Railway company and other companies, and Arthur E. No. representative of the petitioners, answered in the affirmative. Mr. Lee of the Ray State Street Railway was present and explained that the removal of the building would affect two feed wires that crossed the street at the intersection of the building while on the steady street bridge would block travel entirely. He did not, however, appear as a remonstrant.

Mayor Murphy read a communication from the park department, submitted forth the number of trees that would be interfered with. None of the trees would have to be removed but a great many branches would have to be cut and it would be necessary, he said, under the order of the park department, for the petitioner to get a permit from the superintendent of parks. On the mayor's suggestion it was voted to give the petitioner a hearing tomorrow morning, with the understanding that the petitioner must get a permit from the superintendent of parks.

James O'Hallahan was interested in the removal of the building inasmuch as he intends to build on the site at present occupied by the building in question.

He asked that action be taken as soon as possible in order that he could get the foundation for a new building under way. It was suggested that it may be possible to remove the buildings in the early morning hours so as not to interfere with street travel.

Transfer Orders Adopted

An order appropriating $200 for the completion of the band stand on the fourth common was read. The scheme for transferring the money from the appropriation for police sanitaries to an appropriation for improvements on the fourth common.

A transfer order having to do with the completion of the addition to the Greenhouse school was also adopted. This transfer was made from the appropriation for police sanitaries to an appropriation for "addition to Greenhouse school."

Order to Borrow $225,000

The mayor then read the following order to borrow $225,000 for a purification plant at the house of the city of Lowell, subject to the approval of the commissioner of finance, and he is hereby authorized and directed to borrow for and in behalf of the city of Lowell on from the treasurer of the commonwealth, the principal sum of $225,000.

Second: That the said sum borrowed hereunder, with interest, shall be paid in 20 equal annual payments, the first payment to be made on the same day of the month in each succeeding year until the full amount of $225,000 with interest is paid.

Third: That the said principal sum of $225,000, so borrowed, and the same is hereby appropriated for the purposes of the construction and establishment of a system and plant for purifying the water supplied to the inhabitants of the city of Lowell by said city.

Fourth: That the payments on this loan, both of principal and interest, as they become due, shall be made from the receipts of, or from the funds

On motion of Commissioner Brown it was voted to lay the order on the table and that a hearing be held one week from today at 8 p. m.

Offing the Boulevard

Commissioner Morse speaking to the question of street closing said that he would the later close the road on the north side of the boulevard. The street department has been grading the road and he said that in order to put it in good shape it would have to be closed. This is the stretch used by the Lowell Driving club and it is about the only stretch of road available for horse racing. Mr. Morse also wanted to call the attention of the board to the approach to the boulevard. An order presented by him was adopted.

Holidays for Police Officers

The next up was a communication from a committee representing the police department and asking for one day off in 15 for police officers and patrolmen without loss of pay and in addition to their annual vacation of two weeks.

Mayor Murphy said he had had the proposition before him for at least four months; that he had gone into the matter very thoroughly and had found that a great majority of the citizens in the commonwealth allow their policemen one day off in 15 in addition to their annual vacation. He said he had talked the matter over with the superintendent of police and the superintendent was very strong in his endorsement of it. The mayor explained that he had made one change in the proposition as submitted by the police, a provision for extra house duty. The proposition is that when four, or five or six officers are having their day off that a like number who had their day off a week previous or thereafter, remain at the station and do house duty. "I considered this necessary in case of emergency," said the mayor and he then called for the vote. Commissioner Carmichael was opposed to the proposition and voted against it. The other four, Mayor Murphy and Commissioners Brown, Donnelly and Morse, voted in favor.

Board of Health Meeting

At a meeting of the board of health, held this forenoon, the petition of Hyacintha Wroblewska for a stable license at 46 Hampshire street was granted, while the petition of Maurice and Annie Stoen for a stable at 13 Railroad street was laid on the table. Frank Roddy of Braintree was granted a swill license.

Grade Crossing Hearing

City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessey and his assistant, Capt. McDonald, went to Boston this morning to attend a hearing in the office of A. W. DeLoach, auditor in grade crossings. The hearing had to do with the petition for the abolition of crossings in this city.

Lowell Missionary Here

Rev. Joseph Charles Ehrhard, O. M. I., a former assistant pastor at St. Joseph's church in Lowell, and now pastor of the Holy Trinity missions, is the guest of the Oblate Fathers of St. Joseph's parish, having come here last week to attend the Oblate chapter held at the Immaculate Conception church.

The reverend gentleman is favorably known in this city where he was stationed several years and during his short stay in the Spindle City he will be pleased to meet his former acquaintances.

Rev. Ehrhard left Lowell in 1909 and went to Duck Creek, Wis., where he remained 18 months, doing mission work. He was then transferred to Ballyva, Harlow, Wis., where he is pastor, having with him Rev. Gustave Berniche, O. M. I., formerly of Lowell, and another brother of Rev. Arthur Berniche, O. M. I., of St. Joseph's.

In conversation with the writer, Rev. Ehrhard said, Rev. Berniche is enjoying the best of health and seems to be pleased with his present location. He spoke in good terms of Rev. L. A. Nolan, O. M. I., now of Lowell, and who for a number of years was stationed at Egg Harbor, Wis., where under his direction a fine granite church was erected. In speaking of Ballyva Harlow, Rev. Ehrhard said that Rev. Berniche takes care of four missions, covering a territory of 360 square miles. He said in summer they travel by automobiles and during the cold weather in horse-drawn vehicles.

The congregation is composed of English, German, French and Poles, and it is often that the same sermon is delivered in three or four different languages. Twice a year a Polish priest pays a visit to the missions in order to hear confessions in his language and conduct retreats.

Speaking of the country including Ballyva Harlow, Green Bay, Egg Harbor and other places, known as Door County of the California of the North, Rev. Ehrhard said: "For the past dozen years the country has been gaining reputation throughout the country for its marvelous crops of cherries and this is merited. The county at present has

LEADERS OPENED LOWER

HEAVY SELLING OF NEW HAVEN

SENT STOCK DOWN—MARKET

CLOSED STRONG

NEW YORK, July 14.—General heaviness prevailed in today's early dealings on the stock exchange. In no instance of importance was the slightest gain over the preceding day's closing quotations recorded, while most of the leaders opened lower. New Haven, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, St. Paul, Norfolk &amp; Western and New York Central declined material fractions. Canadian Pacific lost a point, falling under yesterday's low price and Consolidated Gas lost as much. Partial recovery ensued before the end of the first half-hour, except in New Haven, where selling was resumed.

New Haven was again the feature, declining on heavy dealings to 34 1/4. New York, Westchester & Boston bonds, guaranteed by New Haven, added a point to their 191-2 point loss of yesterday. Selling of New Haven had the marks of a bear raid, but was none the less affected. Many high-grade as well as obscure issues fell under yesterday's prices, but most of the leaders held firm. Canadian Pacific, Wabash preferred, Toledo, St. Louis & Western made new low records. Bonds were irregular.

Support for New Haven produced a rally in which earlier losses were generally recovered. Canadian Pacific, Reading, Lehigh Valley and St. Paul were above yesterday's closing prices while the Goulds and related issues were comparatively strong with gains of 1/4 to 3/8. The market weakened again, however, on selling of Baltimore & Ohio.

The last made speedy recovery from the attack on Baltimore & Ohio and New York Central and continued to harden. New Haven made up more than half its loss and some of the leaders were at best prices, notably St. Paul and Union Pacific and Amal.

After much irregularity, the result in large part of bear selling, today's market made sharp recoveries in the later dealings, many of the leading issues recording material net gains. The closing was strong.

COAL DEALERS OBSTINATE TO PROMOTE NAVIGATION FALL OF BASTILE WAS MOURNED AS DEAD

Refused to Grant Any Concession to Teamsters—Must Return Tomorrow or be Discharged

The coal dealers have refused to make any concessions whatever to the striking coal teamsters and helpers. The teamsters made one proposition after another and all were refused. They must return to work tomorrow morning if they would work at all. This was the ultimatum issued by the coal dealers yesterday afternoon after a conference with the strikers in the public reception room at city hall.

The dealers voted unanimously not to make a single concession until the coal year, so-called, starts in April of 1915 and at that time, it was said, some of the demands would be considered.

The teamsters, through their committee, consisting of William Fennell, president, Patrick McGarrell and John McCarthy, appeared before the dealers and submitted their final proposition. They agreed to waive the demand for a nine-hour day, and

Conference to Smooth Out Difficulties Over Pending Conservation Legislation

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Conservationists in congress looked with interest today to the conference which had been arranged to be held at the White House tonight when efforts are to be made to smooth out difficulties over pending conservation legislation. President Wilson, members of the cabinet and members of the house planned to consider the pending Adamson general dam bill.

The bill is designed to promote navigation on what are now in the aggregate thousands of miles of short streams with possibilities of power development attractive to private capital but practically prohibitive to the government if undertaken to promote navigation only.

The plan is to grant permits, for 50 year periods, for private construction of dams and locks so as to provide heads of water for generation of power and hydro electricity for power purposes for communities needing

Parisians Celebrate—20 Aeroplanes Fly in Perfect Alignment

PARIS, July 14.—Half a million Parisians celebrating the fall of the Bastille were thrilled today at the opening by the president of the republic's annual review of the Paris garrison when 20 military aeroplanes rose at the far end of the Longchamps course and in perfect alignment of four swished at full speed past the presidential stand.

A mighty roar of enthusiastic cheering swept over the ground, and this was kept up as the 30,000 troops, comprising cavalry, artillery, infantry and other branches marched in close order before the reviewing stand.

Another minute of excitement was provided at the close of the review by a charge of 3000 cuirassiers in bright steel breastplates and brass helmets and waving their swords, who galloped at full speed in a single line to within 30 paces of the president.

Brilliant weather had brought out a large number of distinguished guests. The troops of all the garrisons in France also paraded along the military route, and the total of over four hundred army aeroplanes were on the wing at one time in various parts of the country.

A. Gilbert Sargent of Medford, Caught After Years' Hunt and Held on Bond Theft Charge

BOSTON, July 14.—Gone from his home nearly two months, reported to the Medford police as missing and mourned as dead by his wife and daughter, A. Gilbert Sargent, aged 35, for the past 16 years a resident of Medford, has been under arrest in Philadelphia since June 12, according to the Boston police.

The police say that Sargent, who is well known also in Boston, has been wanted here for the past 12 years. They charge that in 1902 he obtained bonds worth $18,540.42 from N. W. Harris, now of 35 Federal street, by means of a falsified certified check. There are two other similar larcenies charged against him in this city. He was arrested in Philadelphia on a like charge.

The Medford police also have complaints of other forgeries from Springfield, Lynn, Salem and Kansas City.

Appeared Daily on Streets

The story of how this man came to business daily in this city and appeared on the streets for 12 years while detectives were searching for him is one of the strangest which has come to light in the annals of the Boston department.

In each case when the alleged larceny was discovered the detective force was furnished with a description of the man who obtained the bonds. Trains were watched, especially trains for New York. Meanwhile the culprit, according to the police, walked leisurely to the North station and took a train home.

The census with which the Boston police charge Sargent, besides the one mentioned above, are larceny of $15,045.75 worth of bonds from G. H. May of 53 State street in 1902; larceny of $30,000.75 in bonds in 1905 from a concern whose name the police have not yet given out; and larceny in August of last year of bonds worth $531.23 from Lee, Higginson & Co. of State street.

Represented Himself as Trustee

Sargent, under the name William H. Nash, was arrested in Philadelphia, June 24, charged with the larceny of bonds worth $15,000 from Barclay, Morrison & Co. of 123 South Broad street, by means of a falsified certified check drawn on the Franklin Trust company of Philadelphia.

It was the day previous, June 23, that

CUSHING FOR LIEUT. GOVERNOR

BOSTON, July 14.—Nomination papers to be circulated for Joseph Walker of Brookline as the progressive candidate for governor were asked of the secretary of state yesterday by Nelson Clark of Beverly, a member of the state committee of that party. Mr. Walker has made no announcement of his candidacy. Announcement that he was a candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant-governor was made last night by Grafton D. Cushing, speaker of the house of representatives for the past three years.

TO HELP SALEM UNEMPLOYED

WASHINGTON, July 14.—In response to appeals on behalf of thousands of men and women thrown out of work by the fire at Salem, Mass., Secretary Wilson yesterday telegraphed textile and boot and shoe manufacturers of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia and Maryland asking whether they can give employment to any of these people.

A GANG OF KIDNAPPERS

Stole 150 Children to be Held for Ransom—Have Been at it for Ten Years

NEW YORK, July 14.—Investigation by the grand jury of the operations of a band of kidnapers and blackmailers that have been stealing children for ten years will begin today under the guidance of Assistant District Attorney Weller.

Mr. Weller says that in the past ten years 150 children have been stolen in New York and held for ransom varying from $500 to $1500, according to the resources of the parents.

It is believed that there will be many indictments. There are ten defendants in one case that will be submitted to the grand jury. These men were held in heavy bail yesterday by Magistrate McGuade in Jefferson market court. They are accused of kidnaping Frank Longo, eight-year-old son of Francesco Longo, baker, at 190 Breckner street.

Two of the defendants in the case are held for participation in the stealing of Frank de Flori, eight-year-old son of a Harlem grocer. The child was stolen in the summer of 1912, and held until his parents paid $500.

An Unfailing Way to Banish Hairs

(Beauty Notes)

Ugly hairy growths can be removed in the privacy of your own home by using a small original package of delicate and mild hair paste enough of the powder and water to cover the hairy surface. This should be left on the skin about 3 minutes, then removed and the skin washed and every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm or inconvenience can result from this treatment, but be sure you buy real delatone.

A REFUTATION

In connection with an article on street paving which appeared in the edition of a local Sunday paper dated July 12, 1914, a certain part of a paragraph of said story contained a reference to the great trouble which "Fred" Tuttle, the provision dealer, was put to through the hold-up and delay in the finishing of the paving of Davis square, he being forced, according to the story, to cart his produce from the other side of the broad square. To this statement, the origination of which I cannot account for, owing to the fact that neither myself nor my employees were approached for any information about the added expense and trouble which the paving of the street in front of my establishment had thrust upon us, please me in a definitely hostile manner.

Having no intention of doing anyone a wrong, I wish to disclaim whatever authority for the statement, which the general public may attribute to me.

From the day that the men in the city's employ started working in Davis square all produce coming into or leaving my store has been delivered to within five yards of the door of my market, via Thorndike street.

But forgetting for the moment the "carting of produce" portion of the item I wish to say that on July 31, 1913, I purchased THE PROVISION BUSINESS WHICH UP TO THAT TIME HAD BEEN CONDUCTED BY FRED TUTTLE, AND I HAVE FROM THAT DAY BEEN THE SOLE OWNER OF THE BUSINESS.

C. I. COLLAMORE IS DEAD

OLDEST PAST MASTER OF MAINE MASONIC GRAND LODGE—WAS PHONE AND TELEGRAPH MGR.

BANGOR, Me., July 14.—Chas. I. Collamore, for nearly 50 years identified with local telephone and telegraph management and a past masonic grand master, died at his home here yesterday in his 75th year.

He was born in Bangor. In 1855 he entered the employ of the Maine Telephone Co., one of the pioneers of the state, using the tape recorder before the days of sound receiving. In 1859 he went to the American Telephone Co. in 1886 to the Western Union and 11 years later to the Mutual Union. With the first introduction of telephones here in 1885, he was employed as manager and remained in that position with the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. when it took over the old company. He was local and district superintendent until 1908, when he was relieved and made district cashier, which office he held until he was retired on a pension last February.

He was much interested in Masonry, taking 32 degrees, was a past officer of nearly all the local Masonic bodies and was the oldest past master of the Maine Grand Lodge of Masons and prelate of St. John's commandery, Knights Templars. He was also secretary of Bangor council, Royal Arcanum.

He is survived by his wife, Henrietta Miller Collamore, their 51st wedding anniversary being observed July 5, also a son, Charles E. Collamore.

The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon with Masonic honors.

IS NOT ANSWERABLE

THIRD OFFICER TUFFENES OF STORSTAD CANNOT BE PENISHED BY CANADIAN LAW

OTTAWA, July 14.—Because Third Officer Alfred Tuffenes of the collier Storstad held a Norwegian navigator's certificate the Canadian parliament, it was announced yesterday, has found itself unable to indict any punishment upon him as the man held responsible for the Empress of Ireland disaster.

A report is being sent to the Norwegian authorities, however, and the Canadian law will be altered so that in the future officers of foreign vessels engaged in the Canadian trade must have Canadian certificates. It is improbable that Tuffenes will be prosecuted, as his mistake, the authorities here said, is considered more an error of judgment than a case of criminal negligence.

Capt. Kendall, who commanded the Empress of Ireland, is not likely to go to sea again. It was said here that the Canadian-Pacific officials have given him several months' leave of absence and that later he will be given a shore position, either in Canada or in England.

AGAINST STORSTAD OWNERS

MONTREAL, July 14.—Action will be started immediately by the Canadian Pacific railway against the owners of the Norwegian collier Storstad for $2,000,000 for the loss of the steamship Empress of Ireland. This was announced yesterday by the solicitor for the railroad. The action will be heard in Montreal in September, Mr. Holden said.

FUNDS TO MOVE CROPS

THOUSANDS OF NATIONAL BANKS REPLY TO SECRETARY MADDON'S LETTER

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Thousands of national banks have already replied to Secretary Maddon's letter asking the cooperation of bankers throughout the country as to the advisability of lending government funds to banks to move crops.

Many bankers urged the lending of government funds just as was done last year when about $37,000,000 was loaned to banks by the treasury department.

It now seems unlikely that the federal reserve board would be organized immediately and Secretary Maddon did not have his advice in arranging for crop movement money.

It is now generally believed that Milton C. Elliott, secretary to the organization committee, will be retained by the board as legal adviser. Mr. Elliott has been mentioned as successor to Charles S. Hamlin, an assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of fiscal affairs but his intimate knowledge of the organization of the board is so necessary to its work that he will continue his association with the new organization.

BEER GOES INTO SEWER

BANGOR DEPUTIES DESTROY $2000 IN LIQUORS—ALCOHOL TO BE EXTRACTED FROM MIXTURE

BANGOR, Me., July 14.—Sheriff O'Connell's deputies destroyed about $2000 worth of seized liquors here yesterday, including about $600 worth of beer and ale in barrels and bottles which were dumped into the sewer.

Eight barrels were filled with a mixture of whiskey, gin, rum, wine and brandy of all grades, from which the alcohol will be extracted for the credit of the country.

PEASANT KILLED SEVEN

ITALIAN DOES WHOLESALE MURDER AND MAKES ESCAPE TO MOUNTAINS

BERGAMO, Italy, July 14.—A peasant of the village of Giamerata, Cornelio, Simone Pianetta by name, yesterday killed seven persons, presumably to satisfy old hatreds, and then took refuge in the mountains, where carabinieri are hunting him.

Pianetta appeared in an indictment issued by the open country village of San Giovanni di Lupatoto, armed with a gun. Coming upon the village physician, Dr. Morali, he shot him dead.

He proceeded to the house of the parish priest, Fr. Patelli, burst into a room where the priest was sitting at the bedside of a sick woman, and killed him before the eyes of the sick woman, who is dying from the shock.

Pianetta's next victim was Signor Giudice, the secretary of the local authorities and he also shot to death Giudice's daughter, Waltera.

On leaving Giudice's house, Pianetta proceeded towards the open country and on his way killed two men who were walking along the highway. He killed his last victim by shooting a laborer who was digging in a field.

FOR MURDER OF HUSBAND

BESSIE J. WAKEFIELD PLACED ON TRIAL FOR THE SECOND TIME

NEW HAVEN, July 14.—Bessie J. Wakefield was placed on trial for a second time today in an indictment for murder in the first degree in causing the death of her husband, William O. Wakefield, at Cieshire on June 23, 1903. At the first trial the woman was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged.

On an appeal the execution was stayed and a new trial was granted on an error. James Pless, who actually killed Wakefield, was convicted of murder in a separate trial and hanged. The state alleged in the first trial of Mrs. Wakefield that the woman was the master mind in the plot to kill Wakefield. She obtained a new chiefy upon the contention that evidence was admitted which had to do with Pless's acts.

TO REBUILD THE BRIDGE

VESTER COUNTRY CLUB WILL REPLACE BRIDGE WHEN INSURANCE IS ADJUSTED

It is believed that within a month the Vester Country club bridge spanning the Merrimack river and Tynga Island, which was badly damaged by the storm Sunday, will be rebuilt and opened for traffic. The executive board of the club held a meeting at the club house last evening for the purpose of considering plans for the rebuilding of the bridge, but it was deemed advisable to wait until the insurance companies had settled the claim for the damage to the structure which cost $8000, and it is believed that the club will get almost the full amount.

Yesterday an expert engineer in bridge construction from Boston visited the premises and looked over the bridge with a view to suggesting plans for its reconstruction, but he has not yet made a report. As soon as the insurance companies have settled with the club members the bridge will be rebuilt and made stronger than ever.

The committee last night decided to make temporary provision for traffic, and today a float was placed on the mainland bank near the bridge entrance from Tyngsboro, and a motorboat accommodating 30 persons will be kept in operation until the bridge is reopened to traffic.

THAW CLIMBS MOUNTAIN

FIRST OF PARTY TO REACH TOP OF MT. WASHINGTON AND LIKES THE VIEW

BERLIN, N. H., July 14.—A party made up of Harry K. Thaw, C. R. E. Pless, R. Pendleton and B. B. Bickford made the trip up Mt. Washington and over the northern peaks of the Presidential range Sunday and yesterday. The party started from Mount Madison house, Gorham, N. H., at 10:15 Sunday morning and went by automobile to Crystal Cascade, 11 miles into the heart of the mountains.

They took the Crystal Cascade trail up the side of Washington, one of the most difficult ascents. Mr. Thaw was the first to arrive on top of Mt. Washington. The party arrived in Gorham about 10:30 p.m.

Thaw, delighted with the trip, grew more enthusiastic as the journey progressed. He stood the trip wonderfully.

AVERAGE FOR INSANE

Maine State Board of Charities Compares Expenditures With Those of Other States

AUGUSTA, Me., July 14.—The state board of charities and corrections completed yesterday a comparison making comparisons of the expenditures of Maine for 1913 with those of other New England states. The average appropriation per capita for Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Connecticut for the care of the insane was $2.25. The smallest amount was by Massachusetts, $1.75, and the largest by New Hampshire, $4.41, while that of Maine was $3.55.

Vermont makes no appropriation for the care of the feeble-minded. Connecticut appropriates .031 per capita of population, Maine, .08; Massachusetts, .08 and New Hampshire, $1.75. Maine has appropriated .011 for its blind and Massachusetts .003. The average appropriation for charitable purposes is $7.3, the highest being in New Hampshire and the lowest in Massachusetts. The average appropriation per capita of population for state correctional institutions for the five states was $7. New Hampshire being the highest and Massachusetts the lowest.

Mayor O'Halloran said last night that he will give them authority to enter all theatres and other places of amusement in the city and he warned that anybody who refused them admittance would have the license revoked.

MILEAGE CONTROVERSY

SENATE INSISTS ON RETAINING PRESENT ALLOWANCE OF 20 CENTS FOR CONGRESSMEN

WASHINGTON, July 14.—With the senate insisting upon retaining the present allowance of 20 cents mileage for congressmen the house was convened today with a report of disagreement from its conferees on the executive legislative and judicial appropriation bill. The house conferees had been instructed to insist upon the house provision for five cents a mile. Twenty cent mileage had been in vogue in congress since the early days of the government.

The senators told the house conferees that they never would agree to the proposition to reduce the twenty cent allowance and it was on this final determination on the part of the senate which the senate yesterday ratified by a large majority that the house conferees were ready today to present their report of continued disagreement and to ask further instructions from the house.

The big appropriations for general purposes carried in the bill have been held up pending the settlement of the mileage controversy.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Nabnessett grove has been selected by the officers of Industry council, No. 122, Royal Arcanum, as the spot for annual picnic of the council which will be held in the near future.

The officers held a meeting last night and discussed several matters of importance which will be presented at the regular meeting of the council next Wednesday evening. Remarks were made by James Dunn, Thomas H. Wilson and Peter Farrington.

Division S. A. O. H.

The regular meeting of Division S. A. O. H. attracted a large number of members of A. O. H. last evening. Two candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order and two applications for membership were received. It was reported that the recent anniversary banquet was a great success and the committee submitted its final report. The following members were elected to represent Division S. at the state convention to be held in Worcester: D. P. Reilly, Thomas Dorsey, Michael Ryne and Hugh McGowan.

OWNERS OF SKYSCRAPERS

IN CONVENTION AT DULUTH—
HORIZONTAL "ELEVATORS" COM-ING—BUNGALOWS ON ROOF

DULUTH, Minn., July 14.—These who own big buildings in the United States and Canada and the men who manage the buildings for the owners, about 200 altogether, are here today in attendance at the annual four days' convention of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers.

That the sky scraping office building of the near future will contain many new features was the prediction of C. A. Patterson, secretary of the association.

It will be a matter of a very short time," said Mr. Patterson, "when big office buildings will have 'elevators' running horizontally on different floors. Furthermore, patrons will pay less to ride on these elevators and get transfers from the vertical lifts to the horizontal just as we get them on street cars now.

"They will also pump air into the big city buildings just as they pump pure water and bungalows built on top of a tall building will house the owners in summer. A building permit for such a bungalow already has been taken out in Chicago.

ARMY CANTEN SCANDAL

ATTY-GEN. DECLARES THERE IS NO EVIDENCE TO JUSTIFY PROSECUTION OF LIPTON

LONDON, July 14.—The attorney-general declared today there was no evidence before him to justify the criminal prosecution of Sir Thomas Lipton in connection with the recent army canteen scandal, for which several army officers and employees of Lipton, Ltd., were convicted on charges of accepting or giving bribes to influence contracts.

Replying to a question by Sir Arthur Markham in the house of commons, the attorney-general said proceedings already had been taken in regard to those against whom evidence existed. No such evidence, however, existed against Sir Thomas Lipton.

Sir Thomas Attacked
At the annual meeting of Lipton, Ltd., today, Sir Thomas was attacked by a number of shareholders. Sir Thomas in a speech said nobody could attempt to justify the acts of the men who had been implicated in the canteen scandal and nobody deplored them more than he did. He declared much had been taken as would effectually prevent a recurrence of the scandal.

The meeting concluded with hearty cheers and the expression of wishes for the success of Lipton's cup in its attempt to lift the America's cup.

BIG REUNION OF ELKS

POLITICS BROUGHT INTO 28TH ANNUAL SESSION AT DENVER, COL.

DENVER, Colo., July 14.—Politics was brought into the 28th annual national reunion of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks and the golden jubilee of the Grand Lodge today.

The fifth session of the grand lodge began its three day secret session. Among other things it will consider charges made by Grand Exalted Ruler Edward Leach in his annual report upon a tendency of some lodges to develop the social or "club" feature of a lodge to the extent in prohibition localities that they have become anti-therapies for selling liquor.

Five thousand child delinquents have come under guardianship of 208,085 Elks in 901 lodges in 48 states since the Rochester inauguration of the Elks' "big brother" movement in 1913. An appropriation of $30,000 to continue their work, the publication of a periodical upon the movement and incorporation of the "big brother" committee into the grand lodge was urged by that committee in a report to the grand lodge.

WILL CONFIRM JONES

ADMINISTRATION SENATORS REPORT THAT NOMINEE TO RESERVE BOARD IS ACCEPTABLE

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Administration senators after a canvass today reported to the White House that President Wilson's nomination of Thomas D. Jones of Chicago to the federal reserve board would be confirmed by a majority ranging from five to ten.

There were no developments in the nominations of Paul M. Warburg of New York. Indications were that the White House would not begin the fight for his confirmation until after Mr. Jones had been placed.

COTTON CONSUMPTION

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Cotton consumed during the month of June amounted to 425,635 bales exclusive of linters, compared with 441,357 in June last year, the census bureau announced today. Consumption for the ten months ending June 30 was 4,745,250 bales, against 4,585,729 last year.

Cotton on hand June 30 in manufacturing establishments was 1,154,107 bales, compared with 1,206,470 a year ago and in independent warehouses 650,459, compared with 695,560 a year ago.

MOST PROPERLY LABEL JELLY

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Real fruit jelly must "jell" because of the fruit juice in it and not because gelatin has been added to it, the pure food board announced in a ruling today.

Under the decision products thickened by gelatin cannot properly be labeled as fruit jelly but must indicate by its name its true character.

The board also ruled today whenever extra is added to a natural water jelly must show that the water has been artificially treated.

GERMANS TO COMPETE

BERLIN, July 14.—Oscar Kmetzer and Otto Froitzheim, the German lawn tennis players, will leave for the United States this week to represent Germany in the preliminaries of the tournament for the Dwight F. Davis international lawn tennis trophy.

FOR FLIGHT ACROSS ATLANTIC

NEW YORK, July 14.—The record made on Saturday last by Rheinhold Boehm at Johannisthal when he remained in the air for 24 hours and 12 minutes and flew a distance of 1350 miles has caused members of the Aero club to feel more confident than ever that Lieut. Porte will accomplish his proposed Atlantic flight in the air boat America. Boehm used an ordinary biplane in his flight, and the fact that it was not equipped for an endurance test is an indication, according to Henry Woodhouse of the Aero club, that the America with her special equipment will be able to carry Lieut. Porte to the Azores without mishap. The route to be followed by Lieut. Porte to the Azores is 1140 miles, or some 210 miles less than the distance covered by Boehm.

STEAMER AND TORPEDO BOAT COLLIDE

MEXICAN SITUATION

Facing the United States that he would not abandon any conference with representatives of Huerta to draft peace terms declared that unconditional surrender of the authorities in Mexico was the only thing he would accept. He said he could give ample assurances for the guarantee of life and property.

While Washington officials have indicated that they would take no step to interfere with the resolution of the constitutionalists have been notified that recognition would not be extended to them if ex-cesses marked their entrance into Mexico City.

One plan suggested for transfer of power to the constitutionalists was the resignation of Huerta or the administration that succeeded him leaving police power over the capital in the hands of local minor authorities. Members of the revolutionary junta in Washington who made the suggestion said that if that course were pursued Carranza could then enter the capital and assume control, avoiding any recognition of Huerta that might be imposed by acceptance of executive power freely from him or a minister succeeding him.

At Santa Rosalia, a mining port on the outer coast of lower California, the federalists and constitutionalists held a conference yesterday at which it was decided to bury the hatchet and make joint cause with Carranza. The same procedure is expected to take place at La Paz, another lower California port, while at Guaymas an armistice has been agreed on to expire at midnight July 20.

REPORTS THAT CARRANZA HAS MOVED HIS CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Reports from consular agents Carothers say that Carranza has moved his provisional capital to Monterey from Saltillo.

HUERTA NOT AMONG REFUGEES ON LINE

WASHINGTON, July 14.—General Huerta was not among the high official Mexican refugees sailing from Vera Cruz on the liner Espagne, according to early despatches today from General Carranza. The holding of the liner and the hurried repair of the railroad to Mexico City had been taken as an indication that the dictator was ready to flee with Adolf De Loma, General Ruiz, Querrolo Moreno and General Nolas, all of his official family, who sailed on the Espagne.

MEXICAN INSURGENTS ARE SWEEPING PACIFIC COAST

ON BOARD U. S. S. CALIFORNIA
Mazatlan, July 13, by wireless to San Diego, Cal. July 14.—The insurgents are sweeping the Pacific coast of Mexico. Evacuations, confiscations, arrests and the exchange of prisoners are everywhere reported to Rear Admiral Howard, commanding the American Pacific fleet and the indications are that within a week the federalists will be in possession of only Mazatlan and Salina Cruz.

AMERICAN ARRESTED BY CONSTITUTIONALISTS

EL PASO, Texas, July 14.—Manuel Trevino, an American citizen and manager and part owner of the electric light plant at Matamoros, Mexico, has been arrested by constitutionalists, charged with having committed acts against the constitutionalist cause, according to a despatch from Matamoros.

As a result of Trevino's arrest the electric light plant has been forced to discontinue operation and the town is in darkness. The Matamoros authorities have requested Jess H. Johnson, United States consul, to have appointed another manager for the plant.

TRUCK AND AUTO CRASH

An automobile collision between a delivery truck owned by the Stanley Coal & Transportation Co. and a touring car, the property of Charles E. Watt of this city occurred at the junction of Merrimack and Hanover streets today, but fortunately no one was injured.

The Stanley car, which was in charge of Abraham Grondin, was being driven out of Hanover street into Merrimack street at a moderate rate of speed, while the touring car was headed up Merrimack street toward Pawtucket street and some of the witnesses of the accident say the machine was going at a high rate of speed. Mr. Watt, who was at the wheel when a collision was unavoidable when he reached the corner of Hanover street and he quickly steered his car to the left and onto the electric car tracks, just in time to strike the Stanley automobile in the side, breaking the mud guard and the running board. The touring car had both searchlights broken. Both machines were able to continue their journey.

DEATHS
SABOURIN—David E. Sabourin died last night at his home in Perron street, aged 32 years. He was married three times. He leaves his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. David Sabourin; three sisters, Josephine, Annie and Ethel; and three brothers, Charles, Frank and Leo.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE OWL THEATRE

The Owl's program contains many new features. "The Devil Within" is the big attraction, in three parts. It is a strange two-part special feature. "The Girl Across the Hall" and "The Other Train" are two other good plays, while Miss Mabel Norman will cause laughter in the leading part of the Keystone comedy entitled "Mabel's Busy Day." Jack Dalton sings a new song, and the whole performance is easily worth the price of admission, which is 5 cents for the side seats and 10 cents for centre seats. The sliding roof gives comfort and coolness.

LAKEVIEW PARK

A big water carnival is scheduled for next week at Lakeview park and bewitching water sports in daily exhibitions of fancy diving and swimming, walking on the lake in hydro-eponematics or water shoes, by Lieut. J. A. Hillecock, swimming races, boat racing, hunting the duck, water polo and various other sports are scheduled for the week. One of the features of the week will be the daily appearance of the water polo team.

The Lowell outfielders hit the ball hard yesterday. When a team's outfielders take a batting slump the club might as well stop playing. It's the outfielders who are depended upon to do the cleaning-up act, and if they don't connect the team looks bad. Matthews, DeGroot and Stimpson slashed out seven hits in yesterday's contest.

WEAVER WON HIS OWN GAME—LIFTED BALL OVER FENCE WITH 2 ON

Worcester's defeat yesterday and the victory of Louis Pieper's men places Lawrence a game and a half to the good over Jesse Burkett's aggregation. We can hear these growls all the way up here.

Cue Finnegan, Lowell's wonderful curve ball pitcher last season, twirled a great game for the Brooklyn Feds yesterday against Pittsburgh. For 12 innings the two outlaw clubs battled without the plate being crossed but in the last half of the inning Steve Evans lifted the sphere over the fence.

TAKING ONE FROM HAVERHILL

Local Team Won 6-4
Contest by Heavy Hitting Yesterday

Weaver Won His Own Game—Lifted Ball Over Fence With 2 On

(Special to The Sun)

HAVERHILL, July 14.—Lowell hit Olde rather freely yesterday afternoon and beat Haverhill on their own ball lot 6 to 4. Weaver contributed to his own victory very substantially by cleaning up with a home run the second inning with two men on bases. DeGroot went after one high above his head in the fifth and added another tally with a fence clout. In the eighth inning with men on first and second DeGroot hit a natty grounder to right that went through Flaherty and proved good for two runs, just the margin by which the visitors staved the game away.

After the double defeat on Saturday, Jimmy Gray was exceedingly anxious to get one game back yesterday. Weaver went along sick as grass for five innings, allowing the locals but two lonely wallpays. Then in the sixth Duggan followed Howard's single with a river clout. In the seventh McMahon dropped the ball behind the deep center field fence, at the furthest point from the plate. But Weaver did not show signs of real distress until the eighth when Wilson hit to short center and Howard walked. Weaver pulled himself together, however, and Duggan hit back to the box while Smith was thrown out by Dee and Yello by Burke, after Wilson had scored on the first of the pair of outs.

Just for the two cheap runs scored by the visitors in the eighth session the locals might have pulled themselves together for another ninth inning rally.

The visitors started right after Olde. Dee hit to left and DeGroot to right and Dee was nailed at second by Wilson. DeGroot passed the base on a sharp throw from Flaherty. Olde set down and Matthews and Stimpson were retired on infield grounders. Wilson and Duggan fanned in the last half while Howard fouled one off to Welch.

Burke had down a neat bunt along the third base line in the second and Cargio hit to left for two bases, the ball striking very close to the foul line. Kelly was thrown out by Wilson and Weaver fled to Duggan but Burke did not take a chance on Duggan's good right wing. Weaver counted one but proved the opposite for when Olde fed him a slow one he wallpiped it to the fence and helped himself to a lead of three runs.

Yello slammed a hard one through Burke in the last half but was nailed when Cargio advanced to steal and but three men batted. Gaston copped a foul off DeGroot just inside the grandstand in the third and Matthews singled to left while Stimpson hit to center. Burke hunted again and Cargio closed the inning with a grounder to short.

Flaherty singled to left in the last half of the third and Gaston fanned while Olde reached first when Dee allowed his grounder to get by him. Wilson hit to Burke, who tagged third, forcing Flaherty and Howard fanned.

The locals did not hit Weaver again until the sixth. In the fourth both sides retired in order. In the fifth with one out DeGroot reached for a high one over his head and dropped it into the river. Matthews singled and Stimpson reached on a bunt by Wilson. Burke fled to Yello and Cargio singled to left, filling the bases. No damage resulted, however, for Kelly fled to Howard, who backed back 20 feet and then went into the air after the ball in thrilling fashion.

McMahon reached when Cargio fanned, but he was nailed at second and fled to Cargio and Gaston hit clean to right. It looked to McMahon as if someone might get under the fly and he was forced at second when DeGroot snatched the ball when it dropped and pegged to Dee. Olde hit to Dee, who tagged second for the third out.

With two out in the sixth Yello lost a grounder from Dee and McMahon on recovering the ball let loose and his wild peg let Dee go down to second on the ground rule. Matthews fled to Duggan. With one out in this same inning, Howard singled to center and Stimpson hit to left and Cargio covered the bag and DeGroot got around to third. Flaherty lifted one to Olde after Flaherty had lifted one to Cargio.

The fatal eighth started well enough with Kelly hitting one back to Olde. Weaver was safe when McMahon fumbled and Weaver fled to Duggan. With two down Dee hit to center and DeGroot threw to right. The ball came to Flaherty on a bad hop and got by him. While he was chasing it Weaver and Dee scored and DeGroot got around to third. Flaherty left him there when he was thrown out by Yello.

Matthews tried to get a short fly from Wilson of his boots in the last of the eighth but failed to hold the ball. Howard walked and Duggan hit back to Weaver. Dee came up and threw to third, forcing Howard, and juggled the ball but did not drop it. Empire Black called the runner safe and then changed his decision. Smith was thrown out by Dee and Wilson scored. Yello was pegged down by Burke.

In the ninth Stimpson fled to Howard. Burke hit to left and was forced at second by Cargio, who was forced at the same bag by Kelly. In the last half McMahon singled to left and tried for second but was pegged out by Stimpson. Cargio covered the bag and McMahon scented declared that he slid around the player. Flaherty singled to center and Gaston fled in Cargio. Burger batted for Olde and was thrown out by Cargio.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

"Buck" Weaver still continues his slugging proclivities. The Lowell pitcher lifted the ball over the fence yesterday with a pair of runners on the paths. A few weeks ago a manager along the circuit allowed that Weaver would soon be down where he belonged, meaning that Buck was simply shutting his eyes and taking a swing. However, "Buck" comes through as a rule when a blow is needed.

A new world's record was set up yesterday at the dirt track of the Portland, Ore., Speedway when Percy F. Barnes drove his machine 25 miles in 22 minutes 7 1/2 seconds, bettering the previous mark by 19 seconds. Barnes' feat is considered a remarkable performance for the track was not in good condition.

Jackson, the crack miler of the Oxford university relay quartet, has given up running and says that he will never again don the spikes. It was mainly through Jackson's magnificent running that the Englishmen defeated our best mile relay at the Penn carnival last spring.

Jack Matthews was released by Manager Gray last night. Matthews' release comes as a big surprise to the fans. Although he has not been hitting well for the past ten days, up to yesterday when he got two hits, Matthews held the Lowell club up in the races or these two weeks with his timely batting. His two safeties yesterday seemed to indicate that he was once more getting his eye on the ball.

Manager Gray is of the opinion that Matthews has a bad leg but the player himself asserts that his underpinning is O. K. O'Brien is expected to take his place.

Jack Matthews is the sort of ball player whom the fans like to see represent their city. Although of a quiet bearing he is out there on the ball field fighting for that old ball game every minute. Matthews shouldn't be long out of a job.

Worcester's defeat yesterday and the victory of Louis Pieper's men places Lawrence a game and a half to the good over Jesse Burkett's aggregation. We can hear these growls all the way up here.

Cue Finnegan, Lowell's wonderful curve ball pitcher last season, twirled a great game for the Brooklyn Feds yesterday against Pittsburgh. For 12 innings the two outlaw clubs battled without the plate being crossed but in the last half of the inning Steve Evans lifted the sphere over the fence.

to be that while Sir Edward Carson and the other leaders are using unrestrained language, both Ulsterman and Nationalists are showing admirable self-control.

Another feature is that the more defiant the Ulster leaders' speeches become, the more pronounced becomes the feeling among the members of parliament on both sides that a satisfactory compromise will eventually be reached.

Session to Close in August

Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons yesterday that the present session of parliament would come to an end about the close of August, and that the new session would begin in early winter, which is thought to mean December. Before the present session ends the government will introduce its proposals for the reform of the house of lords.

Under this arrangement, Home Rule and Welsh disestablishment will automatically pass into law by the end of August. Rumors of the early dissolution of parliament continue to float around, but there is nothing to substantiate them.

The house of lords yesterday concluded the report stage of the Home Rule amending bill. An amendment was adopted providing for proportional representation in the elections for the Dublin parliament and several minor amendments were added to the bill.

J. P. MORGAN DENIES CHARGE OF COMMISSION

NEW YORK, July 14.—While J. P. Morgan & Co. refused to discuss the report of the inter-state commerce commission so severely censuring the directors under the administration of Charles S. Mellen for "reckless and profligate" financial operations estimated to have cost stockholders $90,000,000, J. P. Morgan denies the charge that the commission's examiners were not accorded full access to the firm's books bearing on the New Haven.

Correspondence made public at Washington told of Commissioner McCord's directing the chief examiner to cease the work as it was "useless." Late last night Mr. Morgan issued this brief statement in reply:

"The information with regard to the withdrawal of the inter-state commerce commission's examiners from the examination of the books of our firm is the first intimation that I have had that they have been recalled."

The New Haven situation is now out of the hands of the inter-state commerce commission and what action, if any, is taken on the recommendations that the directors be prosecuted lies with the department of justice and district attorneys in the states in which the system has lines. Prosecuting attorneys at New York, Boston, Hartford, New Haven, New London and other points have not yet received copies of the evidence. Dis-

MURDER OF MRS. BAILEY

DR. CARMAN FIRST WITNESS BEFORE GRAND JURY AT MINNEOLA, N. Y.

MINNEOLA, N. Y., July 14.—The grand jury today took up the case of Mrs. Florence Carman, charged with the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey, one of her husband's patients, who was shot in his office on the night of June 30.

Dr. Carman was the first witness called. He was on the stand nearly two hours. As he left the grand jury room he refused to say anything about the nature of his testimony, but stated he had not been asked to waive immunity, as had been expected.

District Attorney Smith said he was satisfied with Dr. Carman's story and had changed his mind about asking him to sign a waiver of immunity.

Neither Dr. Carman nor the district attorney would say whether the former had in any important details altered the story which he told at the coroner's inquest.

Mrs. Carman Talks

While the grand jury was in session, a statement was given out by Mrs. Carman through her attorney, George Levy. She said in part:

"I ask that judgment be suspended."

"You know we are just ordinary folks," she said, "and there's not a genius in our family."

"What is a genius?" Well, there's EDISON you know, but he was just a workman who set his mind on one thing and toiled until he developed his brain above all others to his fame and profit, and to the honor of America. Any man can be a genius if he is able to use his brain a little better than the other man."

Lowell	0	1	0	0	0	0	3	0	0	0	0	4	9	3

Eight out of nine is a pretty big average and the Lawrence club boarded their big auto today feeling that they might just as well stay down river drinking pop and chalk up another win for themselves as to come all the way up to Spalding park for a sure win. "What's the use," said someone as the team scrambled aboard. "Sure we've got the Indians sign on that Lowell bunch and they haven't got a chance." And so it seems.

The league standings have changed since Lowell last played Louis Pieper's ball tossers and Lawrence now is at the head of the procession with Worcester a game and a half in the rear. How long they will stay there, of course, we can't tell but Pieper has gotten together a mighty likely looking lot of ball players.

However, the team individually isn't so much superior to our own club, but the machinery appears to be better oiled and runs much smoother. Great credit should be given the Lawrence manager for the manner in which he has brought his club to its present position.

Capt. Bill Luyster brought with him his heaviest war clubs. Although Luyster is a slugger on any field, statistics show that he has everlastingly massaged the pill on the Lowell grounds. For some reason or other Bill generally wallops the ball hard and far in his performances at Spalding park.

The locals seem to be more shot to pieces than ever now that Matthews has been released. What was left upon in the benches by his club-mates and this fact is no small factor in a successful ball camp. If Gray cannot find an outfielder that suits his fancy it is possible that "Buck" Weaver may be shifted to the outfield. There are six pitchers on the Lowell team and this is rather too many for a class B organization.

The news that Wilson, premier batter in this league last season, and a Red Sox recruit on the southern trip, was on his way from Memphis to Lynn, was both Jimmy Gray and Lou Peep's sit up and take notice. With Wilson guarding the initial sack for the Shoemakers, Patsy Flaherty's club won't look so easy to defeat. The Lynn manager expects great things of Wilson.

Jimmy Ring was once more picked for a notable duty. Jimmy met defeat at the hands of Pieper's crew last week and was anxious to even things up today. The Brooklyn lad has been saving his arm for just this occasion and the day could not have been better for him. Jimmy always works better in hot weather and it was certainly tropical this afternoon.

"Jimmy" O'Brien, captain of a Holy Cross team last spring and Red Sox recruit, showed up today just before the game and went into center-field in Matthews' place. O'Brien looked very good in the field during the preliminary practice.

President Roche of the Lowell club injected a lot of ginger into the team when he told the players just before the game that he would make each player a present of $50, providing that they won the pennant. Louis Pieper smiled broadly when he heard of the offer.

Harry Thompson was Pieper's choice for the firing line and Bruggy, Lawrence's reliable backstop, was at the other end of the visiting battery. Thompson has pitched four games against Lowell and won four of them. The Lawrence southpaw is generally considered the nemesis of the Lowell club. Mike Doherty was the indicator holder and called Peplowski to the plate at just two minutes after 3 o'clock.

The lineup:

Lowell	Lawrence
Dee, ss	Dee, ss
DeGroff, rf	O'Brien, rf
O'Brien, cf	Stimpson, lf
Burke, 3b	Burke, 3b
Carco, 2b	Carco, 2b
Kelly, 1b	Worob, c
Ring, p	Ring, p

First Inning

Ring was very wild on the first three deliveries but then struck two through the groove. Peplowski flied off one and was called out on strikes by Doherty on Ring's next offering. Lynch flied into a free journey to the first base after fouling several times. He was out, however, when Worob threw the ball to Carco when "Mike" attempted to steal second. Ring flied Luyster's grounder and the captain of the down-river club was retired at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Dee lifted the ball to right field but Luyster came fast and got under the fly. DeGroff smashed one over second into center-field and a vicious hand clapping greeted the single. O'Brien snapped a liner at Thompson which the Lawrence pitcher knocked down with one hand. Mahoney ran up and threw O'Brien out at first while DeGroff went to second. Stimpson fouled to Bruggy. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Score: Lowell 0, Lawrence 0.

Second Inning

Bruggy got a lift when Dee failed to field his grounder and made second base when Dee dropped Wacob's throw. Mahoney walked, the last ball being high. Bruggy attempted to steal third but Wacob's throw to Burke, in spite of the high pitch was perfect and Burke had the ball on Bruggy several feet from the bag. It was a poor play for Bruggy to make with nobody down. Mahoney stole second after getting a long lead off first. Mahoney went to third on Connolly's infield out. Dee to Kelly. Mahoney attempted to steal home on Ring's windup but Wacob made an easy putout at the plate. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Mahoney was injured while sliding into the plate and the game was held up for several minutes while Larry's injured limb was doctored up under the grandstand. Thompson struck Burke on the ribs with a fast one when the game was resumed, and the Lowell captain went to first base. Cargo attempted to bunt but popped up a fly to Thompson. Burke took a lead on Thompson and made a beautiful delayed steal at second base. Kelly grounded out. Lynch to Aubrey. Burke remaining at second. Wacob struck to right field, scoring Burke with the first run of the game. Peplowski hit one off his handle into the left field corner and a slow squander to Carco and beat the ball to first. Aubrey going to second. With a hit measuring at least a tie score, Ring then struck out Lynch. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 1, Lawrence 0.

Third Inning

O'Connell attempted to bunt twice with resulting fouts and then struck out. Aubrey, in spite of a recent injury to his underpinning, bent out a point along the third base line. Thompson hit one off his handle into Ring's hands. Peplowski hit a slow squander to Carco and beat the ball to first. Aubrey going to second. With a hit measuring at least a tie score, Ring then struck out Lynch. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 1, Lawrence 0.

Fourth Inning

Luyster hit to Dee and was retired at first on "Shorty's" peg to Kelly. Ring struck out Bruggy with his split ball and the crowd hooted the Lawrence catcher. Mahoney hit to Dee and died at first. Kelly covering the bag in splendid form. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 1, Lawrence 0.

Fifth Inning

Burke flied Connolly's grounder and completed the put-out with a perfect throw to Kelly. The fans roundly applauded Ring when the struck out O'Connell for the second time. Aubrey was out at first when Dee picked up his grounder and pegged to Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Wacob took a good look at Thompson's delivery and finally Unipiro Doherty waved him to first for a free pass. Ring lifted a fly between Bruggy and Thompson which fell between them. Wacob, expecting the ball to be caught, stayed at first and was easily forced out at second on Bruggy's throw to Lynch. Dee spanked a single into center, sending Ring to second. DeGroff lifted a fly to O'Connell in short left centre. O'Brien hit to Mahoney and Dee was forced at second. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Score: Lowell 1, Lawrence 0.

Sixth Inning

Thompson got a scratch hit when he hit a slow roller between Burke and Ring and beat the throw to first. Thompson stole second, Wacob's throw being high. Wacob made a swell stop of a wild pitch, holding Thompson at second. Ring used his wet offering on Peplowski and the result was a strike out. Lynch singled over Cargo's head and Thompson came home with the tying run. It was the first genuine hit that Lawrence had made off Ring. Lynch stole second. Ring also struck out Luyster. Bruggy drew a pass and Mahoney, another dangerous hitter, was up. Mahoney lived up to his reputation and slugged to right, sending Lynch across the plate and Bruggy to third. Mahoney stole second without an attempt being made to get him. Connolly closed the disastrous inning by grounding out. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

Stimpson went out. Mahoney to Aubrey, the ball taking a lucky bound before it reached Mahoney. Burke went out at first on a grounder to Connolly. O'Connell ran over into the left field corner and tried to get with one hand, but dropped it and "Chick" remained at first. Cargo was forced at second when Kelly hit to Lynch. No runs, no hits, one error.

Score: Lawrence 2, Lowell 1.

Fourth Edition
KERIS HELD IN $1000
ON LARCENY CHARGE

Joseph Keris was found guilty of larceny of money in the sum of $500 from John Shawken by Judge Enright in police court this forenoon and held in the sum of $1000 for his appearance before the grand jury next September. He did not furnish bail and was committed to the Lowell jail.

John Shawken, the complainant, was the first witness and he testified that he resides at 14 Auburn street and is employed in a bobbin shop on Rogers street. He said that he had $223.43 in the Traders National bank and at the time of its failure withdrew about $481. To this amount he added a sum given him by his mother, making in all $500 and placed the bills in a box under his bed.

For several weeks Joseph Keris had been rooming with him and even aided him in securing the money from the bank. On July 3, so the story goes, Shawken missed the money and upon investigation learned that Joseph had also disappeared. A search was begun and after visits to Haverhill, Boston and other places the defendant was located in Lynn and brought to this city charged with the theft. He pleaded not guilty when arraigned in court about a week ago but when interviewed by the complainant at the Lowell jail admitted that he took the money and had given $350 to Peter Lesburt, an interpreter in Lynn, to hold for him and had purchased a ticket for the old country and a large amount of clothing. The defendant claims that he gave Lesburt $10 for holding the money.

Sergeant Petrie and Supt. Welch told of interviewing the prisoner and of his admitting that he took the money and they also displayed a number of articles which, it is alleged, Keris bought with the money. Keris did not take the stand but admitted that he took the money and gave the larger part of it to Peter Lesburt of Lynn. The court found probable was thrown out on his bunt, Bruggy to Pearson.

Cargo struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 4, Lawrence 4.

Eleventh Inning

Bruggy walked and went to second on Shenk's wild heave to Kelly. Mahoney bunted. Shenk threw to Burke to get Bruggy, but the throw was too late. Bruggy was caught asleep on third base, Greenhalze to Burke.

Connolly hit to Burke and Mahoney was forced at second. O'Connell hit to Dee and Connolly was safe at second on Cargo's error.

Pearson singled to right, scoring Connolly. Burke caught O'Connell off third on Greenhalze's throw. One run, one hit, two errors.

Kelly flied to O'Connell. Greenhalze flied to O'Connell. Shenk grounded out.

STILL ANOTHER OUTRAGE ON LOWELL TAXPAYERS

The $225,000 loan order for the construction and establishment of a system and plant at the boulevard for the purpose of purifying the water supply, was read at the regular meeting of the municipal council this forenoon and assigned for a hearing one week from today at 3 p. m.

The council, on recommendation of the mayor, voted to allow police officers and patrolmen one day off in every 15 without loss of pay and in addition to their annual vacation of two weeks. The meeting was called to order at 11:07 with all members present. The petition of Michael J. Dowd for col-stable was read by the mayor who said that the bond accompanying the petition had been properly certified to by the city solicitor. The bond was accepted and the petition granted. The petition of John A. Weinbeck for a gasoline license was referred to

FINISHING TOUCHES ON GIANT GUN CARRIAGE UNDER CONSTRUCTION AT WATERTOWN, MASS.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—When the breach-loading device has been perfected at Watervliet arsenal, the great 16-inch gun, the biggest piece of ordnance in the world, which has just been shipped from Sandy Hook proving grounds, will be virtually ready for service on the Panama canal fortifications.

The carriage for this giant gun is now under construction at the Watervliet arsenal. This gun, designed to protect the Pacific entrance to the Panama canal, is 50 feet long, weighs 142 tons and fires a projectile about six feet long and weighs 1,000 pounds. The gun is discharged by 666 pounds of powder. The gun has a maximum range of from 22 to 25 miles. The carriage is 11 miles across the Pacific coast. It has sufficient power, theoretically, to place two feet of the best armor at the muzzle. At 11 miles the gun is calculated to penetrate any armor of 12 inches. When the shell leaves the muzzle it is revolving around its axis about 400 revolutions per minute and develops a pressure of 35,000 pounds to the square inch.

AMONG THE TOILERS

Quite a party last night in Belvidere.

The Barry Shoe Co. outing is not far away.

Andrew Healey of the Merrimack repair shops is camping these days at Belvidere.

John Mangum of the Hamilton Mfg. Co. is back at his work after a short illness.

Hats off to Michael A. Lee, the newly elected business agent of the carpenters.

Great arrangements have been made for the plumbers' outing, which will be held Aug. 1, at Bass Point.

George Kelley of the Klison Machine shop will be present at the launching of the new battleship, Nevada.

James McLaughlin, employed at the Boot mill, made a grand appearance on his new motorcycle Sunday.

Miss Mary Peeney of the Lowell Textile Co. is planning for a trip to Detroit to take place in the near future.

Joseph Burke, employed at the Stirling mills, will start next Monday on a visit to relatives in Worcester.

The Stirling mills will shut down Saturday morning for two weeks, for a annual vacation period.

Harvard Richards of the Stirling mills will start Saturday for New York city, where he will spend two weeks.

Walter Phelps, the presiding officer of the Lowell union, is one of the most likeable men in union circles.

President Aaron Bellefleur of Carpenters union, local 48, is a hard, energetic worker in the interests of the union.

William Martley and John Mack, employees of the Lowell Machine, spend most of their time at the Worcester camp.

Jack Farley, formerly employed at the Lowell Waste Co., has started farming. He intends to sell his products direct to the homes of the people.

Miss Alice Riley, employed at the Lowell Mfg. Co., has returned home after a pleasant two weeks' vacation which was spent at Hampton beach.

Frank Flannery of the Saco-Lowell mill returned to work this morning after spending two weeks at the Glen camp on the banks of the Connecticut.

Mr. John Shea, employed at the Appleton mill, has returned from his vacation, which he spent at a good part of his time.

Thomas Carville of the Higelow Car Co. has returned from his vacation, which he spent at Atlantic City, Coney Island and various other points around New York.

The Leather Workers union promises the surprise in the very near future. The union and committee are working hard every night arranging details.

Samuel A. Englehart, formerly of

Cleveland, O., is now overseer of spinning at the Clinton Woolen Co., Clinton, Mass., having been appointed to succeed Clyde De Mars, recently resigned.

The employees of the different industries are a much rested looking lot after their ten day vacation. Tanned and healthy looking, they resumed their work yesterday morning. These vacations do a lot of good.

"Al" Pepperell has succeeded P. Carlton Wentworth as direct representative of the Draper Co. in Fall River and New Bedford. Mr. Wentworth in the future will cover all the territory north of Baltimore with the exception of the cities mentioned.

The Machinists union will hold a monster meeting in September. At the Thursday evening, a committee will be appointed to make arrangements which promise to eclipse anything run previously.

Next Saturday promises to be a gala day for the employees of the Merrimack and Adams Shoe Co. when their journey to Revere beach for their annual outing. Grand preparations have been made to make the day one long to be remembered.

The Massachusetts state conference of painters, which was held last Sunday in Lynn, was a grand success. According to Mr. George Fife, the business agent of the local painters, the Lowell union was far ahead of the majority of locals represented. The painters of this city receive $3 per day and work 10 hours.

Thomas J. Hannigan has been selected by the New Bedford branch of the National Association of Branches as its representative at the annual convention to be held in Milwaukee, the week commencing Sept. 12. Mr. Hannigan is well known throughout New England as the master mechanic of the South mill, New Bedford.

James Coleman of the American Hide and Leather Co. was agreeably surprised one evening last week when a party of co-workers called at his home.

How English Beauties Keep Faces Youthful

Christian Miller, F. C. L., noted English health expert, attributes the early aging of American women mainly to the "national nervousness." The women of England, who says, can teach us the inestimable lesson of repose.

Another valuable lesson to be learned from the English woman is that she does not go in much for cosmetics, the continual use of which must ruin any complexion. The beauty devotees of King George's realm have the recognized wax habit, a more wholesome method of keeping the face bright-looking and healthy. Ordinary mercurial wax, used like cold cream, retards the worst complexion. Women here may easily acquire the habit, this wax being obtainable at drug stores generally in the United States and Canada. It is applied at night and washed off in the morning. One ounce is sufficient to completely renovate a bad complexion. It has a peculiar action in keeping the face free from the particles of dead and discolored skin which are constantly appearing.

home and presented him with an Irish silk dog. Mr. Coleman is the popular secretary of the United Irish League, and he intends to carry this banner in a parade celebrating home rule, in the near future.

Loomfixers Held Meeting

The members of Loomfixers' union held a business meeting last evening. The meeting was held in Carpenter's hall in the Runkel building. Considerable important business was transacted. Two propositions for membership were received and were laid over for one week. The convention of loomfixers from all parts of New England, which will be held in this city Sunday was the main topic for discussion. The convention committee reported that final arrangements had been made and that the convention this year promised to eclipse any convention of loomfixers run previously in this city. President Count has been elected in order to make the convention a success and thanked each and every member for his share, saying that they were always "on the spot" when necessary demanded and that they always came out with flying colors.

Workers Share Profits

About 600 employees of the Bourne mills, Fall River, Mass., who have been in the employment of the company for the past six months, received the regular semi-annual dividend, at the rate of three per cent in wages paid from the 1st of December, 1913, to the 31st of June, 1914. The amount paid out was about $1000, and each individual received approximately three quarters of one week's salary. This organization was established in 1885, and during those many years there was only once that the employees did not receive the usual dividend, which was in the year 1904. The directors have decided to continue this for another six months.

The Borden Will

The will of the late M. C. D. Borden, the owner of the big Fall River Works mills and the American Printing Co., at Fall River, has been made public. His estate has been equally divided among his three sons. Mr. Borden provided in his will that his wife, Harriet M. Borden, should have the life use of his estate, and at her death it was to revert to his sons. Mrs. Borden died before her husband. Yale university, of which Mr. Borden was a graduate, was the only institution to receive a bequest. The institution received $250,000. Through his lifetime also he was a liberal contributor to Yale. Mr. Borden left a gross estate of personal and real property amounting to $7,592,743.

General Labor Notes

In New Jersey all state employees properly come under the provisions of the compensation law, including chauffeurs. The farmer does not come under the Illinois workmen's compensation act, according to a decision of the state industrial board. The California supreme court has upheld a law fixing the interest limit at 2 per cent a month in that state. This decision is a blow to chattel loan agents. A profit of $10,000,000 was made during the last twelve months by the 140 co-operative societies comprising the northern section of the British Co-operative union.

Thanks to the textile and clothing workers in New York, the percentage of women among unionists in the state has risen from 2.99 in 1905 to 11.8 in 1913.

The American Federation of Labor advocates abolishing employment of white women or girls in establishments controlled by Chinese or Japanese.

Demand of the employees of the London, England, General Omnibus company include: Abolition of the payment per journey system; $2.10 a day of nine hours for drivers, and $2.24 per day for conductors.

During his two years' stay in New England, Organizer Fay has won more than 10,000 new members for the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America.

Attorney General Cession has ruled that the lowest state board of control may send prisoners to work on the public highways of the state without armed guards.

All state and foreign nation commissions to the Panama-Pacific International exposition have awarded contracts for their buildings to firms employing union labor exclusively.

Workmen's compensation, minimum wage law, widows' pensions and fire-escapes were among the recommendations urged by State Factory Inspector Mitchell of Tennessee, in his first annual report to Governor Hooper.

The introduction of modern methods and labor saving machinery into the bakery industry has had the effect of displacing many skilled workmen in the large bakeries throughout the country.

Many of the Hindus who have lost their places in the sawmills of British Columbia owing to whites being employed in their places have made application to be admitted into the United States and many have already crossed the border.

THE WATER SUPPLY FOR TOWNS

Can Be Easily Supplied
by Lowell Water Dept
Says Supt. Thomas

Cost of Connecting No.
Chelmsford and Dra-
cut Navy Yard Light

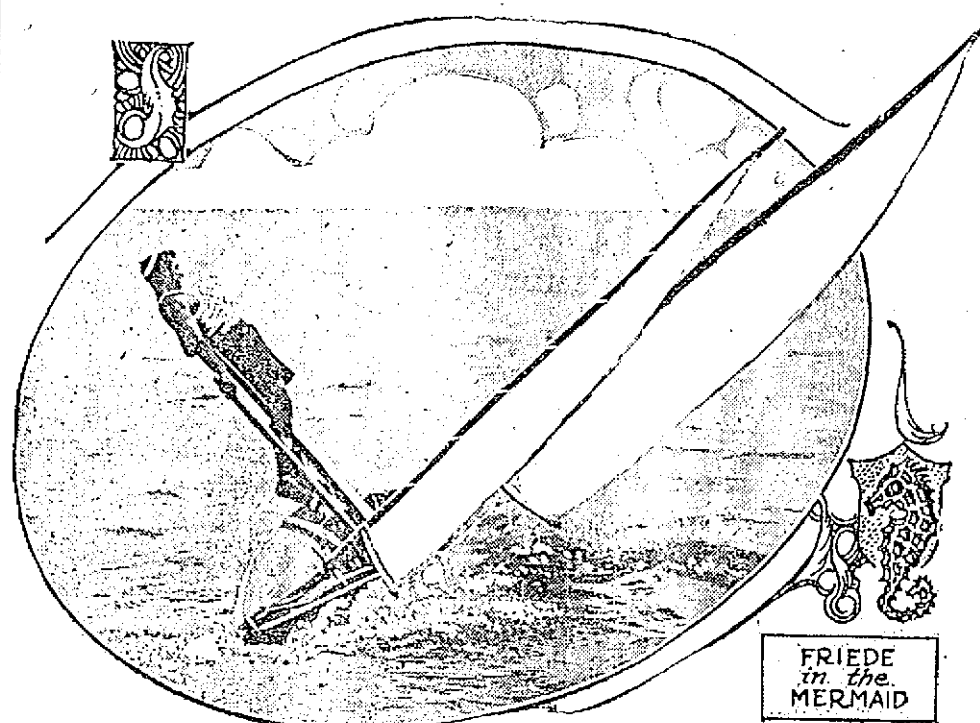

SUPT. ROBERT J. THOMAS

The annexation spirit has caught many residents of the suburban towns, but what seems to puzzle several of the suburbanites is the water question, that is how Lowell would manage to supply the surrounding towns with water without interfering with her own service. But this matter was explained this morning in an interview with Commissioner Carmichael and Supt. Thomas. When asked as to the extension of mains to the neighboring towns, Col. Carmichael allowed that there should be little difficulty but he confessed that he was not an expert on such matters and referred the reporter to Supt. Thomas, who regards the matter as quite practical and even easy. According to Supt. Thomas, Lowell could supply Dra cut, North Chelmsford

LEO FRIEDE AND THE MERMAID, PROBABLE DEFENDERS FOR INTERNATIONAL CANOE TROPHY

Leo Friede will again defend the international canoe sailing trophy this year. He was successful last summer and is looked upon as a probable winner when the little boats meet for the final contest. Friede sails the canoe Mermaid and was successful in eliminating J. A. Newman of Boston in the Bug, Wolters of Rochester, N. Y., in the Mad and several other aspirants for the honor.

TO CONSOLIDATE TRUST LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, July 14.—While the senate judiciary and inter-state commerce committees continued their labors today to perfect the administration anti-trust program efforts were being made for joint sessions of the two committees with a view to consolidating all pending trust legislation. Senator Reed of Missouri, who is leading the movement for joint sessions, had prepared a resolution on the subject. He was expected to offer the resolution in the senate today. Sentiment in favor of the proposal was said today to be growing in favor despite the fact that an effort made by the inter-state commerce committee to have the judiciary committee co-operate with it had proven unsuccessful.

and Tewksbury with water without hardly noticing it. Mr. Thomas also gave valuable information concerning the extension of water mains to surrounding towns and he believes it would be a small matter to do the work, especially in North Chelmsford and the parts of Dra cut where water systems are already in existence.

To extend the water main to Belle Grove, Mr. Thomas figures it would cost approximately $12,000, that is, $6000 to a mile for an eight-inch main, and inasmuch as the city main goes as far as the corner of First and Simpson streets, there is left a distance of about two miles to cover. These figures include material and labor.

To Dra cut Centre and the Navy Yard the cost of supplying water would be very small, inasmuch as those two places have already got water mains and all that would be necessary would be to connect the Lowell mains to the others and send the water through. The city main in Bridge street toward Dra cut Centre extends beyond Willard street, this being an eight-inch main, while in Willard street as far as the city line lies a six-inch main. Mr. Thomas believes that the Bridge street main above Sixth street should be enlarged for the city's benefit and this work could be done with the coupling of the city main to the Dra cut main. In the Navy Yard there is also a water system and it would be a very small matter to connect the city main to the Navy Yard pipe. To Collinsville it would require about two miles of piping at about $6000 a mile. A few years ago the total cost of connecting Lowell with Dra cut was figured out, and at that time, which was before water systems were installed in the town, the approximate cost of the work had been figured at about $30,000, but this would now be reduced much more than half.

North Chelmsford is about in the same situation as Dra cut for it has its own water supply and all that would be necessary would be to extend the Princeton street ten-inch main at a very small cost. Toward Tewksbury the city main extends as far as Spalding park which would mean an extension of the city main of about two miles and a half, and this would take in the Wamecet district. In Rogers street a ten-inch main is laid as far as Phoenix avenue and from there to the city line is an eight-inch main.

WILL OF HENRY BARNES

FILED IN SUFFOLK PROBATE COURT—LOWELL MAN NAMED AS EXECUTOR OF ESTATE

The will of Henry K. Barnes of Boston, who died recently, was filed yesterday in the Suffolk probate court, and Oliver H. Perry of 232 Nesmith street, this city, has been named as executor of the estate. For his services in this capacity, according to the terms of the will, Mr. Perry will receive $15,000.

Mr. Barnes, who was a bachelor, had lived at Young's hotel, Boston, for 40 years, and his private bequests, which amount to $50,950, include many of the employees of that hotel. To his physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, Mr. Barnes left $5000, and to Dr. Cilley's daughter, Dorothy, $3000.

Royal H. Abbott, Charles A. Rideout, Walter M. Ray and Elizabeth E. Ray, clerks in the office of the H. K. Barnes Co., Boston, are given respectively, $5000, $4000 and $3000. Other clerks and former employees are remembered with smaller amounts, and all persons who, on Nov. 22, 1912, were in the employ of the company are to receive $50 each.

The following legacies were given to employees of Young's hotel: Sam (or Sim) Banks, valet, William Maynor, waiter, and Julius Rudolph, $50 each; Eva Day, housekeeper, Margaret Kennison and Grace Myrick, telephone operators, $200 each; Minna Worcester, Edith Leary and Mary Malone, telephone operators, Elizabeth Tomney and Elizabeth Perry, employed at the news stand, Adelaide Bresnahan, telegrapher, Leonard W. Cook, William W. Follanhee and C. E. Williams, clerks, George Betts, head waiter, Patrick McMahon, barber, and Catherine Sullivan, right telephone operator, $100 each.

Mr. Barnes left $1000 each to the Boston Floating hospital, Children's Mission, to the Children of the Destitute, Newbury's Reading Room association, and the Salvation Army for charity work in Boston and Salem.

The residue of his estate is divided into seven parts, of which Elizabeth Ray of Hyde Park, Susan Lyon Hunt and Emma Leona Hunt get two parts each, and Margaret C. Colgate the remaining seventh.

INJURED AT CHELMSFORD

ABRAHAM STONE OF TYNGSBORO STRUCK BY D. & M. ENGINE—TOWN NEWS

Abraham Stone, employed by the Boston & Maine railroad as a lamp trimmer in Chelmsford, suffered a painful accident yesterday while at work near the Riverside cemetery in Chelmsford when he was struck by a shifting engine and thrown against a stone wall, sustaining severe bruises to both legs and possible internal injuries. It is said that Mr. Stone became confused when two trains were approaching at the same time and stepped directly in front of the shifting engine. He was removed to his home in Tyngsboro where it was stated he would recover.

David Ingham, carrier on route No. 1, R. F. D., has been elected a delegate to the convention of rural carriers, to be held in Washington, D. C. in August.

HEAT IS QUICK TO AFFECT THE BOWELS

Well-Known Fact That Extreme Heat Conduces to Chronic Constipation

So many people are in the habit of eating cold food in hot weather that constipation is very common during summer. It is best to vary the food and have some hot things, as, for example, soups and hot fish and meats, if that is to be the diet. Food water should be drunk sparingly.

In spite of all care people will become constipated, and if you find yourself in that condition you can get immediate relief by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. There is no time of the year when you should be more careful of constipation than in the summer, for many of the serious illnesses as well as the fatalities result from a clogging up of the bowels. You also need general good health to withstand the heat, and hence Syrup Pepsin is best to take because it contains tonic ingredients that help to build up the entire system.

Numerous users throughout the land will verify these facts, among them Mr. George C. Allen, 408 N. Main st., Reading, Mass., who recovered his health completely after using two bottles; and Miss Anna Schott, 219 S. Washington st., Baltimore, Md., who uses it for constipation and now has her mother and friends also using it.

They now avoid drastic remedies like cathartics, tablets, purgatives, salt waters, pills and such things. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is mild and pleasant, and children like it. You can obtain it of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a large bottle. Each bottle must do what is claimed or your money will be refunded. Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it, postpaid, by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 413 Washington st., Monticello, Ill.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Jimmie Gray and Andy Roach may complain about bad weather, poor attendance, etc., but they should worry. They're getting by and their players are getting their salaries and the public is getting a good article of baseball. In the old days it used to be a saying: "They'll last till after the 4th of July." After the Fourth the team that could finish the season was in luck. Twenty-five years ago the Lowell team's trouble began immediately after the Fourth, for just one week after the glorious holiday a change of management came about and for a time it looked as if the team was about to embark for Salt River.

Here's what The Sun of 25 years ago said of the local baseball situation: "Saturday night, Senator Frank W. Howe concluded that he had had all the baseball experience that he could stand, so he dropped the Lowell club with a suddenness that set the whole town by the ears. Players and public were startled and the news was sent over the land that baseball in this town had died a sudden death."

"All day Sunday the reported death of baseball was discussed and many regrets were expressed that the sport must go to the wall. But on Monday there was a rift in the clouds when it was reported that ex-Alderman Peter H. Donohoe and Editor Dennis Sullivan of the News were to take the team in hand and continue it as a member of the Atlantic association."

"Monday evening Messrs. Donohoe and Sullivan met the players and Senator Howe at the American house and at the end of the conference the franchise, contracts, grandstands, bleachers, uniforms, pennants, etc., were turned over to the new managers and the players agreed to remain and play out the season. Every lover of baseball received this news with a whoop and when it was said that games will be played hereafter on the Fair Grounds instead of the Riverside grounds there was more joy than ever before. Plans for baseball on the Fair Grounds under new management were gotten under way at once. Manager Congrove retired from the management of the old club and Captain Nate M. Kellogg was appointed captain and manager under the new order of things. Work on a new diamond for the grounds and the work of removing the grandstands, bleachers, etc., was begun immediately after Tuesday's game with New Haven. The Lowellists are now away on a ten days' trip and when they return new quarters will be awaiting them at the Fair Grounds. On the new grounds there will be fewer bleachers, but a better chance to play the game as it should be played. Lowell people should see to it that the new management receives proper encouragement for their pluck in taking the team as it was about to go under."

It was even then in the old days of baseball, in Lowell.

The Sun further says: "The Fair Grounds is the place to see fair playing. No more home runs into River street."

The Riverside grounds were so small that both outfield fences were short and any ball that went over the left field fence dropped into the river where the management kept a man in a boat to "shag" after lost balls. When a ball had been recovered from the river and put into play again it was as heavy as lead. If a ball went over the right fence it went into River street, now Lakeview avenue, where an army of kids awaited it and generally it never came back but subsequently did yeoman service on the sand lots. It was a particularly high drive it usually dropped into an open window of one of the tenements along the line and again it was gone forever. Sometimes the window would be closed and the ball would crash through a pane of glass. In that event it was always promptly returned by the tenant together with a bill for the broken glass (at the double thick price), and was not given up until the bill was paid. At the Fair Grounds the only chance to put a ball over the grandstand into Gorham street. In that case the ball always came back, for the neighbors across from the Fair Grounds had long since ceased to take an interest in the national game or any other for that matter, and remained undisturbed in their narrow tenements, while the foul balls pattered on their turf roofs.

The old Sun says: "Billy Sullivan pitches finely for a time and then has a couple of off days. Thursday was one of his off days. His namesake, Billy, of the Sun, pitches finely six days a week and has an off day every Sunday, but with no rain checks for wet Sundays."

Likewise we are told: "Henry Lynch assaulted Cuddy at Worcester, Wednesday, and was arrested for assault. He claimed that Cuddy attempted to interfere with him while running a base. If Cuddy did that, it was a shame for it was so seldom that Henry was found guilty of attempting to run a base that he should have been allowed the opportunity without interference. Cuddy recovered from the effects of the assault and bears no marks of the encounter on his genial countenance today."

Bankers vs. Newspapermen

Says the old Sun: "The Bankers gave the Newspapermen a beating on the Riverside grounds, Wednesday. C. F. Coburn and Charles Mitchell were the battery for the Newspapermen, while Alderman Walter F. Sawyer and Clogston officiated for the Bankers. The two Smiths—Lawrence J. and Joseph—were the umpires. Eaton, Chadwick, Crowley, John Sawyer, W. M. Sawyer and Farley did the batting for the Bankers, and Manning, Harrington, Mitchell, Cook and Martin for the Newspapermen. Up to the seventh inning the score was very close but then several errors let the Bankers get in six runs. The final score was 14 to 7."

George Dempsey's Find

Things were coming Geo. C. Dempsey's way as far back as quarter of a century ago, for the Sun of 25 years ago states: "Mr. George C. Dempsey picked up a pocketbook in Dutton street Tuesday. Opening it he found a bundle of money, $500 in all. The money was dropped by Michael Riley, a Hudson farmer, who nearly fainted when he discovered that his money was gone and he returned to his home thinking that he would never see it again. Mr. Dempsey returned the money and refused to accept anything but Mr. Riley's blessing."

And he's never had a bad day since. Hope Springs Eternal, etc. The Sun a quarter of a century ago had the following editorial:

"Certain Irish-Americans are talking of founding an Irish-Republic in lower California. Walk a while, friends. Some day we will have an Irish republic in Ireland, the proper place for such an institution."

After quarter of a century of watchful waiting, the home rule bill has just passed the house of commons, and the lords' veto has been wiped out, so that all now remaining is the king's signature. Within quarter of a century one home rule bill was killed in the house of commons while a second got by the lower branch and was killed in the house of lords.

Griffin-Swan Nuptials

The old Sun says: "Mr. Charles Griffin who is established in business here as a wheelwright and Miss Sara Swan, school principal of the River Street school, were united in marriage, Tuesday, July 16, 1889, at their future residence in South Walker street, by Rev. Mr. Adair. The newly wedded pair have the best wishes and congratulations of a wide circle of acquaintances, among whom they are deservedly popular. Mr. and Mrs. Griffin will be happy to receive their friends at their new home after August first."

Mrs. Griffin has since become noted as a writer and her recent publication entitled "Quaint Bits of Lowell History" is a charming and interesting little book and just what its title says it is, book and just that its title says it is.

When Doulier Got His "Pull"

While George C. Dempsey was picking up pocketbooks containing fatwads of money, 25 years ago, his present business partner, Patrick Keyes, Jr., was also in the limelight though in a less lucrative way, for Mr. Keyes, we find acting as floor director of a dance at a union outing of Lowell and Lawrence Catholic societies. As this was before the days of the tango and hesitation there's no chance for gossip. The old Sun says: "There were about 300 persons from Lowell and Lawrence at Canobie lake, Thursday. The picnic was held by the Catholic union of Lowell and the Catholic League of Lawrence. Owing to the threatening weather the attendance was not as large as was expected, but those who attended enjoyed themselves. The following clergymen were present: Rev. Fr. McKenna, of Lowell; Rev. Dennis Whaley of St. Joseph's church, Boston; Rev. J. O'Brien, O. S. A., of St. Mary's church, Lawrence; Rev. T. H. Welch of St. Patrick's, Lawrence; Rev. James McGowan of St. Mary's, Lawrence. In the sports which took place in the morning, Joseph Donohoe, of Lowell won first prize in the hop-step and jump and James Reynolds of Lawrence, second. Thomas Doulier of this city and J. Sullivan of Lawrence won the one-mile boat race and P. Sullivan and W. S. Morris of Lawrence, the second prize. P. Keyes, Jr., was floor manager in the dancing, and where Nuts' orchestra furnished music. The ball game was not played because of the poor weather."

It is certainly interesting to find out what people used to do quarter of a century ago. What imagine that License Commissioner Doulier was ever an earman. It must have been those days that he contracted the "pull" that has been a great help to him in later years.

democratic papers immediately christened him "Little Apples," and went on to discuss at great length the "fact," as brought out by Gov. Long, that this year the republican party had placed in nomination a weakling, a "little apple," and was reserving its big apples for a year when there was a chance to win. Col. Allen, of course, was defeated but ex-Gov. Long worked nobly to repair the wrong in later years and, judging by the colonel's subsequent career, it did him no harm.

"Mr. F. Maguire is our old friend, Thomas of the Sun who, like the celebrated watering place that he visited quarter of a century ago, is running yet. In those days Thomas was engaged in the confectionery business in which he developed a sweetness of manner and vocabulary that have remained with him these many years. Shortly afterward he entered the employ of The Sun and is still on the job and will be, we hope, "ad multos annos," whatever that is.

"Little Apples on Top"

The Sun of quarter of a century ago hardly let a week go by without an editorial reference to the late "pa" who at that particular time had his eye on the office of lieutenant governor of this grand old commonwealth. Lowell up to that time had been honored with two governors, Thomas Talbot and Benjamin F. Butler, and if I am not mistaken three lieutenant governors, Eliza Huntington, John Nesmith and Thomas Talbot. Twenty-five years ago, according to The Sun, Lowell had republican candidates both for governor and lieutenant governor as will be seen from the following editorial:

"Ever since the firm of Jewett and Swift was interested in the defeat of Congressman Allen because he voted for the law which placed a tax on oleomargarine, Col. Allen has been wearing a club up his sleeve for 'Pa' Jewett. With this fact in view it isn't so remarkable that Col. Allen is a candidate for the nomination for governor on the same ticket on which 'Pa' Jewett hopes to pass as a candidate for lieutenant governor. Col. Allen is an all-round politician and to him revenge is sweet."

If Col. Allen was simply looking for "Pa" Jewett's scalp in 1889 he was successful, for "Pa" did not receive the nomination. But the colonel went down for the gubernatorial nomination in that year as well, so that "Pa" had a little satisfaction out of it anyway. In 1889, John Q. A. Brackett was elected governor over William E. Russell and William H. Hallie lieutenant governor over John W. Cerecarn. The following year William E. Russell defeated Gov. Brackett for a second term, the vote being: Russell 140,507, and Brackett 131,454. Then Russell proceeded to become a prominent and popular national figure and when it came time for him to run for a second term there was no great desire on the part of any republican to do battle with him. But after turning down Col. Allen two years previous the republican leaders thought to "square" themselves by according him the doubtful honor of the nomination in a year when it was almost a foregone conclusion that Gov. Russell would be elected. Allen was nominated but afterward was practically left to his own resources by the leaders, who weren't strong on bombing last causes. But if there had been any doubt about Col. Allen's subsequent defeat, before the convention it was all wiped out in the very convention in which he was nominated, by one speech made by former Gov. John D. Long, who was one of the party's biggest guns in those days. Ex-Gov. Long when called upon was greeted with tremendous applause. With characteristic eloquence he lauded the praises of the party and its candidate and compared the solidity of the grand old party to the superficial strength, or veneer, of the democracy. Russell was a big man in the papers, etc., but there was nothing in the party behind him, said the speaker. The democratic party, he said, reminded him of the trick adopted by the fox farmer to sell his apples. In filling his barrels for market the wily farmer put the big, rosy apples on the top of the barrel and hid the little apples at the bottom so that the purchaser would be fooled. Had he stopped there everything would have been lovely, but John D. was "jest het up" and he continued to say: "But such is not the case with the republican party. It offers no deception to the voters. It puts its 'little apples on top.'"

Col. Allen had just been placed at the top of the state ticket and the democratic papers immediately christened him "Little Apples," and went on to discuss at great length the "fact," as brought out by Gov. Long, that this year the republican party had placed in nomination a weakling, a "little apple," and was reserving its big apples for a year when there was a chance to win. Col. Allen, of course, was defeated but ex-Gov. Long worked nobly to repair the wrong in later years and, judging by the colonel's subsequent career, it did him no harm.

Looking just as young as he did 25 years ago, "Little Johnnie" Bourke, one of Lowell's best known hotel clerks of quarter of a century ago, and the organizer of the famous Lowell branch of "Hogans," a jolly crowd of good fellows who held forth years ago, came into town a day or two ago to renew old acquaintances. For the past several years Mr. Bourke has resided with nieces in Salem and had a thrilling experience during the fire. Mr. Bourke's home is in Gardner street only a short distance from the City Orphan asylum in Lafayette street which was reduced to ashes. As the fire approached his home in Gardner street, Johnnie mounted the roof with a garden hose and for hours kept a stream going on the roof while the other members of the family removed the household furniture. Sparks and flying embers without number landed on the roof, but Johnnie was there with the hose and by the best of good fortune the house was saved, although practically all of the neighbors suffered. "It was the hardest day's work I ever did," said Johnnie, "and perhaps I wasn't scorched by the heat."

"CUTTING" POLARINE OUT OF THE CRUDE

It's routine work, done on a tremendous scale with great stills, towering agitators, and huge compressors. Yet it is all done as deftly, as delicately, and as surely as the chemist might do it, working alone in his laboratory.

When the process is completed, the finished product, has assumed certain physical properties that are unvarying in every drop of genuine Polarine you buy.

Polarine

These properties are:

Stability: Polarine maintains its lubricating body at high temperatures.

Low Cold Test: Polarine feeds freely down to zero.

Purity: Polarine is an absolutely clean oil. Every particle of free carbon is removed in the course of the refining process.

Lubricating efficiency is merely a matter of getting an oil which has those qualities always and feeding it to your engine in the right amount.

BRIGHT BUSINESS OUTLOOK

The financial journals, business magazines and other interests that make a study of conditions generally throughout the country are emphatically of the opinion that the uncertainty and world-wide stagnation which have created a measure of business depression for some time past are passing and that the country is on the eve of a great business revival. This confident outlook justifies the recent prediction of the president and it seems to be borne out by those signs by which business conditions are generally prognosticated.

In the first place, a recent improvement in the steel industry has made the American public look forward to better times, for the steel industry is what the Springfield Union calls "the country's barometrical industry," and most of the dismal forebodings in congress and out for some time have been based on the steel outlook. The June report of the United States Steel Corporation shows that for the first time since February the volume of new orders exceeded deliveries last month. The improvement in the condition of steel will set about 20 per cent more of the steel-producing machinery in motion. In this one activity tangible improvement is to be expected immediately, and its betterment will have an effect on many other industries.

Even more important than the report of the steel industry is the announcement, made in the government crop report, of a phenomenally great yield of wheat and other crops in proportion. At the same time foreign reports indicate contrary conditions abroad so that this country may look forward to the greatest crops in years and a ready market for our exports in food products. Private reports had already indicated unprecedented crops and now the official government reports show that early predictions were not exaggerated. The farm returns have always had the strongest influence on the general business of the country, giving an immediate impetus to the financial markets. The government, anticipating a shortage in the money supply has announced that it stands ready to help the farmers, and the attention of the public will be centered on this splendid condition to a degree that will offset the temporary unfavorable factors that impede progress.

Though our local mills have taken advantage of the partial depression in the textile industry to announce their mid year vacation, it is very significant that in other parts of the country the usual vacation period has been shortened owing to an increased demand for their products. Stagnation in the textile industry can never be very long, owing to the conditions surrounding the business and it is apparent that the worst is now over, though so far as this is concerned, Lowell has not had much reason to complain.

In practically all other lines of industry a vast improvement may be noted. Bank clearings in June were larger than in the same month in either 1912 or 1913, and the stock market sales reflect optimism. As one contemporary says: "Fundamental conditions are sound, and furnish almost an ideal basis for business expansion. The one great thing needed is more confidence." That confidence will grow may be learned from the attitude of business regarding the conferences which President Wilson has had and will continue to have with the leaders of industry, for it is now evident that the administration will not be other than fair-minded in its dealings with the business problems to come up in the near future. After a long and detailed canvass of business conditions in all parts of the country and after interviewing hundreds of bankers, manufacturers and railroad heads, the New York Times says: "There is apparent, running through the entire mass of reports, a feeling of confidence in the immediate future. This is not the perfunctory optimism that is easily tapped, but rings true and is supported by conditions cited in replies."

GOOD ROADS NEEDED

Even taking into account the adverse factors of recent origin which prevent Commissioner Morse from making some much needed repairs on the principal streets of the city, it must be apparent to the most casual observer that the streets and roads both in this city and in its immediate vicinity stand in need of a thorough renewal, for in all parts of Lowell are patches where the surface has worn into great holes, with hardship to automobilists and to general traffic. Conditions partly justify the stand taken by the residents of Tewksbury and other neighboring towns who point to our streets and highways when we strive to convince them of the advantages to be derived from annexation with this city. They may well call attention to Rogers street, to Gorham street, to parts of Central street to portions of Pawtucket street, and above all to Westford street, where a decided feeling of protest against municipal conditions exists.

Perhaps the run down condition of the streets may not be due wholly to recent neglect, but it is always the way of people to blame those in charge when conditions are noted.

While Lowell is striving to meet its street and road problems and but with indifferent success, other cities and states are making great strides in the good roads movement which is now regarded by all communities as a very paying proposition. The commission for improvements in Desaut following the completion of the new river road is an indication of the progressive spirit that follows good roads everywhere, and if the other arteries of traffic leading into Lowell from all directions were so improved, the city would gain materially in property valuation and higher standards of everything else in proportion. It is a matter for serious reproach that the roads which run through our best part section are notoriously bad, and all automobilists know that to find good roads they must go well outside the city limits in almost all directions.

Recent reports from Illinois show that the western state is undergoing a perfect fever of road building, over 100,000 miles of roads under state aid and supervision being constructed at the present time. Great sums are being spent in like manner in almost every state in the Union for the value of good streets and highways will not now be doubted by students of state and municipal conditions. It is to be hoped that the needs of the public will prevail in this city very soon over every other consideration and that the commissioner in charge of our streets will not allow any other influences to sway him, to the inconvenience of the citizens and to the ultimate disadvantage of the city.

WORCESTER'S WATER PRESSURE

The Worcester Gazette calls editorial attention to possibilities in that city which invite a repetition of the Salem disaster, if a fire should break out in certain sections during a high wind. The evil which is thus emphasized is low water pressure, and there are men in Lowell who assert that in Belvidere and in some other sections, the same might happen in Lowell if a fire gained great headway. It is easy to understand what would have been the consequence in the Highland district had a serious fire started there previous to 1912, and it is to be feared that the citizens of Lowell did not fully appreciate the improvement of that period, which was one of many, although the big water main has not yet been utilized. If this city suffers from a low water pressure in any other section, money should not be spared in attending to it, for with a low water pressure the most efficient fire-fighting force can do but little. It will be a long time before the people of Massachusetts will cease to speak of Salem or to apply its lessons to local needs. The time to profit by the terrible lesson is now while its echoes are still in the air. Lowell, Worcester and all other sister cities must beware of the wooden shingles, hasty construction, run-down tenements in congested areas and the low water pressure which, though mentioned last is the most dangerous of all.

MEAT PRICES

The price of many commodities rises or falls periodically owing to certain contributory conditions, but the price of meat rises and still rises, despite any and all conditions. At last the packers were wont to ascribe rising prices to the shortage in grain and other fodder. Then they attributed it to the falling off in the cattle raising industry. The tariff changes were blamed for some of it. The one important fact to the public is that no influence has tended to lower the price, and there is good ground for supposing that prices are soaring higher and higher because the packers would have it so and are in a position to enforce their demands. When the new meat tariff lowered the bars to best from Argentina and other foreign points, the American packers

BILE AND BILIOUSNESS

Bile is manufactured in the cells of the liver. It assists digestion and prevents putrefaction in the intestines. Bile is necessary to life but excess of bile is poisonous.

The excess of excessive secretion of bile and failure to eliminate it from the blood, which is also a function of the liver, are white-coated or brown-furred tongue, bitter taste in the mouth, indigestion, headache, lack of appetite, constipation and weariness. This is a condition popularly called biliousness and points directly to the need of something to regulate the liver. For this purpose the claim is made that Pinkettes, the new laxative, are truly superior to old-fashioned liver medicines which over-stimulate the liver and when their use is stopped, leave the liver more torpid than before. That over-stimulation debilitates the liver is as certain as anything known in the science of medicine. Pinkettes are truly sugar-coated pills, dainty to take, easy on action and they do not upset the stomach nor cause griping. Given a thorough trial they really correct chronic constipation. Your druggist sells Pinkettes or they will be sent postpaid, on receipt of price, 25 cents per bottle, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Send today for booklet and free sample.

promptly got hold of the refrigerator and eventually of the supply of meat at the foreign source, and price went up instead of coming down. At present the crop outlook is unusually bright and there does not seem to be any good reason why meats should become dearer, unless cattle are very scarce as a food product. It is certain that if meat goes much higher, many people will be forced to become vegetarians. In this era of congressional and other governmental investigations, the searchlight should be turned on the Chicago packers so that the people of the country may know if they are being led justly or unjustly.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE FINDING

Things are certainly breaking darkly for the New Haven railroad. After years of financial embarrassment, persistent hounding by the public, legislative animosity, and state interference it is as roundly scored in the last report of the interstate commerce commission as any public utility could very well be—and survive. With the "confessions" of former President Melton still in the air, the charge is pointed out and deliberately made that the directors wrecked the involved property, robbed the stockholders and brought their railroad to the verge of bankruptcy. Without any palliating circumstances charge after charge is driven home and enough evidence is given to show that so far from being wronged in the popular estimate, the

New Haven was treated all too kindly by the New England public. It will meet at the foreign source, and price went up instead of coming down. At present the crop outlook is unusually bright and there does not seem to be any good reason why meats should become dearer, unless cattle are very scarce as a food product. It is certain that if meat goes much higher, many people will be forced to become vegetarians. ## RIOTING BY CAMPERS

If such things as the Sunday riots of campers in Tewksbury continue, the time is not far distant when the uniformed policeman will be one of the regular sights of camp localities. A few years ago a camp was looked upon as a place of legitimate summer enjoyment where all people might lay aside their cares and live close to nature. Today a feeling of suspicion is growing up in the popular mind which threatens to react against camp life in general. This is due to the presence of undesirable people at summer places and it is to the best interests of all summer communities to weed out the licentious and lawless so that decent campers may not suffer for the faults of the few.

WAS BRILLIANT REPORTER

The greatest journalist the world ever knew lived 1500 or more years before the invention of type, according to Rev. Dr. Frank N. Palmer, says the Philadelphia Bulletin.

St. Matthew put his chronicles in 28 chapters; St. Luke used 24 to tell his story; St. John used 21, but St. Mark covered all the details more vividly in 16, and, true to the spirit of action that animates his kind, put a miracle in every chapter.

St. Mark, Dr. Palmer said, was the reporter among the apostles. His viewpoint, his language and his marvelous ability to give action and climax, dash and color in a sentence should be a glowing example to the newspaper writers of this day.

Each of the other apostles speaks of skies that opened. Mark says they were rent asunder. He is the only one among his brethren who stopped dutifully to describe the color of a given scene. In the writings of his fellows it is told that the people went to the sermon on the mount. Mark writes vividly that the people ran.

In writing for the Romans he used colorful allusions and the references to wild beasts to touch their intelligence in sympathetic fashion at every stroke.

THIS IS STRAIGHT DOPE

"Let me have hold of that plow," said a father to his boy, who was doing the best he knew to turn a good furrow. "It does not seem to be in you to make a good plowman."

Hurt, and his feeling of conscious ability to do things much lessened, the boy walked sadly away to other work, while the father did, it is true, a fine job of plowing. The father had helped the field and hurt the boy.

"Fine, son, fine," said another father that day to his son, also wrestling for the first time with the problem of plowing. "You are doing bravely."

Now, may I suggest that you lower your head a wee bit and lengthen out the braces a hole? You see the line of draft is a little high. Let me show you the principle of the thing."

Together they counseled and tinkered. The lad started off again, doing better work, pleased, grateful and confident. He had been given a notable start toward success in life just by that bit of praise, encouragement and teaching.

Half the value of the farm is as a place to develop the boy.—Breder's Gazette.

When our great country developed, and riches beyond all that history had recorded were produced the natural effect was seen. From high to low we have become prodigals, with little plan or calculation for the most of us, pursuing wealth and wasting it as we go.—Manchester Leader.

OUTCAST ANIMALS Paterson is a city of about 150,000 people and it is estimated that there are 1500 and 2000 stray, homeless, un cared for dogs, that is too many. For it must mean that there are three or four times as many more or less of actively sponsored dogs. The question of the economic limit of dog population is one that has never been satisfactorily settled, and probably never will be so long as we are in the habit of room and plenty of food for the people. But even a few un cared-for, irresponsible dogs is too many. Paterson has more than a few.—Worcester Gazette.

CITY HOME RULE So far as possible, municipalities should be encouraged and even required to solve their problems and settle their disputes without drawing upon the time and energy of the legislators at the state house. If they will do this they will come to be better governed and the work of the legislature will be done more satisfactorily and at less expense.—Springfield Union.

LIQUOR AND CRIME If any set of men know the evils of the use and sale of intoxicating liquors it is men who are in jail or prison for some crime. An examination of up wards of 30,000 people sentenced for crime in Massachusetts during the course of one year, on investigation ordered by the state legislature and conducted by the bureau of statistics, showed that more than 90 out of every hundred were addicted to the use of intoxicating liquor. Our recollection is about 94 per cent.—Fall River News.

THE MANLY ART Development of self-control is another pronounced virtue of the "manly art." The man who flies in a rage at the slightest provocation, who finds it impossible to control his temper and who realizes that these faults are calculated to ruin and embitter his whole

HOME RULE BILL AGAIN

LONDON, July 14.—The house of lords today passed the third reading of the bill to amend the Irish home rule bill and sent it across to the house of commons for consideration.

In its closing stage in the upper house, the Marquis of Crewe, the liberal leader, took part in the debate on the bill and indirectly promised that the attainment of an agreement in regard to the elimination of the time limit by which the counties of Ulster were allowed to vote on the question of their exclusion from the home rule bill would not prove difficult, to say the least, in the area of the portion of Ireland to be excluded had been so greatly enlarged by the unionists that it would be a vexed and critical question. The unionists, he argued, had failed to explain how they proposed to effect the inevitable objections to exclusion from the Catholic counties of Ulster and their friends elsewhere in Ireland.

The Marquis of Crewe concluded by asking for the exercise of patience and forbearance and firmly hoping for a successful solution.

The Marquis of Lansdowne, the unionist leader, reiterated that nothing short of the unionist amendment could avert the civil war that was impending. He said this was his explanation for the demand for the total exclusion of the province of Ulster and he complained that the government had given the unionists no assistance whatever in the task of averting civil war.

At the suggestion of the Marquis of Crewe, the bill was read a third time without a vote being taken.

LOAN OF $225,000

the commissioner of water works and fire protection.

Dr. Frederick Mignault had a garage petition before the board. The doctor was present and explained that he had been ordered to make certain changes in his garage and that the necessary changes had been made. His petition was granted.

Garage for Textile School

The order appropriating $3000 for evening instruction of residents of Lowell at the Lowell Textile school, was adopted.

The petition of H. H. Sumner for a garage was assigned for hearing Aug. 4 at 11 a. m. Many minor petitions for pole locations, wire attachments, etc., were properly referred.

A bill by Michael J. Maguire for injury to property at 291 Wentworth avenue for water pipe trouble, was referred to the city solicitor, as were claims for personal injuries presented by John Harkins and Joseph C. McCaffrey.

An order having to do with the filling of the streets was adopted.

In the beginning of the year it was thought that the assessment for street watering would cover the filling and that no order specifying would be necessary, but the city solicitor opined that an order would be necessary.

John F. Saunders petitioned the municipal council for permission to erect a sign on the corner of the intersection of the street and the board of health. The commissioner and board of health recommended that the petition be granted and it was so voted.

The petition of U. Lachapelle for permission to erect an illuminated sign at 541 Middlesex street was granted.

Petition to Move Building

The petition of C. E. Pallas for permission to move a house from Ford street to Mt. Hope street came up for a second or third time. Commissioner Morse asked if everything had been made satisfactory with the Lowell Electric Light corporation, Ray State Street Railway company and other companies, and Arthur L. Egan, representing the petitioner, answered in the affirmative. Mr. Lees of the Bay State street railway was present and explained that the removal of the building would not affect the wires that extend through Pawtucket street and that the building would block travel entirely. He did not, however, appear as a remonstrant.

Mayor Murphy read a communication from the city department setting forth the number of trees that would be interfered with. None of the trees would have to be removed but a great many branches would have to be cut and it would be necessary, he said, under the rule of the park department, for the petitioner to get a permit from the superintendent of parks. On the mayor's suggestion it was voted to give the petitioner a hearing tomorrow morning, with the understanding that the petitioner first get a permit from the superintendent of parks.

James O'Flahavan was interested in the removal of the building inasmuch as he intends to build on the site at present occupied by the building in question. He asked that action be taken as soon as possible in order that he could get the foundation for a new building under way. It was suggested that it may be possible to remove the building in the early morning hours so as not to interfere with street travel.

Transfer Orders Adopted

An order appropriating $200 for the completion of the band stand on the South common was read. The scheme was to transfer the money from the appropriation for police sanitaries to an appropriation for improvements on the South common.

A transfer order having to do with the completion of the addition to the Greenhalge school was also adopted. This transfer was made from the appropriation for police sanitaries to an appropriation for "addition to Greenhalge school."

Order to Borrow $225,000

The mayor then read the following order to borrow $225,000 for a purification plant at the boulevard. The order was presented by Commissioner Crocker.

Order to borrow the sum of $225,000 and appropriate the same for the construction and establishment of a system and plant for purifying the water supply to the inhabitants of the city of Lowell, by said city.

First: That the city treasurer of the city of Lowell, subject to the approval of the commissioner of finance, be and he is hereby authorized and directed to borrow for and in behalf of the city of Lowell from any bank, firm, corporation and individual or from the commissioners of the sinking funds of the city of Lowell or from the treasurer of the commonwealth the principal sum of $225,000.

Second: That the said sum borrowed hereunder with interest, shall be paid in 30 equal, annual payments, the first payment to be made on the same day of the same month in each succeeding year until the full amount of $225,000 with interest is paid.

Third: That the said principal sum of $225,000, so borrowed, be and the same is hereby appropriated for the purposes of the construction and establishment of a system and plant for purifying the water supply to the inhabitants of the city of Lowell by said city.

Fourth: That the payments on this loan, both of principal and interest, as they become due, shall be made from the receipts of, or from the funds ## standing to the credit of the Lowell Water Works department.

On motion of Commissioner Brown it was voted to lay the order on the table and that a hearing be held one week from today at 8 p. m.

Oiling the Boulevard

Commissioner Morse speaking to the question of street oiling, said that he would like, later on, to oil the road on the north side of the boulevard. The street department has been gravely inconvenienced in its work in oiling the road in its good shape. It would have to be oiled. This is the method used by the Lowell Driving club and it is about the only stretch of road available for horse racing. Mr. Morse said he also wanted to oil the approach to the boulevard. An order presented by him was adopted.

Holidays for Police Officers

The next up was a communication from a committee representing the police department and asking for one day off in 15 for police officers and patrolmen without loss of pay and in addition to their annual vacation of two weeks.

Mayor Murphy said he had had the proposition before him for at least four months; that he had gone into the matter very thoroughly and had found that a great majority of the citizens of the city would allow their policemen a day off in 15 in addition to the regular annual vacation. He said he had talked the matter over with the superintendent of police and the superintendent was very strong in his endorsement of it. The mayor explained that he had made one change in the proposition as submitted by the police—a sort of emergency clause providing for extra house duty. This proposition is that when four, or five or six officers are having their day off, that a like number who had had their day off a week previous or thereafter, remain at the station and do house duty. "I considered this necessary in case of emergency," said the mayor and he then called for the vote. Commissioner Carmichael was opposed to the proposition and voted against it. The other four, Mayor Murphy and Commissioners Brown, Donnelly and Morse voted in favor.

Adjourned to tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Board of Health Meeting

At a meeting of the board of health, held this forenoon, the petition of Hyman Wroblewski for a stable license at 45 Hampshire street was granted, while the petition of Maurice and Annie Sidor for a stable at 113 Railroad street was laid on the table. Frank Roddy of Dracut was granted a swill license.

Grade Crossing Hearing

City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy and his assistant, Capt. McDonald, went to Boston this morning to attend a hearing in the office of A. W. DeGosse, auditor in grade crossings. The hearing had to do with the petition for the abolition of crossings in this city.

LOWELL MISSIONARY HERE

TELLS OF HIS WORK IN THE WEST AND FERTILITY OF THE SOIL—FR. BERNACHE THERE ALSO

Rev. Father Charles Ehrhard, O. M. I., a former assistant pastor at St. Joseph's parish in this city, and now pastor of the Holy Trinity church in the city of St. Joseph, Mo., is in the city of Lowell, having come here last week to attend the Oblate chapter held at the Immaculate Conception church. The reverend gentleman is favorably known in this city, having been stationed here several years and during his stay in the city of St. Joseph, he will be pleased to meet his former acquaintances.

Rev. Fr. Ehrhard left Lowell in 1909 and went to Buck Creek, Wis., where he remained 15 months, doing mission work. He was then transferred to Baltoya Harbor, Wis., where he is pastor, having with him Rev. Gustave Bernache, O. M. I., formerly of Lowell, and a brother of Rev. Arthur Bernache, O. M. I., of St. Joseph.

During his visit, the writer Fr. Ehrhard said Fr. Bernache is enjoying the best of health and seems to be pleased with his present location. He spoke in good terms of Rev. J. A. Nolin, O. M. I., new of Lowell, and who for some years was stationed at Egg Harbor, Wis., where he is now in charge of a fine granite church in that city. In speaking of Baltoya Harbor, Fr. Ehrhard said he and Fr. Bernache take care of four missions, covering a territory of 350 square miles. He said in summer they travel by automobiles and during the cold weather in horse-drawn vehicles.

The congregation is composed of English, German, French and Poles, and it is often that the same sermon is delivered in three or four different languages. Twice a year a Polish priest pays a visit to the mission in order to hear confessions in his language and conduct retreats.

Speaking of the country including Baltoya Harbor, Green Bay, Egg Harbor and other places, known as Door County, Fr. Ehrhard said: "For the past dozen years the country has been gaining renown throughout the country for its marvelous crops of cherries and it is merited. The county at present has

BOSTON MARKET

BOSTON, July 14.—The local market was practically at a standstill during the early hours of the session today in spite of the activity that developed in New York. Prices generally were unchanged.

LEADERS OPENED LOWER

NEW YORK, July 14.—General heaviness prevailed in today's early dealings on the stock exchange. In no instance of importance was the slightest gain over the preceding day's closing quotations recorded, while most of the leaders opened lower. New Haven, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, St. Paul, Norfolk and Western and New York Central declined materially. Canadian Pacific, last a point, falling to a low yesterday's low price and Consolidated Gas lost a point. Partial recovery ensued before the end of the first half-hour, except in New Haven, where selling was resumed.

New Haven was again the feature, declining on heavy dealings to 51-1/4. New York, Westchester and Boston bonds, surrendered by New Haven, added a point to help 10-1/2 point loss of yesterday. Selling of New Haven had the marks of a bear raid, but was none the less affected. Many high-grade as well as obscure issues fell under yesterday's prices, but most of the leaders held firm. Canadian Pacific, Westchester preferred, Toledo, St. Louis and Western made new low records. Bonds were irregular.

Support for New Haven produced a rally in which earlier losses were generally recovered. Canadian Pacific, Reading, Lehigh Valley and St. Paul were about yesterday's closing prices, while the Goulds and related issues were comparatively strong with gains of 1-1/2 to 2 points. The market weakened again, however, on selling of Baltimore and Ohio.

The list made speedy recovery from the attack on Baltimore and Ohio and New York Central and continued to harden. New Haven made up more than half its loss and some of the leaders were at their best prices, notably Steel Union Pacific and Amal.

After much irregularity, the result in large part of bear selling, the market made sharp recoveries in the later dealings, many of the leading issues recording material net gains. The closing was strong.

M. J. DOWD COURT OFFICER

Judge Enright Will Appoint Him Tomorrow—Salary $1000

Given Constable's License to Make Him Eligible for Position

Michael J. Dowd, former superintendent of the Chalmers street hospital, will be appointed court officer tomorrow, the appointment to come from the hands of Judge Thomas J. Enright of the local police court. Mr. Dowd was this morning given a constable's license at the regular meeting of the municipal council in order to be eligible for the position of court officer, and it is believed that he will go to work as soon as appointed.

Mr. Dowd will serve in the local police court and the salary attached to the position will be $1000. This is not a new position for most all court rooms have court officers, but in Lowell in order to keep expenses as low as possible Probation Officer Slattery handled the job. Recently, however, the county commissioners have agreed to appropriate a sum of money necessary to pay a court officer, and it was up to Judge Enright to appoint the man to the position, and when seen by the writer today Mr. Dowd would be appointed Mr. Dowd tomorrow.

The board of assessors of Tewksbury has completed the valuation of property in Tewksbury and report an increase in personal property over last year of $10,000, and an increase in real estate of $60,000; total net gain on property, $70,000; net gain on taxes, $10,000. The state taxes, county taxes and town appropriations, compared with the year 1913, show an increase of about 14 per cent, which is pretty offset by the $70,000 new property found by assessors.

J. L. CHALIFOUX'S OUTING

Arrangements are now completed for the annual outing of the clerks of the J. L. Chalifoux Co., store, which will be conducted at the expense of the firm. The affair will take place Thursday and the meeting point will be Salem Willows, the trip to be made by special electric car, which will leave Merrimack square at 5.15 a. m.

Dinner will be served at the Willow Pier Cafe and this will be followed by a boat ride on the ocean. The afternoon will be devoted to sports and a feature of the afternoon will be a baseball game between the Chalifoux Mercantile league team and a picked team, while sports for ladies will also be held. The affair will be conducted under the management of the following committee: Henry Sullivan, Samuel Smith and John Brooks.

As in previous years the outing will be conducted at the expense of Mr. Chalifoux, president and manager of the company, who will be the guest of honor for the day.

SEIZED WITH CRAMPS

WEBSTER, July 14.—After pitching a baseball game yesterday, Charles Holley, Jr., aged 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holley of High street, went swimming in Webster lake and was drowned. It is believed he was seized with cramps.

Holley was taken down while he was swimming from shore to a sailboat. Hugh Elwell, Fred Casey and Herbert Jewell, who had played on the same team with Holley, started into the water when he failed to come up again. They dived for five minutes, but were unable to bring the body to the surface.

Peter Barosia, who was called by the boys, dived and secured the body, taking it ashore.

The victim was rolled on a barrel and a pulmotor used by Dr. J. O. Genereux and Dr. George T. Hart, but had departed.

Besides his parents the victim leaves a brother and two sisters. Another drowning occurred here last night when Annie Joseph, seven years old, of 101 Hill street, fell into the Merrimack river while playing on the bank in the North Village.

Officer Henry King was called, and after searching for 15 minutes recovered the body. Dr. Leslie R. Brage was summoned and worked on the body for half an hour, but no sign of life was found.

JOHN D. GIVES $10,000

BOSTON, July 14.—The state relief fund for the Salem fire sufferers passed the half million mark yesterday. Gardner M. Lane, 41 State street, treasurer of the committee in charge, yesterday acknowledged total receipts of $501,510.

John D. Rockefeller is a contributor to the fund, his subscription of $10,000 being acknowledged yesterday. Other large contributors included the citizens of Lowell, $1500; Malden relief committee, $750; city of Brockton, $250. The citizens of Lowell sent their second installment of $500.

The second largest individual contributor yesterday was Mrs. W. H. Dunwoody, who sent $500.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Administration bills struck another success in senate committee today. The senate commerce committee was unable to agree whether the railroad securities bill should merely provide for supervision of the issue of stocks and bonds or go further and define for what purposes funds could be used. The judiciary committee spent several hours discussing constitutional questions of the Clayton omnibus trust bill. Prospects of a joint session of the two committees to work out a general program for embankment into one bill were said to be good.

DENVER, July 11.—Raymond Benjamin of Napa, Cal., was today elected grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks by acclamation.

Pitts Auto Supply

Harry Pitts of Pitts' Auto Supply, Third street, saw a public need and responded readily and quickly when he caused to be printed and distributed these fire alarm cards which are still greatly in demand. The recent calamities in Salem, Manchester, and other nearby cities, emphasizing the need of preparation and foresight in such disasters, many of which could have been averted if a little precaution was exercised and a little knowledge used. To handle the American spirit and it usually means to hustle in our own interests. But if we neglect to familiarize ourselves with these cards, which cost us nothing either in money or in inconvenience, it may prove a waste of time and money. The report of the controller of the city of New York, recently made, shows that it costs $537,500 each year for the operation and maintenance of municipally owned automobiles. This is an especially interesting statement, when one considers that each of the several scores of cars in use has replaced from three to five horses, for it gives one an idea of what the city was spending for maintaining its equine equipment, heretofore.

So important have city-owned automobiles become to the metropolis, that there is now a move under way to have a central municipal garage erected, where the automobiles may be taken care of efficiently and economically. The statement is made that at present the city is paying too much for care of its cars, as service is purchased from various private concerns throughout the several boroughs. Nearly every department of the city government has its quota of automobiles, from the 25 in use by the fire department to the one operated by the department of correction. At the present writing a great number of people have co-operated with the well known auto supply man and have called for copies of these fire alarm cards. For notwithstanding there is still a large number of people to whom these cards might be a great benefit and who have shown apparent indifference to Mr. Pitts' efforts to help them. This apathy is shown by the fact that they have not yet asked for any copies of the card.

In an undertaking such as this distribution is an important factor and it rests in this case with the people themselves to simplify this problem. Already 3,000 cards have been distributed and 4,000 more have been received just now, so don't fail to get one thinking that you will be depriving others. There are 4,000 more cards to come. It is estimated by inquiry that 50 per cent. of the people who have come to Pitts did not know where their fire alarm box was and 50 per cent. didn't know how to ring in an alarm. Only last week in Boston the ignorance of a person nearly occasioned the death of another in a burning building. The individual thought he was ringing in the alarm when in reality he was only turning the handle back and forth. Don't let such an event happen in Lowell. Study up your fire alarm card.

Pitts' card is veracious, authentic and official for it has the approbation and the endorsement of Chief Saunders, who sent the following letter to Harry Pitts on receipt of a copy from the latter:

City of Lowell, Mass., Department of Water Works and Fire Protection, City Hall, June 27, 1914.

Dear Sir: Have just received a copy of your card with directions for operating fire alarm boxes, and other information of value to all property owners. I trust they may be widely distributed and that the people will familiarize themselves with the thought matter, all of which is very essential to know. The recent terrible fire at Salem with its attendant loss of life, is an example of what sometimes happens just through lack of such knowledge. Thanking you for taking the interest to provide these cards, and with this hope that they may be appreciated and made use of.

Very sincerely yours,
E. J. Saunders, Chief.

In speaking about the way the cards are being called for, Harry expressed his delight at the rapidity with which they were going. "This shows," he said, "that I have the approval and the interest of the people in this matter." Show your appreciation and approval by getting a fire alarm card and posting it in a conspicuous place.

Peter P. Leabart, an interpreter and real estate dealer, living at 557 Summer street, Lynn, who was arrested in this city Saturday, charged with receiving stolen property in the form of money in the sum of $550, was arraigned in the police court at Lynn yesterday and his case was continued until July 18. J. Joseph O'Connor of Lowell appeared for the government. It is alleged that Joseph Keris of this city stole the sum of $800 and gave Leabart a portion of it to keep for him.

Beer Purchased at Hotel
A bottle of beer, alleged to have been purchased in a local hotel last Sunday, was responsible for a row on a farm in Tyngsboro the same day and as a result one Andrew C. Peterson was brought into court today and fined $25 for assault and battery upon Mr. Sumner Bachelder, Esq., of Boston and Tyngsboro. Defendant paid his fine.

Mr. Holbrook testified that he practices law in Boston and spends the summer months at his farm in Tyngsboro, known generally as the Noyes farm. He said that Andrew had worked for him for several weeks and last Sunday left the house about noon. During his absence the storm had passed over the town of Tyngsboro and when he stepped hastily up to his employer's house, the latter notified him of the damage and tried to get Andrew interested but the latter refused to listen.

The complainant said that he gave his employee a severe lecture about drinking during working hours and when he, the defendant, turned his back a bottle of beer was plainly displayed. Mr. Holbrook took the bottle from his pocket, and Andrew asserted and demanded it back. However, the complainant was very persistent that no employee of his should carry liquor about the premises and he told the man that he would keep it for him and return it later.

Mr. Holbrook told a lengthy story of the affair saying that Andrew insisted upon getting his bottle back and offered to fight many times. Finally, the complainant alleged, Andrew put both hands and with one struck him in the chest. He said that the defendant wanted his pay and he told him he would get it on Monday, as it was illegal to transact business on Sunday.

Mrs. Holbrook stated that Andrew was intoxicated on Sunday and challenged her husband to fight many times. She did not see any blows exchanged.

When it came the prisoner's turn to testify, he admitted that he was drunk and that he offered to fight his employer but said that he did not strike him. When asked by the court where he purchased the beer, he answered: "In a hotel about the city."

"What hotel?" queried Supt. Welch. "I don't know," said the witness. "I had never been in Lowell before in my life, having worked in Boston and Portland, Me."

His Honor opined that the assault might have been a more serious one and imposed a fine of $20.

Drunk on Cider
As a result of complaints made to the local police about young men getting drunk on cider purchased in a variety store conducted by one Max Hinder of 43 Columbia street, inspectors of the city were sent out to investigate and they secured a small bottle of the cider, which when analyzed at the state house in Boston contained over seven per cent alcohol. As a result the store proprietor was brought into court charged with unlawfully keeping liquor with intent to sell and he entered a plea of not guilty.

The officers testified that they took the bottle of cider from a can in the defendant's establishment and, believing it to be extra strong, brought it to Boston to be analyzed with the above result. Hon. James E. O'Donnell, appearing for the defendant, asked for Every year in the United States two hundred million dollars worth of property is destroyed by fire. Fifty per cent. of these fires are caused by carelessness. You can do your share to prevent fires by observing the following:

1. Fire alarm boxes are located near your house and place of employment. You should know the location of these boxes. You should know how to ring in a fire alarm. This is the method.
2. In case of a fire go to the box and open the door. On the inside you will find a book. Pull this hook all the way down once and let go. Opening a door rings a bell but does NOT give the alarm.
3. Listen for the working of the machinery in the box. If you do not hear it pull the hook again. If there is no sound go to the next nearest box. Repeat the same thing there.
4. Do not touch any other box if you hear the machinery in the first one moving.
5. After giving the alarm remain at the box to direct the firemen to the fire.
6. If you do not understand these directions go to the nearest fire station. The officer in charge will instruct you.

CAUTIONS

Never open the box or touch the hook except in case of fire. Never give an alarm for a fire seen at a distance. Be reasonably sure that there is a fire before giving an alarm.

Be just as cautious when buying your AUTO SUPPLIES as you are of the nearest fire alarm box.

FIRE PREVENTION RULES

1. Be careful in the use of matches. Use only safety matches. Always keep them in metal holders. Don't light them in closets where light dresses or materials are hung. Don't light them near lace curtains. Be careful in lighting swinging gas jets or lamps near curtains.
2. Never use kerosene in starting a fire.
3. Keep all light material, such as cotton, muslin, lace, etc., away from stoves and lighted lamps or gas jets.
4. Never look for a gas leak with a lighted match, candle or lamp. Notify the gas company.
5. Never put hot ashes, oily rags or inflammable waste in wooden boxes or barrels. A metal receptacle should be used.
6. Never allow rubbish, shavings, papers, etc., to accumulate in cellars, on roofs, stairways, halls, fire escapes, etc. If your neighbor allows it, notify the Police or Fire Department.
7. Never use gasoline for cleaning purposes in a closed room. The fumes that gasoline gives off when confined, will take fire from a lighted match, lamp or gas.
8. If a person's clothing catches fire he should immediately lie down and endeavor to smother the fire by rolling in a blanket, rug or any other like thing.
9. In case of fire in an automobile use sand to extinguish it.
10. Learn to use a fire extinguisher. Fire extinguisher heads should be removed and the contents stirred once each year.
11. Learn the use of standpipes and hose.
12. Learn where the exits and fire escapes are in the building in which you live or are employed.
13. Don't throw water pipes with anything aflame. Use hot water only.
14. When a fire starts in a building don't open the doors and windows. Let the Fire Department do that when they arrive.

Refused to Grant Any Concession to Teamsters—Must Return Tomorrow or be Discharged

The coal dealers have refused to make any concessions whatever to the striking coal teamsters and helpers. The teamsters made one proposition after another and all were refused. They must return to work tomorrow morning if they would work at all. This was the ultimatum issued by the coal dealers yesterday afternoon after a conference with the strikers in the public reception room at city hall.

The dealers voted unanimously not to make a single concession until the coal year, so-called, starts in April of 1915 and at that time, it was said, some of the demands would be considered.

The teamsters, through their committee, consisting of William Fennell, president; Patrick McGarrah, secretary; John McCaffery, appeared before the dealers and submitted their final proposition. They agreed to waive the demand for a nine-hour day, and for a dollar a week additional to their helpers, but asked that they have either Thursday or Saturday afternoon off during the remainder of July and for August, without loss of pay.

The teamsters felt sure that the dealers would accept the proposition, but the dealers, after ten minutes' deliberation, flatly refused to make any concession whatever until the coal year begins in April next.

The strikers were told by E. A. Wilson, spokesman for the dealers, that they might complete the three weeks' lock by showing up tomorrow morning, and that if they didn't show up the dealers would consider that they did not want to work, and would fill their places as fast as possible.

The three men of the union indicated that they favored a continuance of the strike. "We will wait until next fourth of July to have this thing settled," said one of them as he hustled downstairs from the reception hall.

Today the situation is unchanged and there is considerable anxiety as to what will happen tomorrow.

Conference to Smooth Out Difficulties Over Pending Conservation Legislation

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Conservationists in congress looked with interest today to the conference which had been arranged to be held at the White House tonight when efforts are to be made to smooth out difficulties over pending conservation legislation.

President Wilson, members of the cabinet and members of the house planned to consider the pending Adamsson general dam bill.

The bill is designed to promote navigation on what are now in the aggregate thousands of miles of short streams with possibilities of power development attractive to private capital but practically prohibitive to the government if undertaken to promote navigation only.

The plan is to grant permits for 50 year periods, for private construction of dams and locks so as to provide heads of water for generation of power and hydro electricity for power purposes for communities needing light, fuel, power for manufacturing and other purposes.

Under the provision of the permits for building dams the war department after 50 years may terminate all rights by giving the owner one year's written notice and by taking over the property for the United States and the 50-year term would continue until compensated to the owner for the value of his property.

Representative Ferris and other opponents of the bill in its present shape with whom Secretary Lane is understood to be aligned say the bill might leave a loophole for grants of perpetual rights to private capital. They say that section 7 of the bill apparently repeals the existing laws under which the great irrigation works have been built up and they further urge that the jurisdiction of the war and interior departments should be clearly defined. The framers of the bill deny that it is susceptible of any such construction.

Parisians Celebrate—20 Aeroplanes Fly in Perfect Alignment

PARIS, July 14.—Half a million Parisians celebrating the fall of the Bastille were thrilled today at the opening by the president of the republic's annual review of the Paris garrison when 20 military aeroplanes rose at the far end of the Longchamps course and in perfect alignment of four wished at full speed past the presidential stand.

A mighty roar of enthusiastic cheering swept over the ground, and this was kept up as the 30,000 troops, comprising cavalry, artillery, infantry and other branches marched in close order before the reviewing stand.

Another minute of excitement was provided at the close of the review by a charge of 2000 cuirassiers in bright steel breastplates and brass helmets and waving their swords, who galloped at full speed in a single line to within 300 paces of the president.

Brilliant weather had brought out a large number of distinguished guests. The troops of all the garrisons in France also paraded and the military authorities calculated that over four hundred army aeroplanes were on the wing at one time in various parts of the country.

A. Gilbert Sargent of Medford, Caught After Years' Hunt and Held on Bond Theft Charge

BOSTON, July 14.—Gone from his home nearly two months, reported to the Medford police as missing and mourned as dead by his wife and daughter, A. Gilbert Sargent, aged 38, for the past 16 years a resident of Medford, has been under arrest in Philadelphia since June 24, according to the Boston police.

The police say that Sargent, who is well known also in Boston, has been wanted here for the past 12 years. They charge that in 1902 he obtained bonds worth $15,510.42 from N. W. Harris, now of 35 Federal street, by means of a falsely certified check.

There are two other similar larcenies charged against him in this city. He was arrested in Philadelphia on a like charge.

Appeared Daily on Streets

The story of how this man came to business daily in this city and appeared on the streets for 12 years while detectives were searching for him is one of the strangest which has come to light in the annals of the Boston department.

In each case when the alleged larcenies were discovered the detective force was furnished with a description of the man who obtained the bonds. Traps were watched, especially trains for New York. Meanwhile the culprit, according to the police, walked leisurely to the North Station and took a train home.

The offenses with which the Boston police charge Sargent, besides the one mentioned above, are larceny of $15,510.42 worth of bonds from G. H. Gay of 33 State street in 1903; larceny of $30,087.15 in bonds in 1908 from a concern whose name the police have not yet given out; and larceny in August of last year of bonds worth $8524.23 from Lee, Higginson & Co. of State street.

Represented Himself as Trustee

Sargent, under the name William H. Nash, was arrested in Philadelphia June 24, charged with the larceny of bonds worth $15,000 from Barclay, Morrison & Co. of 123 South Broad street, by means of a falsely certified check drawn on the Franklin Trust company of Philadelphia.

It was the day previous, June 23, that

"Nash," who had hired a room in one of the largest office buildings in Philadelphia, presented a certified check at the office of the brokerage concern. He selected bonds with great care, left the check, took the bonds and walked out. He had represented himself to be trustee for an estate.

When the check was presented at the bank it was discovered, it is charged, that the certification was false, the paying teller's name having been forged. The police at once arrested "Nash."

Meanwhile A. Gilbert Sargent of Medford had disappeared. He was accustomed to take his way occasionally and would be gone several weeks. But when he had been gone for a long time his usual time Mrs. Sargent notified the Medford police that he was missing.

Finally the Philadelphia police sent a picture of "Nash" to the Boston police. A man connected with Lee, Higginson & Co. identified this picture as that of the man who in August last passed a falsely certified check and walked out with nearly $9000 worth of gilt edge bonds.

Identified by Boston Harker

The Boston police found that the picture of "Nash" fitted Sargent. A representative of Lee, Higginson & Co. was taken to Philadelphia and identified "Nash" as the man who had passed the false check.

In all the cases referred to the procedure of the culprit was the same. He selected the bonds with extraordinary care. Clerks described him as "fussy." He would sit down and talked well. He was well dressed and his victims seemed to remember that he walked very fast, despite the fact that he was short and stout, weighing 170 pounds, although not much over five feet tall.

In each city the man hired an office a few days before committing the larceny, always in a large and pretentious office building, and insisted that the janitor put his name and the fact that he was trustee on the door in big letters at once. After the larceny had been committed he would disappear.

The total of his larcenies in Boston alone during the past 12 years, according to the police, amounts to $12,417.15.

His wife and family lived in style in Medford and the family always seemed to have plenty of money. An indictment warrant has been sent to Philadelphia, and when the Philadelphia police get through with him he will be brought here.

CUSHING FOR LIEUT. GOVERNOR

BOSTON, July 14.—Nomination papers to be circulated for Joseph Walker of Brookline as the progressive candidate for governor were asked of the secretary of state yesterday by Nelson Clark of Beverly, a member of the state committee of that party. Mr. Walker has made no announcement of his candidacy. Announcement that he was a candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant-governor was made last night by Grafton D. Cushing, speaker of the house of representatives for the past three years.

TO HELP SALEM UNEMPLOYED

WASHINGTON, July 14.—In response to appeals on behalf of thousands of men and women thrown out of work by the fire at Salem, Mass., Secretary Wilson yesterday telegraphed textile and boot and shoe manufacturers of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia and Maryland asking whether they can give employment to any of these people.

A GANG OF KIDNAPPERS

Stole 150 Children to be Held for Ransom—Have Been at it for Ten Years

NEW YORK, July 14.—Investigation by the grand jury of the operations of a band of kidnapers and blackmailers that has been stealing children for ten years, will begin today under the guidance of Assistant District Attorney Weller.

Mr. Weller says that in the past ten years 150 children have been stolen in New York and held for ransom varying from $500 to $1500, according to the resources of the parents.

It is believed that there will be many indictments. There are ten defendants in one case that will be submitted to the grand jury. These men were held in heavy bail yesterday by Magistrate McQuade in Jefferson market court. They are accused of kidnapping Frank Longo, eight-year-old son of Francesco Longo, baker, at 130 Bleeker street.

Two of the defendants in the case are held for participation in the stealing of Frank di Flori, eight-year-old son of a Harlem grocer. The child was stolen in the summer of 1912, and held until his parents paid $600.

Mr. Weller's study of the court records shows that in the past ten years only thirty-one kidnapers have been prosecuted. Nine of these were convicted. Three were found guilty in general sessions two weeks ago. One of the three, a woman, was sentenced to prison for twelve years. Her husband got a sentence of thirty years.

The kidnapers stole Giuseppe Guarnina. When their demand for $1500 was refused they threatened to kill the child and return him by parcel post. Then they sent a lock of the boy's hair. Finally the child was returned on the payment of marked money. The kidnapers accepted $125. Five members of the gang were captured, but two made a statement that they were innocent co-workers. Their cases are still pending.

Mr. Weller believes that in the grand jury investigation he will be able to explain some of the mysteries of this form of blackmail. He has learned that there is an organized band of kidnapers and that the earnings of each crime are divided in a businesslike way. There are usually six active participants in each kidnapping. The "main guy," or chief platter, gets one-half of the proceeds. The man and woman hired to harbor the child while waiting for the reward get one-tenth and others get shares according to the risk of the parts they play.

The father of the child rarely sees the real kidnapers unless the police make an arrest.

Twenty witnesses have been subpoenaed for today's session of the grand jury. The Longo case will be disposed of first and the grand jury for a wider inquiry will be held. Nine of the defendants in the Longo case are held in $15,000 bail each and one in $25,000.

An Unfailing Way to Banish Hairs

(Beauty Notes)

Ugly hairy growths can be removed in the privacy of your own home if you get a small original package of delatone and mix into a paste enough of the powder and water to cover the hairy surface. This should be left on the skin about 2 minutes, then removed and the skin washed and every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm or inconvenience can result from this treatment, but be sure you buy real delatone.

A REFUTATION

In connection with an article on street paving which appeared in the edition of a local Sunday paper dated July 12, 1914, a certain case of a paragraph of said story contained a reference to the great trouble which "Ted" Tuttle, the provision dealer, was put to through the holding up and delay in the finishing of the paving of Davis square, he being forced, according to the story, to cart his produce from the other side of the broad square. This statement, the origination of which I cannot account for, owing to the fact that neither myself nor my employees were approached for any information about the added expense and trouble which the paving of the street in front of my establishment had thrust upon us, places me in a defensive position.

Having no intention of doing anyone a wrong, I wish to disclaim whatever authority for the statement, which the general public may attribute to me.

From the day that the men in the city's employ started working in Davis square all produce coming into or leaving my store has been delivered to within five yards of the door of my market, via Thorndike street.

But forgetting for the moment the "carting of produce" portion of the item, I wish to say that on July 21, 1913, I PURCHASED THE PROVISION BUSINESS WHICH UP TO THAT TIME HAD BEEN CONDUCTED BY FRED TUTTLE, and I HAVE FROM THAT DAY BEEN THE SOLE OWNER OF THE BUSINESS.

C. I. COLLAMORE IS DEAD BEER GOES INTO SEWER TO REBUILD THE BRIDGE

OLDEST FIST MASTER OF MAINE MASONIC GRAND LODGE—WAS PHONE AND TELEGRAPH MGR.

BANGOR, Me., July 14.—Chas. I. Collamore, for nearly 40 years identified with local telegraph and telephone management and a past masonic grand master, died at his home here yesterday in his 79th year.

He was born in Bangor. In 1855 he entered the employ of the Maine Telegraph Co., one of the pioneers of the state, using the tape recorder before the days of sound receiving. In 1857 he went to the American Telegraph Co. in 1866 to the Western Union and 14 years later to the Mutual Union. With the first introduction of telephones here in 1883, he was employed as manager and remained in that position until the Western Union Telephone & Telegraph Co., when it took over the old company. He was local and district superintendent until 1908, when he was relieved and made district cashier, which office he held until he was retiring on a pension last February.

He was much interested in Masonry, taking 22 degrees, was a past officer of nearly all the local Masonic bodies and was the oldest past master of the Maine Grand Lodge of Masons and prelate of St. John's commandery, Knights Templars. He was also secretary of Bangor council, Royal Arcanum.

He is survived by his wife, Henrietta Miller Collamore, their first wedding anniversary being observed July 5, also a son, Charles E. Collamore.

The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon with Masonic honors.

BANGOR DEPUTIES DESTROY $2000 IN LIQUORS—ALCOHOL TO BE EXTRACTED FROM MIXTURE

BANGOR, Me., July 14.—Sheriff O'Connell's deputies destroyed about $2000 worth of seized liquors here yesterday, including about $600 worth of beer and ale in barrels and bottles which were dumped into the sewer. Eight barrels were filled with a mixture of whiskey, gin, rum, wine and brandy of all grades from which the alcohol will be extracted for the credit of the county.

PEASANT KILLED SEVEN

ITALIAN DORS WHOLESALE MURDER AND MAKES ESCAPE TO MOUNTAINS

BERGAMO, Italy, July 14.—A peasant of the village of Gansera, Cornelio, Simone Planetta by name, yesterday killed seven persons, presumably to satisfy old hatreds, and then took refuge in the mountains, where carabinieri are hunting him.

Planetta appeared in the neighborhood of San Giovanni Bianco armed with a gun. Coming upon the village physician, Dr. Morali, he shot him dead.

He proceeded to the house of the parish priest, Fr. Palati, burst into a room where the priest was sitting at the bedside of San Giovanni Bianco, and killed him before the eyes of the sick woman, who is dying from the shock.

Planetta's next victim was Signor Giudice, the secretary of the local authorities and he also shot to death Giudice's daughter, Valeria.

On leaving Giudice's house, Planetta proceeded toward the open country and on his way killed two men who were walking along the highway. He killed his last victim by shooting a laborer who was digging in a field.

FOR MURDER OF HUSBAND

BESSIE J. WAKEFIELD PLACED ON TRIAL FOR THE SECOND TIME

NEW HAVEN, July 14.—Bessie J. Wakefield was placed on trial for a second time today under an indictment for murder in the first degree in questioning the death of her husband, William O. Wakefield at Cheshire on June 23, 1903. At the first trial the woman was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged. Upon an appeal the execution was stayed and a new trial was granted on an error. James Plew, who actually killed Wakefield, was convicted of murder in a separate trial and hanged. The state alleged in the first trial of Mrs. Wakefield that the woman was the master mind in the plot to kill Wakefield. She obtained a trial chiefly upon the contention that evidence was admitted which had to do with Plew's acts.

FUNDS TO MOVE CROPS

THOUSANDS OF NATIONAL BANKS REPLY TO SECRETARY McADOO'S LETTER

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Thousands of national banks have already replied to Secretary McAdoo's letter asking the opinion of bankers throughout the country as to the advisability of lending government funds to banks to move crops.

Many bankers urged the lending of government funds just as was done last year when about $27,000,000 was loaned to banks by the treasury department.

It now seems unlikely that the federal reserve board would be organized immediately and Secretary McAdoo will not have its advice in arranging for crop movement money.

It is now generally believed that Milton C. Elliott, secretary to the organization committee, will be retained by the board as legal adviser. Mr. Elliott has been mentioned as successor to Charles S. Hamlin, an assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of fiscal affairs, but his intimate knowledge of the organization of the board is so necessary to its work that he should continue his association with the new organization.

THAW CLIMBS MOUNTAIN

FIRST OF PARTY TO REACH TOP OF MT. WASHINGTON AND LURES THE TRIP

BERLIN, N. H., July 14.—A party made up of Harry K. Thaw, C. B. Alcott, E. B. Bickford and E. B. Bickford made the trip up Mt. Washington and over the northern peaks of the Presidential range Sunday and yesterday. The party started from Mount Madison house, Gorham, N. H., at 10:15 Sunday morning and went by automobile to Crystal Cascades, 11 miles into the heart of the mountains.

They took the Crystal Cascade trail up the side of Washington, one of the most difficult ascents. Mr. Thaw was the first to arrive on top of Mt. Washington. The party arrived in Gorham about 4 p. m.

Thaw, delighted with the trip, gave an enthusiastic account of the journey. He stood the trip wonderfully.

MAYOR TO GIVE MISS FISHER AND MISS CUTTER AUTHORITY TO ENTER ALL AMUSEMENT PLACES

MARLBORO, July 14.—Miss Elizabeth Fisher, who with Miss Mary E. Cutter was appointed a police officer by Mayor O'Halloran a week ago, qualified last night and was sworn as a member of the police department by Chief Clerk Peter B. Murphy. Miss Cutter was sworn in last Saturday.

Mayor O'Halloran said last night that he will give them authority to enter all theatres and other places of amusement in the city and he warned that anybody who refused them admittance would have the license revoked.

MILEAGE CONTROVERSY

SENATE INSISTS ON RETAINING PRESENT ALLOWANCE OF 20 CENTS FOR CONGRESSMEN

WASHINGTON, July 14.—With the senate insisting upon retaining the present allowance of 20 cents mileage for congressmen the house was confronted today with a report of disagreement from its conferees on the executive legislative and judicial appropriation bill. The house conferees had been instructed to insist upon the house provision for five cents a mile. Twenty cent mileage had been in vogue in congress since the early days of the government.

The senators told the house conferees that they never would agree to the proposition to reduce the twenty cent allowance and it was on this fixed determination on the part of the senate which the senate yesterday ratified by a large majority that the house conferees were ready today to present their report of continued disagreement and to ask further instructions from the house.

The big appropriations for general purposes carried in the bill have been held up pending the settlement of the mileage controversy.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Nabassett grove has been selected by the officers of industry council, No. 1722, Royal Arcanum, as the spot for the annual picnic of the council which will be held in the near future. The council has a meeting last night and discussed several matters of importance which will be presented at the regular meeting of the council next Wednesday evening. Remarks were made by James Dunn, Thomas H. Wilson and Peter Farrington.

Division S. A. N. H.

The regular meeting of Division S. A. N. H. attracted a large number of members of A. O. H. last evening. Two candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order and two applications for membership were received. It was reported that the recent anniversary banquet was a great success and the committee submitted its final report. The following members were elected to represent Division S. at the state convention to be held in Worcester: D. P. Reilly, Thomas Dorsey, Michael Ryne and Hugh McGowan.

Officers

Lowell herd, No. 10, Benevolent Order of Hibernians, will hold its annual picnic on July 25 and a committee is now at work making arrangements for the affair. At this week's meeting considerable important business was transacted.

Lowell put on quite a metropolitan air on Sunday when the superior officers of the police department appeared on the streets in their New York regulation caps. It's a step in the right direction for with the great number of strangers from all parts of the country constantly passing through our city everything that adds to the appearance of our police force reflects credit upon the city and adds to our reputation as a wide-awake, up-to-date community. The caps are made of white leather with gold cord and gold braid, designating the rank of the officer. They were furnished the department by the Talbot Clothing Co., who make a specialty of uniforms of all descriptions and have an expert in charge of this class of work.

POSITIVE SALE AT PUBLIC AUCTION OF A TWO AND ONE-HALF STORY HOUSE AND BARN AND ABOUT 4770 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT NO. 16 CARTER AVENUE, FORMERLY CALLED CARTER PLACE, OFF GORHAM STREET
NEXT SATURDAY, JULY 18th, 1914
AT 2:30 O'CLOCK P. M.

On the premises regardless of any condition of the weather I will sell at absolute auction sale this two and one-half story house and barn together with about 4770 square feet of land.
The house contains nine large rooms besides bath, pantry, set tubs, hot and cold water, steam heat, and hardwood floors in part, and is in very good condition both inside and out. The stable is of good size and is also in good repair. The lot has a frontage on the street of about 52 feet and a total area of 4770 feet. The location is a very good one, as the property is situated just off the main thoroughfare (Gorham street), yet within one minute's walk. The Boston line of electric through Billerica is also within one minute's walk of the premises.
Now here is an exceptional opportunity for anyone to purchase a thoroughly modern home in a first-class neighborhood, within easy walking distance of Lowell's largest manufacturing plant; also it is close to the centre of the city. It is seldom that one has an opportunity to buy a property of this description at a public sale.
If you are looking for a home and wish to be in a first-class locality where it is handy to stores, churches and public schools, be sure to attend this sale, as the same will be absolute.
Terms: $200 must be paid to the auctioneer just as soon as the property is struck off.
By order of the Middlesex Co-operative Bank, Mortgagee.
By WILLIAM D. BROWN, Treasurer.

By WILLIAM D. BROWN, Treasurer.

On the premises regardless of any condition of the weather I will sell at absolute auction sale this two and one-half story house and barn together with about 4770 square feet of land.
The house contains nine large rooms besides bath, pantry, set tubs, hot and cold water, steam heat, and hardwood floors in part, and is in very good condition both inside and out. The stable is of good size and is also in good repair. The lot has a frontage on the street of about 52 feet and a total area of 4770 feet. The location is a very good one, as the property is situated just off the main thoroughfare (Gorham street), yet within one minute's walk. The Boston line of electric through Billerica is also within one minute's walk of the premises.
Now here is an exceptional opportunity for anyone to purchase a thoroughly modern home in a first-class neighborhood, within easy walking distance of Lowell's largest manufacturing plant; also it is close to the centre of the city. It is seldom that one has an opportunity to buy a property of this description at a public sale.
If you are looking for a home and wish to be in a first-class locality where it is handy to stores, churches and public schools, be sure to attend this sale, as the same will be absolute.
Terms: $200 must be paid to the auctioneer just as soon as the property is struck off.
By order of the Middlesex Co-operative Bank, Mortgagee.

of Lenox street, leave Monday for Dickson, Me., where they will be the guests of relatives and friends.
Miss Rosa Bennett, a popular resident of Collinsville, returned Sunday evening from an extended visit to Ogunquit, Me.
Mrs. James Gookin and family of Rogers street will spend the remainder of July at Nantasket and will be joined later by Mrs. Fred Tompkins and daughter Helen.
Cyrus B. Emerson and Miss Rachel Mitchell, both of Waltham, were married in this city, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Smith Baker at his home.
Octavo Dubé of Isle-Verte, Que., and Paul Morin and his son, Lazare of Lewiston, Me., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lachance of Moody street, Pawtucketville.
Miss Mabel A. Brunell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Brunell of 51-1-2 Branch street, will spend July and August with her aunts, Mrs. Robert Gray and Mrs. John Whitaker of Holyoke.
John P. Saunders, the Gorham street merchant, will spend the next three days with his family at Old Orchard, Me., where they are delighted for the summer.
Mrs. Robert Hart of Rogers street left today for Providence, R. I., where she will join her husband. Mr. Hart is the well known ex-hall player, now an umpire in the American association.
Mrs. Edith L. Paige, clerk at the Waverly hotel, and Miss Marjorie Nutting, manager of the Boston Wholesale millinery, will spend the next two weeks at Long Island, Me. They are registered at the Dirigo house.
Clarence Moores Weed, recently elected a park commissioner by the municipal council, has not qualified for office. Mr. Weed is said to be at his farm in New Hampshire and will qualify for office upon his return to Lowell.
René Richards, the five-year-old lad who sustained a fracture of the skull yesterday afternoon when he fell from a window of his home at 506 Middlesex street, is reported as resting as comfortably as can be expected at St. John's hospital.
Hon. Samuel P. Hadley, formerly judge in the local police court, occupied a chair inside the railing at yesterday morning's session of court and sat through the entire proceedings. Although he has been ill for some time, the former justice appeared to be in good health and greeted his acquaintances as in the days of yore.
Six husky police officers were dispatched to the Lowell Textile school about 10 o'clock last evening as a result of a report from the night watchman, stating that he saw a flash-light in one of the buildings after hearing noises which he believed were caused by intruders. The policemen made a thorough search of the property, but failed to find any thief or adventurer and they then returned to their quarters.
Lowell put on quite a metropolitan air on Sunday when the superior officers of the police department appeared on the streets in their New York regulation caps. It's a step in the right direction for with the great number of strangers from all parts of the country constantly passing through our city everything that adds to the appearance of our police force reflects credit upon the city and adds to our reputation as a wide-awake, up-to-date community. The caps are made of white leather with gold cord and gold braid, designating the rank of the officer. They were furnished the department by the Talbot Clothing Co., who make a specialty of uniforms of all descriptions and have an expert in charge of this class of work.
A delegation of Lowell young women have returned from a week spent at "Lowell lodge" at East Northfield, where they attended the meetings of the Young Women's conference. The lodge is in charge of Miss Margaret McKay. Among those who attended from Lowell were Misses Emily Skilton, Gertrude Roper, Carrie Benson, Bernice Staples, Josephine Davis, Jennie Monarzynski, Flossie Hayward, Emma Bowen, Carrie Stewart, Gertrude Earle, Mildred McGregor, Pauline Carver, Esther McFadyen, Ruth McFadyen, Blanche Bennett, May Carleton, Harriett Black, Marjorie Arnold, Ruth Leinhard, Marian Farley, Ruth Clements, Leah Rich, Daisy MacBryne, Eleanor Downs, Whitford Taylor, Harriet Boutelle and Mrs. Aaro Downs.
